ROLL OF HONOUR.

IN MEMORIAM.

COOPER—In loving memory of Private Alfred Madison Cooper, 9th Inniskilling Fusiliers, who died of wounds received in the charge of the Ulster Division at Thiepval on 1st July, 1916. Inserted by his sorrowing parents, brothers, and sister.

On fame's eternal camping ground
Their silent tents are spread,
And glory guards with honour round
The bivouac of the gallant dead.

Let those who come after see to it that their names be not forgotten.

GUINNESS—In loving memory of Wyndham Malan Grattan Guinness, M.D., eldest son of the late Rev. Wyndham Guinness, former Rector of Rathdrum, who died on July 4th, 1920, at Nairobi, B.E. Africa. He had served with the R.A.M.C. for three years during the war. New Zealand papers please copy.

VICTORIA JUBILEE MASONIC ANNUITY FUND.—The stated quarterly meeting of the Governors of the Victoria Jubilee Masonic Annuity Fund will be held in the Freemasons' Hall, Molesworth street, to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock, when the report of the scrutineers of the ballot for the election of six annuitants will be read, and the names of the successful candidates will be declared.

SOLDIER ACCIDENTALLY WOUNDED.—Private Ganly, of the King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry, was wounded on Saturday on board the L. and N.-W. Railway Company's express steamer, Menevia, due to the accidental discharge of a rifle. On the arrival of the Menevia at the North Wall a military ambulance brought the wounded man to King George V. Hospital.

ALLEGED ASSAULTS.—In the South Dublin Police Court on Saturday, Thomas Lynch, described as a commission agent, was charged with wounding his wife, with intent to murder her, and, further, with assaulting John O'Neill and Mary Ellen Carolan. According to the evidence, the prisoner struck his wife on the cheek with a sharp instrument, believed to be a razor, inflicting a wound, which rendered it necessary for her to go to the Meath Hospital for treatment; also that he inflicted wounds with a razor on O'Neill's head and breast, and that he knocked Carolan down with a blow of his fist, and inflicted a wound on her forehead. Mr. Scott, solicitor, who defended, stated that the prisoner was in drink when the assaults were alleged to have been committed, and that he had received great provocation. Sir Ernest Swifte returned the prisoner for trial.

A Paris telegram, dated Saturday, says:—The newspapers state that an agreement was effected yesterday between the German and French Reparations experts with regard to the price to be paid for the raw materials offered by Germany. The French delegates further obtained the acceptance of their proposal that payment for German deliveries in kind should be distributed over a period of five years.

WOOD-CUTTER FATALLY INJURED.—A young man named Blake (21) was killed in a wood near Clonmel late on Friday night. He was assisting in sawing a tree, which fell on him and inflicted fatal injuries.

CRICKET.

THE THIRD TEST MATCH.
ACCIDENT TO ENGLAND'S CAPTAIN.
COLONIALS' PROMISING START.

The Australians made an excellent start at Leeds on Saturday towards winning the Test rubber. Armstrong won the toss, and his team kept possession of the wicket until half-past five in the afternoon, a batting period of five hours. England then had to bat in fading light without Hobbs, and Woolley, going in first, and therefore out of his regular position, and Hearne were dismissed in the last half hour. England finished the day 385 behind with eight wickets to fall.

The Australian side is the same as won at Lord's, Ryder being the twelfth man. The England selectors decided to leave out Durston, and selected Hallows as their twelfth player. An unfortunate mishap to Tennyson deprived England of their captain's services for the day, and may keep him out of the team for the rest of the match. Fielding the ball from a stroke by Macartney at extra cover point, he split the thumb of his left hand so severely that two stitches had to be inserted before the wound was bandaged. Hallows fielded as his sub. Another misfortune befel the Englishmen later in the day, for illness prevented Hobbs fielding after tea, and compelled him to defer his innings. Durston fielded as his sub.

In the play itself such luck as was going went the Australians way, as some of the incidents to be detailed show. To begin with, England did well to secure the wicket of Bardsley, caught at slip by Woolley off the first ball of Douglas's fourth over with the score at 22. It was a specially smart catch by Woolley, also that got rid of Andrews with the score at 45. Macartney and Pellew then made a stand which turned the game in favour of the Colonials. Macartney made two or three faulty strokes that luckily missed his legt stump, but his general play was as smart and confident as it usually is, and he reached 50 out of 87 in seventy minutes. Pellew, who hit 6 fours, was caught at short leg when his partnership with Macartney had put on 101 in seventy minutes for the third wicket. At the lunch adjournment two hours' play had yielded 155 runs for the loss of 3 wickets, Macartney at the time being 66 and Taylor 9. Both Macartney and Pellew might have been run out with quicker returning by Ducat and White respectively, but up to this point no actual chance of a catch had been missed. Just after lunch both Macartney and Taylor had escapes in one over from White. In the first case Macartney returned a ball to which White got his left hand, though he was unable to hold it. In the next Taylor sent back a return which, though travelling fast and low, went to the bowler's two hands and was dropped. Macartney at the time had made 79 and Taylor 22. With the appearance of the new ball at 200 Douglas and Parkin renewed the bowling, but had such a rough handling that fifty runs were scored in a quarter of an hour. It needed the substitution of Jupp for Douglas to end the hitting, Taylor being caught at forward short leg off the Sussex bowler's first delivery. Taylor hit 8 fours, and in company with Macartney put on 109 for the fourth wicket in an hour and a quarter.

England had a spell of success at this stage, which altered the appearance of the score considerably, though it was a case of flattering only to deceive. Gregory was uneasy to each of the eight balls he received, and had his off stump struck by the eighth, and half the wickets were down for 256. Fifteen runs later Parkin, in one over, ended Macartney's innings, and bowled Hendry, so that seven men were out for 271. Macartney had scored his sixth century of the tour, and his first in Test cricket in England. He made his 115 runs out of 249 in three hours and ten minutes, hitting 13 fours, 2 threes, and 6 twos. Though he gave only one chance, and that a difficult one when 79, his batting was far from being correct, as he was several times beaten by balls that he mis-timed, and that narrowly missed his stumps. At the same time he showed his usual quickness of stroke and enterprise in attacking all the bowling. It was Armstrong that showed that the English bowlers had been flattered, for, playing deliberately at first, he obtained such a command of the bowling in company with Carter that in forty minutes 62 was added for the eighth wicket, while the Australian captain himself accounted for 77 in an hour and a half, hitting a six and 10 fours. The last three wickets attested the strength of the Colonial tail by adding 136. Parkin, though erratic, took most wickets, but Douglas bowled well, as did White. The latter puzzled the batsmen at first, but he appeared to be too easily watched to be really dangerous. The fielding was variable, but an improvement on the previous Tests.

The Australian innings closed at half-past five o'clock, and England went in to bat at eight minutes to six. In Gregory's first over Woolley was bowled off stump without a run scored, and at 13 Hearne received similar treatment from McDonald. Hardinge and Ducat then kept together until twenty-four minutes past six, when, on an appeal for bad light, play ceased for the day. There were 21,000 spectators. Score:—

LANCASHIRE v. GLOUCESTERSHIRE.
R. A. LLOYD PLAYS FOR LANCASHIRE.

Brilliant weather favoured the opening of the second county match of the season at Liverpool between Lancashire and Gloucestershire. Lancashire had five changes from the side which so easily defeated Worcestershire, Lloyd, the noted Irish Rugby International and Liverpool clubman coming in along with Cook, Taylor, and Whewell, for Brown, Bromley, Dean, and Douthwaite. The Western shire, however, started disastrously, the first wicket falling at 11. Smith came in, but after scoring one got in front of a straight one from Cook. Robinson and Jessop took the score to 30, but the latter was never comfortable with either bowler, and, after taking 20 minutes to score 3, gave R. Tyldesley an easy catch. Then Robinson and Rowlands pulled the game round with a splendid partnership. The former, who was not comfortable for the first hour, afterwards played confidently, but he was overshadowed by Rowlands. The partnership was dissolved when the score had reached 190, having put on 180 runs. Williams helped Rowlands to add 52 for the fifth wicket, the latter then falling to Cook. His 113 occupied two hours and three-quarters. The other batsmen gave little trouble, and the innings was all over in four-and-a-half hours. Lancashire had forty minutes' batting and lost Barnes without a run being scored and Watson at 24. Score:—

HAMPSHIRE v. SURREY.

Batting first on a good wicket, Surrey, who are Hampshire's opponents in the second match of the Bournemouth Week, kept the home county in the field for the greater part of the day, scoring 396 in four hours and a quarter. Jeacocke (119) and Sandham (40) gave Surrey an excellent start, putting on 104 in just over an hour. Peach (46) looked set when he put up a ball to Kennedy at mid-on, but, with Hitch (86) and Fender (53) together, the score was rapidly carried to 341. The amateur reached 50 in 35 minutes. The partnership produced 98 in 45 minutes. The poverty of the Hampshire bowling was very marked. Hampshire had an hour's batting, and lost three wickets for 34, but Brutton and Sherwood played out time. Score:—

Surrey	396
Hampshire (for three wickets)	40

ESSEX v. KENT.

Essex, at Leyton, got two Kent wickets for 18, but the bowling, deprived of the sting of Douglas, which means so much, was soon mastered on the perfect pitch. Seymour and A. P. Day put on 143, the professional, who showed a nice discretion in his hitting, taking 9 fours. Day, aided by Foster, added 100 in an hour, the first-named just completing his 100 before being captured in the slips. He scored his century out of 243 in two and half hours by a variety of excellent strokes, nine of which reached the boundary. Foster played a stylish game, getting his 70 at the rate of one a minute by pretty stroke play. He was fifth out at 271. Ashdown was subdued, but Knott soon got his eye in, gathering runs at twice the rate of his partner. Again the bowlers were ineffective, and runs were easy in making, 136 coming before a fine one-handed catch disposed of the amateur, who claimed a 5 and 7 fours as his chief strokes. Ashdown took out his bat for a steady 79, the total reaching 450. Score:—

Kent	450
Essex (no wicket)	4

NOTTS v. SUSSEX.

The primary features of Saturday's cricket at Nottingham was a splendid innings by the Sussex professional, Bowley, who, going in first, was sixth out with 173 out of 294. Up to his first 150 Bowley's batting was absolutely beyond reproach. He should then have been caught at slip by Carr off Barratt. That was Bowley's solitary mistake during a stay of three hours and three-quarters. The captain, H. L. Wilson (51), playing very good cricket, assisted Bowley to score 110 for the first wicket in an hour and forty minutes, and Cox (27) stayed with his professional colleague while 81 were put on for the fifth wicket in rather less than an hour; but the remainder of the Sussex batting was rather undistinguished on the fast wicket and against bowling which, with the exception of Barratt's, seemed lacking in hostility. The Sussex innings lasted four and a quarter hours, and Notts had 45 minutes at the wickets. Score:—

Sussex	329
Notts	55 (no wkt.)

LEICESTERSHIRE v. WARWICKSHIRE.

There was a continuance of the hot weather at Leicester on Saturday, when a successful commencement was made with the match between these neighbouring counties. A number of changes were made on both sides, the home county's most serious loss being the absence of Benskin, who sprained an ankle in the Kent match last Wednesday. Score:—

Leicestershire	263
Warwickshire	24 (1 wkt.)

NOTTINGHAMSHIRE v. WORCESTERSHIRE.

This match at Northampton produced a very keen first day's cricket, for Worcestershire, in reply to 317 of Northants, made 158 for three wickets. Score:—

Northamptonshire	317
Worcestershire (for 3 wickets)	158

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY v. MR. LEVESON-GOWER'S XI.

Cambridge secured an easy victory in this match at Eastbourne on Saturday, being set to get 7 runs to win in their second innings, and obtaining them for the loss of Gibson's wicket. Score:—

REST OF LEINSTER v. DUBLIN UNIVERSITY PAST AND PRESENT.

Thanks principally to a splendid stand by McCausland and Allen in support of the last wicket, Dublin University Past and Present made a very creditable draw with the Rest of Leinster at Rathmines on Saturday. On Friday the Past and Present side had much the worse of matters. They were 50 runs behind on the first innings and lost two wickets for 43 before play ceased. On Saturday, however, the remaining eight wickets gave considerable trouble, and the innings, which was in progress altogether three-and-a-quarter hours, totalled 298. The feature of the venture was the batting of McCausland, who, in partnership with Allen for the last wicket, put on 98 in forty-five minutes, and when the innings closed was 100 not out. Occupying the wickets a few minutes under the hour, McCausland, though giving two chances, gave a masterly display. He scored all round the wicket with delightful freedom, his hits comprising a 6 and eighteen 4's. Earlier in the innings S. D. Lambert, Pigot, and Power were responsible for some good stands. The first-named had seven 4's in a nice contribution of 38 while Pigot (35) and Power (27) also batted well. Guise Browne again carried off the bowling honours, securing six wickets for 87, his "bag" for the match thus being 11 for 125 runs.

Left with 249 to win, the Rest of Leinster, though having two-and-a-half hours to play, never appeared to go for the runs, and when play ceased had scored 201 for six wickets. Bookman, who got 72, batted in very stylish fashion and hit eleven 4's. Lambert in collecting 45 had nine boundaries, while Ganly got 39 in good style. The Trinity fielding was very keen, Allen, who bore the brunt of the attack, taking 4 wickets for 70 runs. Score:—

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE v. PHŒNIX.

Phœnix were undefeated this season when they started this match at Terenure on Saturday, and they had no difficulty in preserving their unbeaten record by defeating the homesters by 85 runs. Batting first, the visitors did not open too well, losing Buttanshaw at 15. The second wicket added 27 runs, however, and the score had reached 86 before the third wicket fell. Half the side, however, were out for 87. Wallis, who left at 86, hit hard for his 34, which included a six and a four. Afterwards Warren, after a lucky escape when only 1, batted well for 20, and Evers gave a good display for 38 not out, hitting five 4's. The innings, however, closed at 161, Murphy, who kept a fine length, being the most successful College bowler with six wickets for 52. The home batsmen gave a disappointing display. Half the side were out for 38, and the innings closed at 76, Buckley (21), Murphy (13), and Walker (24) being the only batsmen to make any show against the bowling of Warren, who had the fine figures of 6 wickets for 40 runs.

R. AND S.P.U. v. CO. KILDARE.

Time saved Railway Union from defeat in their Senior League tie at Park avenue on Saturday, when the County had much the better of the draw. The wicket played exceedingly well, considering the prolonged drought. Kildare, winning the toss, batted first, and the brothers Lyons put on 13, when D. Lyons fell to a catch by O'Neill. G. N. Kelly and W. Lyons took the score to 23, when the latter was caught for 12. The brothers Kelly then made a stand for the third wicket, which fell at 57, G. N. Kelly getting leg before when 15. A. Kelly and Harrington also batted well, and with the total at 183 for 9, the County declared. Hart, 3 for 43; E. Hool, 2 for 54, and Blackwell, 2 for 50, were the most successful of the Railway bowlers. The home side started badly, losing G. Hool without scoring. G. N. Kelly and Harrington sustained the attack to the end, and runs were hard to obtain, but P. Bookman batted well for 21. Two fine catches in the slips by D. Lyons disposed of E. Hool (5) and Walker (12). Six wickets were down for 60, and when stumps were drawn Railway had eight wickets down for 92. G. N. Kelly bowled in fine form, and took 4 wickets for 19, while Harrington's three cost 55. Score:—

ATHLETICS.

THE INTER-CLUB CONTEST.
VICTORY OF DUBLIN UNIVERSITY.

The Inter-Club contest in the College Park on Saturday provided an exciting finish between Dublin University and Clonliffe Harriers, the margin in favour of the 'Varsity being one point—15½ pts. to 14½ pts.—Trinity winning the 100 yards, 220 yards, 440 yards, the high jump and long jump; while Clonliffe filled the places of honour in the half-mile, mile, three miles, hurdles, relay, and shot. The feature of the day was, perhaps, the relay, which was the most interesting event in a programme which yielded a succession of capital contests, and provided a large company with a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon's sport. The relay was either team's race starting the last quarter, with McEachern scarcely a yard ahead of Glasgow, but the former went out along the far side, and finally won rather easily. The sprint, as was to be expected, was won by D. J. Cussen, and he also justified expectations by winning the long jump, his third jump, 20ft. 9½ins., being two inches better than Martin's final effort. The last-named is a promising young athlete, and should ere long improve on his display of Saturday. Cussen, however, failed in the 220 yards, being beaten in his heat by Kavanagh, of Clonliffe, and failing to get placed in the final, which, however, his fellow clubman, Broderick, won after a fine set-to with Stafford. Eyre credited the 'Varsity with the 440 yards, but McEachern was crossed soon after the start; interfered with again not long afterwards, and yet he was beaten by only a yard. The loser, however, ran a fine race in the half-mile, and after seemingly having the mile at his mercy coming into the straight, Slater, of Donore, failed to sustain his effort, and was beaten in a great finish by a foot by Bingham, who subsequently romped home an easy winner in the three miles. Donore finished third with 3 points. Details:—

Half-Mile Flat—N. J. McEachern (Clonliffe), 1; J. S. Glasgow (Dublin University), 2; T. Slater (Donore), 3; A. Wade (Clonliffe), 0; D. Baird (Donore), 0; R. H. McKeag (Dublin University), 0. McKeag was closely attended by Glasgow for half-way, with Slater third. Three hundred yards from home Slater drew out, but was passed opposite the pavilion by McEachern, who came on to win easily by five yards; eight yards. Time—2 mins. 6 secs.

Putting the Shot—M. O'Halloran (Clonliffe), 39ft. 11½in., 1; J. Van Druten (Dublin University), 33ft. 10in., 2; T. Maguire (Clonliffe), 0; I. Stuart (Dublin University), 0.

100 Yards Flat—D. J. Cussen (Dublin University), 1; M. J. Stafford (Donore), 2; M. J. Kavanagh and J. J. Berkery (Clonliffe), 0; T. S. Broderick (Dublin University), 0; S. Hennessy (Castle Villa), 0. Cussen began slowly, and half-way down Stafford was showing in front, but the champion running strongly forged ahead to break the tape a yard and a half to the good; a foot away Broderick was third. Time—10 2-5 secs.

High Jump.—D. A. Quinlan (Dublin University), 5 ft. 5 in., 1; T. Maguire (Clonliffe) and R. H. Owens (Dublin University) tied for second at 5 ft. 1 in.

One Mile.—B. H. Bingham (Clonliffe), 1; T. Slater (Donore), 2; H. C. Walters (Clonliffe), 0; S. Pearson (Donore), 0; J. S. Glasgow (Dublin University), 0; J. Smith and S. Hennessy (Castle Villa), 0. At the bell, Bingham, who had made the running up to then, was followed by Glasgow, with Slater well clear of Walters. Turning into the straight Slater took a good lead of Bingham, and looked all over a winner, but the Clonliffe man spurted grandly, and a great finish between the pair ended in favour of Bingham by about a foot. Time—4 mins. 47 2-5 secs.

220 Yards.—First Heat—M. J. Kavanagh (Clonliffe), 1; D. J. Cussen (Dublin University), 2; P. O'Connor (Castle Villa), 0; T. Goff (Donore), 0. Second Heat—M. J. Stafford (Donore), 1; T. S. Broderick (Dublin University), 2; J. J. Berkery (Clonliffe), 0. Final—Broderick, 1; Stafford, 2; Cussen, 0; Kavanagh, 0. Kavanagh broke down at the start, and Broderick, jumping off in front, was never headed, and won by a yard and a half in 23 2-5 secs.

120 Yards Hurdles.—T. G. Wallis (Clonliffe), 1; D. A. Quinlan (Dublin University), 2; T. Maguire (Clonliffe), 0; J. Cussen (Dublin University), 0; S. Hennessy (Castle Villa), 0. After clearing the first few hurdles Wallis took the lead, and increasing it over every flight, won easily by six yards in 16 1-5 secs.

Long Jump.—D. J. Cussen (Dublin University), 20 ft. 9½ in., 1; H. M. Martin (Dublin University), 20 ft. 7½ in., 2; T. Maguire (Clonliffe), 0; T. Goff and D. Murphy (Donore), 0.

440 Yards.—H. E. Worthington-Eyre (Dublin University), 1; N. J. McEachern (Clonliffe), 2; J. J. Berkery (Clonliffe), 0; J. O'Brien (Donore), 0; R. H. McKeag (Dublin University), 0; P. Anderson (Castle Villa), 0. Berkery made the running for 220 yards, when he gave way to McEachern, the latter being closely attended by Eyre, who challenged him in the straight, took a lead of a yard, and held it to the tape; three yards away, McKeag was third. Time—52 4-5 secs.

Three Miles.—B. H. Bingham (Clonliffe), 1; T. Ryder (Clonliffe), 2; D. Baird (Donore), 0; J. J. Moore (Donore), 0; J. L. Woods (Dublin University), 0; E. Reynolds (Castle Villa), 0; P. Anderson (Castle Villa), 0. Bingham and Ryder made joint running to the bell, when the two Clonliffe men were a long way ahead of Reynolds, and Bingham, drawing right away from his clubmate, won easily by fifteen yards; fifty yards. Time—16 mins. 13 secs.

Relay Race (four quarter miles).—Clonliffe (N. J. McEachern, A. Wade, T. G. Wallis, J. R. Cowle), 1; Dublin University (J. S. Glasgow, H. E. Eyre, R. W. Varian, H. M. Martin), 2; Dublin University B (R. H. McKeag, Vercell, S. Evans, N. Falkiner), 0. McEachern started the final lap a yard ahead of Glasgow, and holding his advantage along the far side, and running a well-judged race, won by five yards. Time—3 mins. 35 2-5 secs.

Dublin University Freshman's 100 Yards.—D. J. Cussen (holder), w.o.

Dublin University Freshman's Half-Mile.—C. M. Anderson w.o.

AMATEUR ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION CHAMPIONSHIPS.

The large attendance at Stamford Bridge on Saturday was a great testimony to the popularity of amateur athletics, and, doubtless, the crowd were more than satisfied with the excellence of the sport. The mile and steeplechase were races which will be long remembered by those present. In the mile Stallard ran a great race, and was more than unfortunate in meeting such a wonderful runner as Hill. The Polytechnic Harriers' attempt at the world's record failed, but new figures were put up for Britain, both Hill and Stallard accomplishing this feat. Hodges was chased home by Montague, the Oxford Blue, and the holder's success was a worthy one, for he was not as fit as he himself would have wished. Edward, as was generally expected, credited himself with both the sprints, but the popular Oxonian, Rudd, failed to retain his titles, Lindsay running splendidly to secure the quarter mile title, while Mountain was the new holder of the half mile. Details:—

Throwing the Hammer.—N. Lindh (Sweden), 161 ft. 11¼ in., 1; M. C. Nokes (Achilles Club), 158 ft. 11 in., 2; J. Jackson (Edinburgh Harriers), 115 ft. 8¼ in.

100 Yards.—Heat 1—H. F. V. Edward (Polytechnic Harriers). Time—10 2-5 secs. Heat 2—F. Mawby (Surrey A.C.), 10 3-5 secs. Heat 3—W. A. Hill (Surrey A.C.), 10 3-5 secs. Heat 4—D. V. Black (Surrey A.C.), 10 2-5 secs. Heat 5—H. M. Abrahams, 10 3-5 secs. Final—Edward, 1; Abrahams, 2; Mawby, 3. Won by half a yard; a foot. Time—10 1-5 secs.

Half Mile.—E. D. Mountain (Achilles A.C.), 1; B. G. D. Rudd (Achilles), 2; S. Hundgren (Sweden), 3. Won by six yards; nine yards. Time—1 min. 56 4-5 secs.

High Jump—B. Howard Baker, 6 ft. 2¼ ins., 1; P. Guilloux (Stade Français), 6 ft. ½ in., 2.

120 Yards Hurdles.—Heat 1—C. A. Christienson walked over. Heat 2—F. W. H. Nicholas (Achilles), 16 secs. Heat 3—H. Bernard (Paris), 16 3-5 secs. Final—Bernard, 1; Christienson, 2; Nicholas, 3. Won by inches; inches. Time—15 4-5 secs.

Two Miles Steeplechase.—P. Hodges (holder) (Surrey A.C.), 1; E. A. Montague (Oxford), 2; B. J. Rippington (Wycombe A.C.), 3. Won a great race by seven yards; 200 yards. Time—10 mins. 57 1-5 secs.

220 Yards.—Final—Edward, 1; Abrahams, 2; Nozieres, 3. Won by a yard; half a foot. Time—22 1-5 secs.

One Mile—A. G. Hill (Polytechnic Harriers), 1; H. B. Stallard (Cambridge University), 2; L. Duqmesne (Rouennais), 3. Won by two and a half yards; 80 yards. Time—4 mins. 13 4-5 secs. A great race, both first and second beat British record. Stallard's time, 4 mins. 14 1-5 secs.

Quarter Mile.—Final—R. A. Lindsay (Blackheath H.), 1; B. G. D. Rudd (Achilles), 2; C. R. Griffiths (Surrey A.C.), 3. Won by a foot; five yds. Time—50 2-5 secs.

Long Jump.—H. C. Taylor (Mercersburg Academy), 22 feet 1 inch, 1; W. Petterson Kalmer (Sweden), 21 feet 11¼ inches, 2; L. St. Clair (Ingram), 21 feet 7½ inches, 3.

Two Miles Walk.—J. F. Evans (Metropolitan Police), 1; C. E. J. Gunn (Rly. Clearing House), 2; E. W. Poynton (Leicester Harriers), 3. Won by 35 yards; 12 yards. Time—14 mins. 40 1-5 secs. Gunn won the Fowler Dixon medal for the best style.

One Mile Relay.—Polytechnic Harriers, 1; Surrey Harriers, 2. Won by six yards. Time—3 mins. 35 3-5 secs.

Pole Jump.—E. Rydberg (Sweden), 12 feet 1 inch, 1; Franquenelle (holder) (Paris), 11 feet 2 inches, 2.

Throwing the Javelin.—H. Lindstrom (Sweden), 205 feet, 1; F. Janson (Sweden), 166 feet 4½ inches, 2; B. Janson (Sweden), 155 feet 6 inches, 3.

Five finals and many preliminary heats were decided at Stamford Bridge on Friday evening, when the powerful Swedish team carried off four titles, and put up a new British record. Sweden's victories were mainly concerned with field events, in which they provided new champions at discus throwing, the hop, step, and jump, the weight-putting, and the 440 yards hurdles. It was in the latter event that the new record was established by C. A. Christiernson, who covered the ten flights of hurdles in 55 2-5 secs., beating the previous best by 2-5 secs. Details:—

440 Yards Hurdle Race.—Heat winners:—C. A. Christiernson (Sweden), 60 2-5 secs.; G. Andre (France), 61 4-5secs.; W. S. Kent Hughes (Achilles Club), 60 1-5 secs. Final—Christiernson, 1; Andre, 2; Hughes, 3. Won by 14 yards. Time—55 2-5 secs.

Throwing the Discus.—O. Zallhagen (Sweden), 134 feet 6¼ inches, 1; C. J. N. Lindh (Sweden), 2; R. Paoli (France), 3.

Hop, Step, and Jump.—F. Janson (Sweden), 46 feet 6½ inches, 1; Howard Baker (Northern Counties), 2; H. J. Odde (unattached), 3.

Putting the Weight.—B. Janson, 46 feet 4 ins., 1; S. Paoli (France), holder, 2; O. Zallhagen (Sweden), 3.

LONDON-DUBLIN TELEPHONE SERVICE.

A meeting of the General Committee of the Dublin Mercantile Association, Ltd., was held at 3 Burgh quay, Dublin, on Thursday last. The President, Mr. F. J. Morton, presided. There were also present—Messrs. Robert S. Swirles, J. C. M. Eason, F. G. Coldwell, J.P.; E. S. Glanvi, C. J. Joyce, John E. Scott, T. R. Scott, William Field, A. H. Seale, Robert W. Strahan, John Wallace, Dr. J. A. Walsh, and D. M'Gregor, Secretary.

A letter to Mr. Field, which had been received from the Postmaster-General, dealing with the resolution adopted at the annual meeting of the Association of Trade Protection Societies was submitted. The letter was as follow:—

General Post Office, London, E.C.1.
June, 1921.

TRUNK TELEPHONE SERVICE BETWEEN LONDON AND IRELAND.

DEAR MR. FIELD,—I have now before me reports on the points raised by the Trades Protection Association in the resolution passed at the annual meeting—recently, to which you drew my attention in your letter of the 15th May. I find that the disturbances suffered by the telephone service between London and Dublin during recent months have not been excessive, but the matter is being kept under notice by the engineers with a view to reduce the trouble due to defects on the circuits. The installation of a device for increasing the quality of transmission on these circuits has been authorised, and when this has been effected the speaking between London and Dublin should be much improved. We are pressing the contractors to deliver the necessary apparatus for this work, and after it is received the engineers will be able to complete the installation in about a fortnight. The transfer of the overland sections of the trunk circuits in question to underground cables is not at present contemplated. The engineers will be fully employed for some considerable time on the completion of underground cables more urgently required in other parts of the country, and the extension of the main underground system to the terminating point of the submarine cable on the Welsh coast would involve a very heavy expense, which, I fear, cannot reasonably be proposed in the present state of the national finances.

Such interruptions of telegraphic communications between Great Britain and Ireland as have occurred during recent months have been due to the breaking of the submarine cables rather than to breakdowns of the overhead land lines. Every effort is made to repair the cables as quickly as possible, and special attention will be given as occasion arises to the replacement of those sections which are the most liable to interruption.—Yours, faithfully,

(Signed) F. KELLAWAY.

William Field, Esq.

The Committee considered this most unsatisfactory, and the whole matter was placed with Mr. Eason for further investigation and report.

Letters of acknowledgment of the Committee's protest against the extra increase of postal charges were received from the Right Hon. Lloyd George, the Chief Secretary for Ireland, the Postmaster-General, Mr. Asquith, and Mr. Clynes.

LADIES' UNDERGROUND LAVATORY, BURGH QUAY.

The Committee directed the Secretary to write and thank the Corporation for the public spirit displayed by them in supplying the city with this public utility.

MISDELIVERY OF LETTERS.

The Secretary submitted two letters from the Controller of the Sorting Department, acknowledging the receipt of complaints made by the Association, and stating that suitable notice has been taken of the irregularity. He reported that the service was slowly improving.

JERUSALEM TO BAGDAD.

NEW AIR AND LAND ROUTE.

The Morning Post Cairo Correspondent says:—The Royal Air Force has succeeded in forcing a practicable route through the Syrian and Arabian deserts from Amman, 45 miles east of Jerusalem, to Bagdad. The achievement is the more important because the route is not merely an airway but a carefully mapped out chain of desert stages which enable ground transport to make the journey approximately direct, instead of by the 1,200 miles detour hitherto necessary. The new route is to be provided with refuelling and revictualling accommodation.

The discovery enhances the importance of Egypt in relation to the Middle East and the Far East, quick travel between Egypt and India being possible, and a week-end return journey from Cairo to Bagdad quite feasible. The authorities estimate that it will be possible to breakfast in Cairo, lunch in Jerusalem, and dinner in Bagdad by the new route, which is known as the Amman-Ramadi route.

With the co-operation of the Emir Abdullah the R.A.F. established its advanced base at Amman, and left at the beginning of June Wing Commander P. Fellowes commanded the expedition, which was equipped with aeroplanes, armoured cars, and specially prepared desert tenders fitted with wireless. The Egyptian Government lent Dr. Ball, an expert desert surveyor, while the Palestine Administration delegated Captain Peake, who was later replaced by Captain Kirkbride, as political officer. When the expedition was 160 miles east of Jerusalem precipitous wadis and huge stretches of lava beds strewn with giant boulders held it up. Aircraft, however, found a passage, and a way was eventually forced. A desert party from Bagdad under Major Holt had been working towards the Fellowes party, and they met on June 20, and entered Bagdad on June 28. After a few days' rest the party planned to return by the same route, marking the track more comprehensively.

SHACKLETON RECITER.

Sir Ernest Shackleton, who is going South again, gave no promise during his schooldays at Dulwich of attaining any sort of distinction, says the Westminster Gazette. His old form master once described the future explorer of frozen regions as "rather delicate," and never serious in his application to books. He left the college when he had reached only the Upper Third form, and went to sea, at the age of seventeen. Some years ago I met an officer who had sailed with him before the took to exploring, and who confessed that the only thing he couldn't understand about Shackleton was his craze for poetry! And he told me of watches, during three successive nights, in which Shackleton did little else but recite verses. Shortly afterwards I met Sir Ernest, and told him this tory. "Yes," he said, "I remember. We were having a rough time in the Bay of Biscay, but reciting poetry didn't interfere with my duties. I thought I had found a kindred soul, but when I started again on the fourth night I was horrified to hear the officer exclaim: 'For the Lord's sake! Haven't you dried up yet? I have stood you for three nights, and I hoped you had finished!'" That was a little touch which the other man omitted.

WAGES IN THE RETAIL BESPOKE TAILORING TRADE.

The Retail Bespoke Tailoring Trade Board (Ireland) met in Dublin on the 30th ult., and decided to vary and fix, as from August 2nd next, subject to confirmation by the Minister of Labour, the minimum rates of wages for male and female workers contained in their proposal notices, dated 14th March, 1921. The general minimum time-rates range, per week of 48 hours, in the case of apprentices, from 10/- to 35/-, according to years of apprenticeship, and from 12/- to 43/- for learners, and from 12/- to 56/- for adult workers, according to age. For female workers, of 19 years of age and over, with not less than four years' experience in the trade, employed as button-holers, finishers or machinists, the general minimum time-rate is 10½d. per hour, and the piece-work basis time-rate 11½d. per hour in urban areas, the corresponding rates for rural areas being 10d. and 11d. per hour, respectively. The Trade Board also decided to issue a notice of proposal, subject to the consent of the Minister of Labour, to vary the minimum rates fixed for male apprentices and male learners. Notices setting out full particulars of the rates as varied and fixed, and of the proposed variations, will be issued to all employers in the trade if, and when, confirmed by the Minister of Labour.

PHŒNIX PARK MEETING—SATURDAY.

A SUCCESSFUL REUNION.
IRISH BREEDERS' PRODUCE STAKES.
VICTORY OF ATHENE.

A capital afternoon's sport rewarded the big company that assembled at the beautifully appointed Phœnix Park enclosure on Saturday, and the proceedings were carried out under the most pleasant weather conditions. The valuable Irish Breeders' Produce Stakes, naturally, proved a strong attraction, and it was only appropriate that the chief item on the card should provide what was, perhaps, the most exciting of the several close finishes which were witnessed in the course of the afternoon. The hard state of the ground notwithstanding, fields, with a solitary exception, panned out satisfactorily, and though more than one hot favourite failed to run up to expectations, backers, on the whole, had not so much the worse of the argument with the "books."

The big race brought out a party of eleven juveniles, of whom Multifold alone could boast a winning bracket, and, carrying the full confidence of her connections, the Rathbride Manor filly always commanded most support in the betting. Another to be fancied was the good-looking O'Dorney, who has come on nicely since running second to Bon Secour in the Patriotic Plate at Baldoyle last month, and there was also good money behind Athene, whose second to the useful King David at the Curragh entitled her to respect. She now went one better, and, dashing into the lead when half the journey had been covered, had just sufficient reserve left to withstand the determined challenge of the rank outsider, Fairy Lass, who would have reversed the placings in another few strides, and her success would certainly have been a rare turn up for the ring. To the dismay of her backers, the favourite practically refused to start when the signal was given, and, a negligible quantity throughout, she cantered in some distance behind the others. By Argos out of Los Angeles by Llangibby, Athene was bred and is owned by Mr. W. C. Carr, for whom Maurice Reidy trains at the Curragh, and the veteran must be complimented alike on the excellent fettle in which he sent her to the post and for winning such an important race for his patron.

The speedy Pearl Ash added to her laurels in the Arnott Plate, which was voted such a good thing for her that her partisans had to lay odds of 2 to 1, and it can be said these were never in doubt, for though the improving Sharp Caroline was upsides with her for the greater part of the journey, the daughter of White Eagle out of Missie Ash always had the foot of Sir John Arnott's filly, and, drawing right away a furlong out, scored in impressive fashion. She was giving "lumps" of weight away to all, except Chios, despite which she never caused her backers any uneasiness, and won just as easily as in her two previous essays. A short price was taken about Be Serious for the Selling Two-Year-Old Plate, and he held such a long lead a couple of hundred yards from home that his success seemed assured, but, compounding rapidly, was caught and beaten, unluckily, perhaps, by Morsel, who was retained at the ensuing auction for 220 sovs. Although worth 200 sovs., the Blanchardstown Plate only attracted two runners, Trim Gate and Saintly Maid, and the odds laid on the former were duly landed, but he had to be hard driven to dispose of his opponent. The Curragh winner, Fine Gold, left off in most demand for the Weight-for-Age Plate, and she accounted for everything except Tiermourne, one of her own age, to whom she was endeavouring to concede 19lb., and who was also very well backed. Details:—

(Winner trained by Brabazon.)

Betting—100 to 14 agst. MORSEL, 6 to 4 Be Serious, 3 to 1 Mischievous Mickey.

Mischievous Mickey led from Be Serious, Morsel, and Puri for three furlongs, when Be Serious drew out with a clear lead of Morsel, who challenged close home, and won a good race by a head; a length and a half divided second and third. Puri was fourth.

Mr. Duggan declared to win with Be Serious.

The winner was bought in for 220 sovs.

4.30.—IRISH BREEDERS' PRODUCE STAKES, £1,000. For two-year-olds. 5 f.
Mr. W. C. Carr's b. f. ATHENE, by Argos—Los Angeles, 7-11 ....A. Barrett 1

Multifold refused to start, and Athene, jumping off in front, carried on the running from O'Dorney, Borora, Beymor, Fairy Lass, Remember, and Penrod. There was no material change in this order until a furlong from the end, when Fairy Lass took second place and threw a strong challenge, but Athene, retaining the lead, won after an exciting finish by a head; three-parts of a length divided second and third. Remember was fourth, Penrod fifth, Borora sixth, Beymor seventh, Willina eighth, and Noble Princess next.

5.0.—BLANCHARDSTOWN T.Y.O. PLATE, £200. 5 f.
Mr. T. G. Fletcher's bl. c. TRIM GATE, by Irishman—Sweet Saby, 9-0 ..E. M. Quirke 1

Betting—5 to 4 agst. Fine Gold, 5 to 2 TIERMOURNE, 5 to 1 Red Planet, 6 to 1 Celtic Mist, 10 to 1 Winburn, 20 to 1 any other.

Gay Cavalier made the running from Red Planet, Fine Gold, Tiermourne, and Celtic Mist until three furlongs from home. Gay Cavalier then was beaten, and Tiermourne, drawing to the front, followed by Fine Gold, won in a canter by three lengths; a similar distance divided second and third. Winburn was fourth, Celtic Mist fifth, and Gay Cavalier next.

RACECOURSE GLEANINGS.

GRANDCOURT WINS THE LONDON CUP.
VICTORY OF MISS MAJORITY.

(SPECIALLY CONTRIBUTED.)

LONDON, SATURDAY.

There are many handicaps of half the value of the London Cup that attract a much better class of animal. Still, since its inception, the race has always been popular with a particular class of sportsmen and sportswomen, for the fair sex appear to predominate at the North London meeting. The peculiarities of the course at Alexandra Park preclude owners of really high-class horses from entering them, and, indeed, they are well advised.

A feature about to-day's field for the Cup was that quite a number of horses engaged had already won over the course. Vertigo has repeatedly lost races which he could have won had he been inclined to do his best; but he was again trusted, and anything Frank Hartigan saddles here has such a following that Vertigo was always a good favourite. It was the old story over again. Vertigo and Dervish, who on the previous day at Newmarket had thrown his jockey and galloped away down to the town, were always leading the field till fairly in the line for home, when Gray moved up on Grandcourt, who had always been well placed, and Vertigo at once began to show the white feather. He would not have it at all, but gradually dropped back.

On the contrary, Grandcourt, apparently enjoying the concrete-like going, drew out with the utmost freedom to make quite a sorry example of his field. With 9st. in the saddle it was a really smart performance, and it was a marked improvement on his form in the Salisbury Cup in May. Mrs. Algernon Cox was present to lead her horse in. This was his second triumph here, for he won the important autumn handicap over the course eighteen months ago. Clarion would appear to have no course. He was again beaten out of a place, and a dire disappointment was Statuary, who failed completely to run up to stable expectations.

If the Weyhill stable missed the big prize with Vertigo, they reaped ample compensation in winning the Hornsby Welter with Little Doon and the July Handicap with Miss Majority. Both winners carried the colours of Baron Frank de Tuyll, and Donoghue was the rider. The leading jockey left directly after racing by aeroplane to ride on Sunday at St. Cloud.

Baron de Tuyll struck a rare bargain when he secured Miss Majority from Colonel Grant Morden, M.P. for Chiswick. The Colonel, who is a Canadian, takes only a passing interest in racing. Since then Miss Majority has trained into a particularly speedy filly, and this is the fifth race she has won for her present owner since he gave 750 guineas for her after winning at Epsom in the Derby week of last year.

THE RACE.

The tapes were twice broken by Vertigo before a start was obtained. Grandcourt got away in advance of Vertigo, Clarion, Dervish, and Doctor Myram. Then came Dutch Flight and Corporal. After going a quarter of a mile Vertigo was in front of Dervish, Dutch Flight, and Doctor Myram. Dervish headed Vertigo shortly afterwards, but a quarter of a mile from home Grandcourt came to the front, pursued by Dervish and Clarion, and won by three lengths; a length and a half between second and third. Clarion was fourth, Vertigo fifth, Welsh Woman sixth, Bumble Bee seventh, Double Flight eighth, and Aliados last.

YACHTING.

ROYAL ALFRED YACHT CLUB.

MATCH FOR 17-FOOTERS. Course (shortened)—5¼ miles. Start 3.35 p.m.

FINISH:

	H.	M.	S.
Bobolink (winner)—Mr. R. N. Guinness..	5	33	2
Mimosa (2nd prize)—Mr. J. B. Boyd	5	36	3
Pauline—Mr. K. E. O'Duffy	5	53	28
Nautilus—Mr. W. G. Gibson	gave up.

Bobolink had come over from Howth for this match, and she sailed with the wrong number on her mainsail, or else she had Rita's mainsail bent. Almost at once after the start she took the lead from Nautilus, which while Pauline was third and Mimosa last at the line. A reach on the starboard tack fetched the South Bar Buoy, where the order was—Bobolink, Mimosa, Pauline, Nautilus, the last-named dropping far behind on the close reach, or long and short leg, which brought them in the easterly breeze round the Bullock mark. They had the flood tide with them on the run home, and the race was stopped at the end of the round.

The handicap match for small cruisers fell through from lack of entries.

Mr. G. H. B. Kennedy, Hon. Sec., was officer of the day.

DUBLIN BAY SAILING CLUB.

HANDICAP FOR COMBINED CLASSES, for Club prizes, with Elvery special prize for first 21-footer at winning line. Course—10 miles. Start 3.5 p.m.

FINISH:

	H.	M.	S.
Fodhla (winner)—Mr. W. M. Curtis (h'cap. 4 mins.)	5	56	20
Punctilio (3rd prize)—Messrs. Newsom and Stephens (scr.)	5	56	50
Darthula—Mr. W. B. Graham (3 mins.)..	6	1	46
Garavoge (special prize)—Mr. L. Gower (12 mins.)	6	9	12
Geraldine (2nd prize)—Mr. W. McDowell (16 mins.)	6	12	2
Maureen—Mr. M. S. Orr (12 mins.)	6	16	16
Lona—Mr. R. Manders (13 mins.)	6	25	14

It was a light day for the course, and had it not been for the flood tide and the improvement in the easterly breeze about 5 o'clock, the finish would have been much later. As it was, it came within the period of first extension, initial handicaps, therefore, being increased 50 per cent. In a really good start Garavoge led Geraldine, Fodhla, Darthula, Punctilio, Maureen, and Lona out on a reach to the Bar Buoy, where Fodhla, Punctilio, Darthula, in the order named, led the 21-footers, headed by Garavoge on a beat up to the Rosbeg. There was not much wind to speak of here, nor did they pick up a breeze of much use until they made the South Burford. From there spinnakers were carried on the port hand, and later were set as reaching jibs. With the flood with them, they came home well, Fodhla eventually scoring for the first time at the line this season. As the first 21-footer to finish, Garavoge took the Elvery special prize for the class.

HANDICAP MATCH FOR WAGS for Club prizes. Start 3.30 p.m.

FINISH:

	H.	M.	S.
Coquette (winner)—Mr. G. H. Jones (h'cap. scr.)	5	35	11
Tomboy (2nd prize)—Messrs. Barrett and Donnelly (2 mins.)	5	38	49
Blue Bird—Mr. G. P. Meldon (7 mins.)..	5	46	28
Mollie—Mr. A. E. Snow (5 mins.)	5	46	35
Vela—Messrs. Irwin and Geoghegan (4 mins.)	5	46	34

The Wags had a beat down with a foul tide on the opening leg, and a run home on each round, and the race saw Coquette back in her old form. At the start the order was—Tomboy, Coquette, Mollie, Vela, Blue Bird. Coquette took the lead on the beat, and with Tomboy second to her, the pair led the others till they finished.

Mr. H. R. Newland was officer of the day.

HOWTH SAILING CLUB.

MATCH FOR 17-FOOTERS for the "Walshe" special prize, with Club prizes on a handicap. Course shortened to two rounds. Start 3.40 p.m.

FINISH:

	H.	M.	S.
Echo (winner)—Mr. R. Hall (h'cap. 8 mins.)	6	14	15
Silver Moon (2nd prize)—Messrs. Courtney and Pearson (scr.)	6	4	55
Rita—Mr. A. W. Mooney (4 mins.)	6	8	59
Zaida (3rd prize)—Mr. J. G. Franks (4 mins. 40 secs.)	6	9	34
Deilginis—Mr. H. C. Phipps (4 mins. 40 secs.)	6	15	19
Leila—Mr. Justice Samuels (7 mins. 20 secs.)	6	19	35

The wind was very light and variable, between E. and S., at Howth on Saturday, and ultimately the race had to be stopped at the close of the second round, when Echo scored her first win at the line for the season, taking both the special prize presented by Mr. P. T. Walshe and first club prize. The start was made at 3.40 p.m., when the leading boats across the line were—Silver Moon, Zaida, Rita. Silver Moon held a lead of about 50 yards at the Island mark on the second round, but Echo worked ahead of her on the beat across the Sound, and, the race being stopped at this stage, she won as stated.

Mr. B. J. Newcombe was officer of the day.

SEAPOINT BOAT CLUB.

SWEEPSTAKES HANDICAP (Time on Time System) for club boats. No. 4 Course. Start 3.35 p.m.

FINISH:

	H.	M.	S.
Nautilus (2nd prize)—Mr. F. P. Cantwell (h'cap. 12½ mins.)	4	48	10
Arline—Mr. N. C. Hartnell (5 mins.)	4	48	50
Petrel (3rd prize)—Mr. R. E. Bowen (10 mins.)	4	49	26
Oreep—Mr. W. J. Smalldridge (5 mins.)..	4	53	50
Brunette (winner)—Mr. W. R. Willis (20 mins.)	4	59	3
Unona—Mr. H. M. Odbert (7½ mins.)....	4	59	35
Geisha—Mr. E. H. Bermingham (1 min.)	5	2	41
May—Mr. F. P. Douglas (12½ mins.)	5	12	0
Percy G.—Mr. W. Sinnott-Glenn (20 mins.)	5	20	0
Willie—Messrs. Brown and Scott (7½ mins.)	5	5	5
Pixie—Mr. F. E. Bermingham (12½ mins.)	5	25	0

The race was sailed in a very light easterly breeze, the weather suiting the light craft much more than the heavier type. Both Petrel and May were recalled at the start, when Nautilus led Arline, Unona, Geisha, Brunette, Pixie, Oreep, Willie, Percy G., May, and Petrel away.

Mr. C. A. Haigh was officer of the day.

THE WATER WAGS.

The annual "Crews" Race (regular crews to steer), which had to be abandoned for want of wind on Wednesday evening last, will be re-sailed this evening.

MIDNIGHT RACE.
WON BY IRISH-OWNED YACHT.

DOUGLAS (I.O.M.), SATURDAY.

The tenth midnight yacht race was the slowest of the series, with one exception, and it was not till after four o'clock to-day that the first boat arrived in Douglas. This was the 18-tonner, Loyalty, owned by a member of the Royal Irish Yacht Club at Kingstown, which, as Maple Leaf, when owned by the late Mr. W. Teare Callow, of Castletown, competed in 1908 and 1909, but was unplaced on each occasion. Her Manx connection made her present victory the more popular. The second boat to arrive was Capella, a Manchester competitor, and then came the famous old tryer, Wallaroo. The last to be clocked was Mimosa, also from Manchester, and, by reason of her time allowance, she displaced Wallaroo as third prize winner. Vireena, which had three ladies on board, and St. Elmo did not turn up while the officials were on the watch. The race was devoid of any special feature, the wind being light and gentle all night. The skipper of Mimosa was old Tom Rawlinson, of Fleetwood, who is seventy-seven years of age, but still an ardent yachtsman. Another Fleetwood celebrity, Senior Pilot Gilbert Bond, hoping to see his friend the winner, actually crossed from that port alone in a 14-foot punt with a single lug sail. As soon as he reached Douglas he saluted in response to hails and cheers, and coolly put to sea again. Official times:—

Loyalty	3h.	24m.
Capella	3h.	51m.
Mimosa	4h.	56m.
Wallaroo	4h.	29m.

The other five starters were not timed.

AUSTRALIAN GRAND NATIONAL.
A CLOSE FINISH.

A Press Association telegram, dated Melbourne Saturday, states:—The Grand National Hurdle Race was run at Flemington to-day, with the following result:—

FISCOM	1
GOLD COIN	2
TELECLES	3

Fifteen others ran.

Won by half a head; a neck between second and third.

Betting—15 to 1 agst. FISCOM, 7 to 1 Gold Coin, 3 to 1 Telecles.

The time was 5 mins. 35¼ secs. over the three miles course.

THE CLYDE FORTNIGHT.

The two days' programme of the Clyde Club, which brings the Clyde Fortnight series to a close, was on Saturday started in the most promising conditions. The spell of remarkable summer weather continued, but from the yacht racing point of view a good southerly wind that sprang up half an hour from the beginning of the principal match raised hopes of stirring contests for the first time since the meeting at Largs ten days ago. Details:—

HANDICAP, over 100 tons T.M. Course—44 miles. Start, 10.20.

Britannia (King George), scratch; Terpsichore (Mr. R. H. Lee), 1 min. 28 secs.; Nyria (Mrs. Workman), 2 mins. 24 secs.

The finish was—Nyria (winner), 4 hrs. 46 mins. 5 secs.; Terpsichore (2nd prize), 4 hrs. 46 mins. 32 secs.; Britannia, 4 hrs. 48 mins. 30 secs.

The Lady Anne had a decisive victory over Vida VI., and the principal winners in the other classes were:—Margaret Clio, Insouciante, Caryl Llygra, Shireen, Morar, Gweebarra, and Sterope.

ALL-IRELAND CLUB.
NOVICES' TOURNAMENT.
A KEENLY-CONTESTED FINAL.

The final of the A.I.P.C. Novices' Tournament was decided at the Phœnix Park ground on Saturday afternoon between Captain Lingard Goulding's Hillbrook side and Blackbirds, a well-equipped and splendidly-balanced team of young players. The play throughout was characterised by fast galloping, crisp hitting, and level scoring. Blackbirds were remarkably quick on the ball, and got into their stride at once, the hitting of their back being brilliant at times. Hillbrook settled down in the second chukkar, and thereafter it was a neck and neck struggle, Hillbrook scoring the winning goal after seven minutes' extra time had been played.

HILLBROOK (6) v. BLACKBIRDS (5).

On paper Hillbrook were a stronger side by one point, but this was not reflected in their play in the first chukkar, when Blackbirds, who had set the pace, added to their allowance of one goal per Mr. Douglas. Hillbrook, however, soon settled down, and, after Mr. Douglas had cleared a shot from Mr. Arnott, Mr. Balding got in a splendid backhander to score. They had only just come out with the fresh ponies when Mr. Arnott finished off a clever bit of play by levelling up the scores. Mr. Meyrick replied for Blackbirds, but Hillbrook broke away from the throw-in for Capt. Goulding to equalise. From this point it was either side's game, hard riding from end to end being the order. Early in the third chukkar Mr. Roberts whipped up a cross shot by Mr. Meyrick and again put the Blackbirds into the lead. Hillbrook got within easy range of goal subsequently, but failed to score. Blackbirds played with great dash in the fourth chukkar and increased their lead in the first minute, Mr. Meyrick scoring with a backhander. Hillbrook, however, stayed better and got on terms before the change, Captain Goulding and Mr. Arnott hitting through. Two blank periods followed. Blackbirds went near scoring in the sixth, and forced Mr. Arnott to hit behind his own goal. The sides being level at 5 goals all, an extra chukkar was played. The Hillbrook goal was first threatened, but Mr. Balding cleared, and then Captain Goulding carried the ball to the other end. Mr. Douglas defended stubbornly, but Mr. Balding eventually got in a long straight drive to snatch victory for Hillbrook. Teams:—

Hillbrook—Mr. McGrath, Mr. Maxwell Arnott, Captain Lingard Goulding, and Mr. A. Balding (back).

Blackbirds—Mr. Hinde, Mr. Meyrick, Mr. Roberts, and Mr. Douglas (back).

Umpires—Lieutenant-Colonel Loftus Bryan and Mr. J. A. B. Trench.

To-day—Practice at Cabra at 2.45.

CHAMPION CUP—SEMI-FINAL.
MEADOWBROOK TEAM BEATEN.

At Hurlingham on Saturday the Freebooters beat Meadowbrook Club, U.S.A., by 6 goals to 4. The sides were:—

Freebooters—Duke of Penaranda, No. 1; Mr. T. Hitchcock, No. 2; Mr. W. S. Buckmaster, No. 3; Lord Wodehouse, back.

Meadowbrook Club—Mr. L. E. Stoddard, No. 1; Mr. T. Watson Webb, No. 2; Mr. R. E. Strawbridge, No. 3; Mr. D. Milburn, back.

From the start the game was very fast and spirited, but Meadowbrook twice had to hit behind their own goal, and Lord Wodehouse just failed to score with the free hits, and no goal was made in the period. In the second only one was scored, by Mr. Hitchcock from a pass by the Duke of Penaranda, who began to show prominently. After Lord Wodehouse had added another in the third "ten," Mr. Watson Webb put the ball cleverly to Mr. Milburn, who came through with a very fine run and scored. Lord Wodehouse promptly retaliated with a goal off some more good play by the Duke of Penaranda. The only goal scored in the fourth period was one made by Mr. Stoddard, who, exceedingly well mounted, got cleverly away. Then, in the fifth, Mr. Buckmaster, who had been playing exceedingly well throughout the game, hit a capital goal. A poor defence directly afterwards let Mr. Watson Webb get through, but Mr. Buckmaster was not to be denied, and some good combined play between him and his Nos. 1 and 2 enabled Mr. Hitchcock to put his side 2 goals ahead. The sixth period was barren of score, in spite of Mr. Milburn's frequently coming up into the game with splendid efforts. In the last eight minutes Meadowbrook got another goal, but they had shot their bolt, and Mr. Hitchcock's increasingly cheerful hitting enabled the Freebooters to establish a lead of two goals when the final bell rang.

MOTOR CYCLING.

RACING AT PORTMARNOCK.

The fine stretch of beach at Portmarnock presented a scene of animation on Saturday afternoon, not often visible at that quiet seaside resort. The public had come in thousands to find amusement and excitement in witnessing the races promoted by the Dublin and District Motor Cycling Club. The big crowd assembled appeared to take the greatest interest in the proceedings. The racing was good. There were four events listed, three for solo mounts, the classes ranging from 2¼ h.p. light-weights up to powerful machines of 7 h.p. and 8 h.p. The first event, a six miles handicap, for engines under 301 c.c., was half-an-hour late in starting. The five starters included T. E. Greene, on a 2¼ Enfield (15 secs.); Dene Allen, 2¼ Sun Villiers (5 secs.); and R. Walshe, 2¼ Omega (scr.)—a trio of expert riders. Unfortunately, Walshe was compelled to fall out shortly after the start, owing, it was said, to the engine of his machine being over-oiled. Greene, riding with characteristic dash, was soon leading, and gained as he rode, coming into the last two miles' lap well ahead, and finishing an easy winner. The six miles handicap, for machines of 301 c.c. to 550 c.c., brought out a field of twelve. S. J. Redmond (3½ Indian) was scratch, and the limit men had 2 mins. start. The spectators saw some sensational speed in this event, for in the straight Redmond let himself go, but he could not do all he might have done on his machine. The condition of the strand at the turn at the Sutton end of the course was such that it had to be very carefully negotiated. But he passed riders like Carville (50 secs.), 4 Triumph, and Holmes (60 secs.), 3½ Rudge, his keenest competitor being Cathcart (55 secs.), 3½ Norton, whom he finally passed, winning in fine style. In the 16 miles handicap for the unlimited class, Redmond had a harder nut to crack in J. McInally, who was mounted on a more powerful Indian (5 h.p.), and had 2 minutes' start. It was a great race between the two. McInally did his cornering at the turns much better, and saved seconds. It is regrettable that in taking the last turn for home, he missed the flag owing to the state of the surface, and passed it on the wrong side. He went on and won a splendid race, but, of course, nothing but disqualification could follow. The six miles side-car race was the least interesting of the afternoon's events. Results:—

Six Miles Handicap, for light-weights up to and including 300 c.c.:—T. E. Greene (12 secs.), 2¼ Enfield, 1; T. Slevin (15 secs.), 2¼ Velocette, 2; C. Draper (15 secs.), 2¼ Metro Tyler, 3. Also competed:—Dene Allen, 2¼ Sun Villiers (5 secs.); R. Walshe, 2¼ Omega (scratch); J. F. Broderick, 2¼ Levis (30 secs.). Time—10 mins. 33 secs.

Six Miles Handicap, for machines of 301 c.c. to 550 c.c.—S. J. Redmond (scratch), 3½ Indian, 1; S. Cathcart (55 secs.), 3½ Norton, 2; J. McCullagh (55 secs.), 3½ Norton, 3. Also competed:—A. Adair (2 mins.), 2¾ Douglas; J. A. Carville (50 secs.), 4 Triumph; S. Wood (60 secs.), 4 Triumph; F. Holmes (50 secs.), 3½ Rudge; G. Bewley (45 secs.), 3½ Norton; H. B. Evans (2 mins.), 2¾ Douglas; G. W. Kinlay (80 secs.), 4 Triumph; J. McCrae (70 secs.), 3½ Rudge; R. Walshe (60 secs.), 2¾ Coulson. Time—7 mins. 11 4-5 secs.

Sixteen Miles, Handicap, unlimited class.—S. J. Redmond (scratch), 1; J. A. Carville (2 mins. 30 secs.), 4 Triumph, 2. J. McInally (2 mins.), 5 Indian, finished first, but was disqualified. Also competed:—G. Coath (2 mins. 30 secs.), 3½ Norton; R. Holding (2 mins.), 6 Enfield; C. W. Johnston (2 mins.), 2¾ Blackburne. Time—18 mins. 55 secs.

Six Miles Side-car Handicap:—J. Adair (2 mins. 40 secs.), 4 B.S.A., 1; J. Hall (15 secs.), 7-9 Harley, 2; P. Smith (scratch), 7 Indian, 3. Also competed:—S. Wood (scratch), 7 Indian; R. Holding (30 secs.), 6 Enfield; E. Thompson (10 secs.), 6-8 Matchless. Time—10 mins. 49 secs.

THE DAVIS CUP.
BRITISH TEAM CHOSEN.

The following have been selected to represent the British Isles in the Davis Cup ties in America:—Max Woosnam, Captain F. G. Lowe, O. G. Turnbull, and the Hon. Cecil Campbell.

ALL-ENGLAND CHAMPIONSHIP.
W. T. TILDEN WINS AGAIN.

W. T. Tilden, who won the World's Grass Courts Lawn Tennis Championship for America last year, retained his title at Wimbledon on Saturday against the challenge of B. I. C. Norton, the 21 years old South African champion. It was altogether an amazing match. It was not remarkable for anything great in lawn tennis, after the first set, which Norton won with comparative ease and on his merits. In the second set Norton again had the measure of the champion, who made an alarming number of errors. Tilden was not himself; he was quite unable to keep up the strength and length he maintained last year. He only won two games in the second set, and then only after Norton had gone to 4-0. The match at that point seemed to be a gift for the challenger; but then there came the sudden and dramatic change. Norton died away to nothing. Indeed, he only took one game in the third set. His sudden breakdown, after his splendid start, was one of the most remarkable things ever seen at Wimbledon. In the deciding set he pulled himself together, and, playing again with his usual dash, he went to 4-2, and Tilden seemed a beaten man. Then, owing to miscalculations by Norton, the champion drew level, but Norton went to 5-4, and twice was he within a stroke of the set and the match, and then came a wonderful service by Tilden. The challenger could not touch it, and the match was won by Tilden after all. In the absence of the holders, Garland and Williams (U.S.A.), R. Lycett and M. Woosnam won the Men's Doubles Championship, after an indifferent match; while Mdlle. Leglen and Miss Ryan had little difficulty in retaining their title in the Ladies' Doubles Championship. Details:—

Men's Singles, challenge round—W. T. Tilden (holder) beat B. I. C. Norton—4-6, 2-6, 6-1, 6-0, 7-5.

Men's Doubles, final and championship round—R. Lycett and Max Woosnam beat F. G. and A. H. Lowe—6-3, 6-0, 7-5.

Ladies' Doubles, final—Mdlle. Leglen and Miss Ryan beat Mrs. Beamish and Mrs. Peacock—6-1, 6-2.

Mixed Doubles, final—R. Lycett and Miss Ryan beat M. Woosnam and Miss Howkins—6-3, 6-1.

All-England Plate, final—J. B. Gilbert beat Hon. F. M. B. Fisher—7-5, 4-6, 6-0.

ROWING.

HENLEY ROYAL REGATTA.
NORWEGIANS WIN THAMES CHALLENGE CUP.
BERESFORD BEATEN IN THE DIAMONDS.

Henley Royal Regatta terminated on Saturday in just the same way as it commenced, in a blaze of sunshine, and it is a very rare thing indeed for the Royal Regatta to be carried right through without a drop of rain falling. The attendance was exceedingly large, and created a brilliant river spectacle, and the rowing conditions were fast, with a following wind. The Prince of Wales was present. He received a memorable reception, and distributed the prizes. The semi-final heats of the Thames Challenge Cup marked the re-opening of hostilities, and the Norwegians and Corpus Christi, Oxford, qualified for the ultimate. Corpus Christi beat the Imperial College, who made an eminently praiseworthy debut; but the Roklub were desperately hard pressed to get home from the second eight of Magdalen, Oxford. As a matter of fact, Norway only won by a foot with their very last stroke of a marvellous spurt. Most people thought that the effort of conquering Magdalen would have tired the Norway crew for the final, but they proved equal to a strenuous occasion, and the Thames Challenge Cup passed out of this country. A similar fate awaited the Diamond Sculls, less than an hour later. The Diamonds, however, was an unsatisfactory race, and young Beresford has himself to blame for an unexpected defeat. Shortly after the start the Dutchman, Eyken, became hopelessly involved with the piles, and, instead of going on, Beresford, with exaggerated ideas of sportsmanship, since steering is all in the sculler's game, waited until his opponent extricated himself and re-started. There was a delay of fully twenty seconds, and Eyken ought to have been out of the race completely. Instead, however, Eyken produced a rare burst of speed, and eventually beat Beresford, last year's winner, rather easily. Eyken, a vastly improved man, might have won under any circumstances, but a straightaway race would have been preferable. Jesus College, Cambridge, could not live the pace of the superb Magdalen College, Oxford, in the Grand Challenge Cup. Magdalen, therefore, repeating their triumph of twelve months ago, Jesus College won the Wyfolds, thanks to Royal Chester running into the piles. Jesus College did not wait, like Beresford did. Subsequently Eton College won the Ladies' Plate, after a splendid race with Lady Margaret, Cambridge, and Jesus College, Cambridge, raised a second flag when this pair annexed the Goblets in a strong paddle. Magdalen, Oxford, also secured a second trophy with their fine four, taking the Stewards'; but Magdalen were defeated in the Visitors' by Lincoln College. Details:—

GRAND CHALLENGE CUP.

Final.—Bucks—Magdalen College, Oxford, 1. Berks—Jesus College, Cambridge, 2. Won by a length. Time—6 mins. 54 secs.

DIAMOND CHALLENGE SCULLS.

Final.—Bucks—F. E. Eyken, Delft University, Holland, 1. Berks—J. Beresford, jun., Thames Rowing Club, 2. A level race until Eyken fouled the piles. Beresford waited till the Dutchman got straight, and then the latter showed such pace that he led at Fawley by a few feet. Beresford backed pace afterwards, and was beaten rather easily.

LADIES' CHALLENGE PLATE.

Final.—Berks—Eton College, 1. Bucks—Lady Margaret, Cambridge, 2. Won by three-parts of a length. Time—7 mins. 9 secs.

THAMES CHALLENGE CUP.

Semi-finals.—Berks—Christiania Roklub, Norway, 1. Bucks—Magdalen College, Oxford, 2. Won on the last stroke by a foot. Time—7 mins. 11 secs. Bucks—Corpus Christi College, Oxford, 1. Berks—Imperial College Boat Club, 2. Won decisively by a length and a half. Time—7 mins. 11 secs.

THAMES CUP.

Final.—Bucks—Christiania Roklub, Norway, 1. Berks—Corpus Christi College, Oxford, 2. Won by a length. Time—7 mins. 12 secs.

STEWARDS' CHALLENGE CUP.

Final.—Bucks—Magdalen College, Oxford, 1. Berks—Leander Club, 2. Won by three lengths. Time—7 mins. 33 secs.

VISITORS' CHALLENGE CUP.

Final.—Berks—Lincoln College, Oxford, 1. Bucks—Magdalen College, Oxford, 2. Won by a length and a quarter. Time—7 mins. 44 secs.

WYFOLD CHALLENGE CUP.

Final.—Bucks—Jesus College, Cambridge, 1. Berks—Royal Chester Rowing Club, 2. Won easily. Time—7 mins. 46 secs.

SILVER GOBLETS.

Final.—Bucks—Jesus College, Cambridge, 1. Berks—Christ Church, Oxford, 2. Paddled home very easy winners. Time—8 mins. 52 secs.

To-day's Conference.

To-day will witness a critical stage in the negotiations for an Irish settlement. Mr. de Valera finds the Prime Minister's invitation impossible of acceptance in its present form, and Sir James Craig, having accepted it, refuses to anticipate the proposed London conference with the conference in Dublin. In a word, the protagonists are still at arm's length. To-day the country's hopes are fixed on the four Southern Unionists who will meet the Republican leader in the Dublin Mansion House at his own request. Southern Unionism has something in common with both parties to this controversy. It understands—because it shares to the full—Unionist Ulster's loyalty to the British Empire. On the other hand, it understands—because it shares to the full—the Southern Nationalists' passionate desire for the unity of Ireland. It is well qualified, therefore, to act as interpreter between the two parties. It has this further qualification—that both must recognise the disinterested character of its anxiety for peace. It is ready to make greater sacrifices, and to take greater risks, in that cause than any which the British Government can require from either North-East Ulster or Sinn Fein. There are limits, of course—and no good purpose can be served by ignoring them—to the possibilities of conference. The Southern Unionists cannot advise or accept for themselves any repudiation of the Imperial connection. They cannot pretend, or advise anybody to pretend, that the Northern Parliament is not a fait accompli. It exists, and the settlement that will not recognise its existence is inconceivable. Within these limits, however, there is ample scope for fruitful and honourable compromise. There is room for concessions from Sinn Fein that may guarantee to the six counties the absolute security on which they insist; there is room for concessions from the North which will satisfy the political idealism of the South; and there is room for generous concessions, fiscal and other, from the British Government to the whole of Ireland. Frank and unfettered conference is the primary need, and, if the four Southern Unionists can help to fulfil it, they will have conferred a noble service on their country. We do not know what proposals, if any, Mr. de Valera will make at to-day's meeting. We do not know whether the four Unionists will submit a plan of settlement or will confine themselves to efforts to remove obstacles from the path of further conference. Of one thing, however, we are well assured. The four representatives of Southern Unionism are deeply conscious of the tremendous issues which are now at stake. If the Prime Minister's "final appeal" fails, they, at least, will have no responsibility for the failure and its consequences. The Earl of Midleton and his colleagues will carry with them to the Mansion House to-day the hopes and prayers of every true friend of Ireland.

The Japanese Alliance.

Ever since the Imperial Conference held its first meeting a fortnight ago, the spectre of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance has haunted its councils. This difficult problem has overshadowed all others and has been uppermost in the mind of every Imperial delegate. On Thursday last the Lord Chancellor made a statement on the subject which has put a completely new complexion on the whole affair. Up to that day the question was: Shall we, or shall we not, renew the treaty with Japan? Now it is something totally different. Lord Birkenhead, who gave the Imperial Conference an exposé of the terms of the Alliance from the legal point of view, established the fact that the question of its renewal does not arise at all. Unless it is denounced formally it automatically renews itself. The change which this announcement makes in the situation is apparent. In the first place, the whole problem loses its urgency. It was generally understood that, unless the Imperial Conference should decide to renew the treaty almost immediately, it would lapse this month. Now discussion may be prolonged for months, or even years; and until Britain makes up her mind to dissolve the Alliance, or modify it to suit the requirements of the moment, it will stand. In the next place, to fail to renew a treaty is one thing; to denounce it is quite another. One of the most serious factors in the whole situation is the well-known "touchiness" of Japan. She is a young nation, and, like all young nations, hyper-sensitive. There is hardly any doubt that she would be very gravely offended should Britain deliberately cast her off after such a long period of faithful friendship, and, now that the Alliance can only be terminated by a positive denunciation, the British position has become much more delicate than anybody believed it to be. The reason for Lord Birkenhead's dramatic intervention is hard to fathom. Surely the Government must have known all along that the whole British Commonwealth was wrongly informed on the matter. All the Dominions believed that the Anglo-Japanese Treaty was due to expire this month unless steps should be taken to renew it, and on that very definite assumption the Overseas Premiers came to London. Had the real position been made clear before the controversy began a deal of trouble might have been saved.

It is fairly safe to assume now that the Anglo-Japanese Alliance will not be denounced at present. Since the beginning of the Conference discussion has proved that this much-discussed treaty can be considered no longer as an isolated problem. It is linked up with all the questions of foreign relations, of disarmament, and of naval policy in the Pacific which have been exercising the minds of Britain's statesmen for the past year. Therefore, finally, its denunciation or renewal must be governed by the demands of that larger Imperial policy which is gradually elbowing the policy of the Foreign Office out of its way. Since the Lord Chancellor's statement the feeling among the Dominion Premiers in favour of a triangular conference between Britain, Japan, and the United States has grown steadily. Senator Borah's resolution, which was carried in the American Senate about a fortnight ago, coupled with President Harding's repeated utterances on the subject, indicates the readiness of the United States to participate in such a scheme, and Japan has declared that she is anxious to promote the interests of peace. This suggestion offers a very good way out of the difficulty in regard to the Anglo-Japanese Alliance. A tripartite agreement between the Great Powers which have interests in the Pacific would cancel it automatically and thus British statesmanship would be relieved of the burden of decision which it otherwise must bear. Every friend of world peace will welcome the idea of the proposed conference. The dangers which are involved in the race for naval supremacy between the two great Pacific Powers are very real; and any dispute between America and Japan is bound to affect the interests of the British peoples throughout the world. Japan's friendship with Britain is one of civilisation's greatest safeguards for the future; but it would be a very much greater safeguard if it was shared by America. To achieve the ideal of an Anglo-American-Japanese pact should be the ambition of every member of the three nations. Without disarmament there can be no real peace—the world at best will remain in a state of suspended war—and, in view of the failure of the League of Nations, even a modified measure of disarmament will be impossible while these three Powers remain apart.

Lord Chancellors' Pensions.

A question recently asked in the House of Commons produced the interesting information that Great Britain is paying pensions to four ex-Lord Chancellors. In three cases the pension amounts to the not unsubstantial sum of five thousand pounds a year. In the fourth case—that of Lord Loreburn—the pension was reduced at his own request to half that amount. The total period covered by the services of the four learned lawyers was twenty-eight years, four and a half months. The longest tenure of office was that of Lord Halsbury, who was Lord Chancellor for seventeen and a half years in all; the shortest was that of Lord Buckmaster, who earned his generous pension by serving his country in the highest judicial capacity for one year and a half. It is scarcely necessary to add that, while holding office, all these distinguished jurists received the generous emoluments attaching thereto. To the taxpayer it may well appear that, if stern measures of national economy must be enforced, here is a case to which the economists might direct their initial efforts. A nation that is stingy to its public servants is rightly the subject of contempt and is generally badly served. British Lord Chancellors, however, are not genuine public servants. They are politicians and the job is a political job. Before they accept it their services to their country are frequently negligible, nor are they necessarily men who have earned great distinction at the Bar. Lord Haldane's disservices to his country as an investigator of Germany's intentions and preparations probably cost the Empire and the world in general more blood and money than the ambitions of Napoleon. Lord Loreburn, better known as Sir Robert Reid, was a very distinguished lawyer, but, except for a brief effort in connection with the Venezuelan Boundary Commission, he made no noticeable contribution to the public welfare. Lord Buckmaster appears to have served his country in no capacity except for one year in that of Director of the Press Bureau, which he held from September 14th, 1914, to May, 1915. As it was, admittedly, the worst-managed Press Bureau in Europe, an eight months' directorship of it was a poor return for a life pension of five thousand pounds a year. It appears on examination that this burden on the public purse has no justification other than that of historic tradition. The office of Lord Chancellor could well be a life appointment, like that of the Lord Chief Justice. As President of the Upper Chamber his position would be, if anything, strengthened and the Government could have a leader in the House of Lords just as it now has one (other than the Prime Minister) in the House of Commons. In a sense all Ministers, according to the British Constitution as it stands, are the people's Ministers and not the King's; but there are certain officers—such, for example, as His Majesty's Judges—who are purposely and necessarily put beyond the reach of the people and the turmoil of politics. The Lord Chancellorship should be one of these. The change would add to that high office a dignity that it has not enjoyed in recent years.

Sport and Finance.

Some ninety thousand persons paid exorbitant prices to see Georges Carpentier and Jack Dempsey fight for the high-sounding title of Heavy-Weight Champion of the World at Jersey City on Saturday, and millions of persons in Europe and America waited for news of the result with an interest which was almost painful. It was a disappointing contest. Carpentier is a romantic figure, and during the last few years he has become the national hero of France. Experts had declared that his chance of success was extremely slender; that, despite his undoubted ability, he was neither fast enough nor clever enough to defeat his powerful opponent. The world, however, refused to recognise hard facts and clung to the belief that he would prove victorious. The results justified the experts up to the hilt. After a little more than thirteen minutes' fighting, in which Dempsey showed that he lacked neither speed nor fighting intelligence, the Frenchman received a terrific blow which forced him to "take the count." We have nothing but admiration for boxing. It is a splendid sport, and keen interest in a championship fight is natural; but it is legitimate to ask whether the world has not had enough of these "super" contests. The huge purse that was provided, the fees for cinematograph rights, the course of the betting, and the speculation in tickets gave Saturday's fight the aspect of a big financial operation rather than a sporting event. It is ridiculous that Dempsey's share of the spoil should amount to more that the sum granted to Earl French for his services as Commander-in-Chief of the British Armies during the first two years of the war. Let boxing contests take their rightful place as events of minor importance. Real sport cannot go hand in hand with finance.

THE PRINCE OF WALES'S LEINSTER REGIMENT.

The regimental dinner of the Prince of Wales's Leinster Regiment was held at the Café Royal, London, on the 28th June, and was attended by many officers of the regiment. The Prince of Wales, as Colonel-in-Chief, presided, and proposed the health of the regiment. The table was beautifully decorated with flowers sent by various officers, and some of the regimental plate was brought up for the occasion.

THE PRINCE OF WALES AND LANCASHIRE.

Lord Derby, in opening a park at Leigh, Lancashire, on Saturday, announced that he had authority for saying that the Prince of Wales, on a subsequent visit to Lancashire, would visit those Lancashire towns, including Leigh, which he could not visit next week. The Lancashire people held strong opinions, but they were unanimous in believing that England was the finest country in the world, and Lancashire a long way the best county in England.

DEATH OF COLONEL J. R. M'LEAN.

Colonel J. R. M'Lean, C.B.E., whilst motoring with friends from Cardiff to Carlisle yesterday was taken ill when passing through Builth Wells, and died suddenly, his death being attributed to heart failure. He was born in Belfast in 1872, was at one time in the Presbyterian ministry, and was Deputy Director of Recruiting during the war.

ROYAL DUBLIN SOCIETY HORSE SHOW, 1921.

We would remind intending exhibitors at the Royal Dublin Society Horse Show that entries close on Thursday next, the 7th inst. Applications for entry forms, etc., should be addressed to the Agricultural Superintendent, Leinster House, Dublin.

THE GAIETY THEATRE.

"SAMSON AND DELILAH."

The introductory music to "Samson and Delilah" was intended by Saint Saëns to create the seductive atmosphere of the East, but the late-comers at the Gaiety Theatre matinée on Saturday successfully defeated the capable efforts of the orchestra, conducted by Mr. Warwick Braithwaite. In this strikingly descriptive opera the O'Mara Opera Company thoroughly well acquitted itself. Miss Mabel Dennis's wide versatility has been appreciated time and again, and on Saturday she gave an excellent characterisation of the syren, "Delilah." With langurous grace of movement, she rendered the arias, "I come to render my homage," and "Fair spring is returning," with delightful purity and moderation of tone, and in the second act she sang "Softly wakes my heart" with great tenderness of expression, the soft harp accompaniment being played with careful sympathy. Mr. John Pegg's fine declamatory power was heard to great advantage in the part of Samson. The passionate fervour of his protestations, the "aside" orchestral passages, throbbing with the storm and instinct with a sense of impending disaster, made the madly-passionate "abode of Delilah" scene alive. The climaxes with which the opera abounds were always effectively attained by the company; the chorus, a little rough at times, when the male voices prevailed, showed, on the whole, a nice discrimination, whilst a word must be said about the realistic abandon of the dancers in the pagan rites scene in the Temple. Mr. James Bird combined dignity and malevolence to the required degree as the High Priest, and Mr. John Bateman's deep voice was well suited to the part of the Aged Hebrew. The smaller parts of Abimelech and the Philistines were filled by Messrs. Bevan, Locker, Clarke, and Colbert.

The third week of the O'Mara Company's summer season opens to-night at seven o'clock with "Faust."

LONDON CORRESPONDENCE.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
SUNDAY NIGHT.

The Observer to-day remarks on the Dublin meeting of to-morrow that "Sinn Fein has brought in sight terms for Ireland of which no Unionist would formerly have dreamed. If Mr. de Valera and his friends look at it from that point of view, all will be well. They have won as much by violence as violence can ever accomplish. The time has unmistakably come to capitalise their success by a peaceful settlement, or to lose all by grasping vainly at the impossible."

In the House of Lords on Wednesday, the 13th of July, Lord Oranmore and Browne will move, "That this House regrets that His Majesty's Government do not propose to pass into law during the present session the Land Purchase Bill for Ireland, which forms part of their plan for the settlement of the Irish question, and which they undertook to pass into law simultaneously with the Government of Ireland Act."

In the House of Commons the Agricultural De-control Bill will have its second reading to-morrow, followed by Supply. On Tuesday the Scottish Estimates will be taken, and on Wednesday the Safeguarding of Industries Bill will be advanced a stage. On Thursday there will be an interesting debate on the settlement of the coal dispute, on the Ministry of Mines vote. The ten million pounds subsidy was voted last week without discussion to put an end to the dispute.

Little is heard of the proceedings of the Imperial Conference, but it seems that it is engaged upon business requiring delicate and careful consideration. The renewal of the Anglo-Japanese Treaty is the principal subject, and it is thought that there will be a compromise on the different points of view prevailing at the Conference. Instead of the Treaty being allowed to drop it may be possible to extend it by bringing in the United States, and, if so, a great possibility for good will have been accomplished.

The Dominion Premiers are to be present at a reception to be given by the Royal Colonial Institute at the Natural History Museum to-morrow evening. In honour of the occasion a very large gathering of well-known people will be present, and some elaborate entertainments have been prepared.

The great fight is over, and, perhaps, London will now be able to settle down to work. All day yesterday the fight and its prospects formed the one topic of conversation, and in the evening hosts of people came to Fleet street and the West End to watch for the result. Great crowds gathered in the suburbs at some central situation for the same purpose. Disappointment that Carpentier had been beaten was general, but then he is well known in London and a very great favourite. The feeling was generally expressed that he had put up a good defence against a much better and stronger boxer than himself.

A triumphal arch in the Belgian colours at the end of the Mall is the most notable sign of the preparations being made in London to-day for the visit of the King and Queen of the Belgians to-morrow. The Prince of Wales goes down to Dover to meet the Royal couple, who left Ostend to-day on the British Royal yacht, and the party will be received at Victoria by the King and Queen and other members of the Royal Family. In the afternoon the King and Queen of the Belgians are to pay a visit to the Cenotaph and to the grave of the Unknown Warrior in Westminster Abbey. In the evening a State banquet will be held at Buckingham Palace. On Tuesday a State visit will be made to the City of London, with a luncheon at the Guildhall, and in the evening the Marquis and Marchioness Curzon gave a dinner party for the Royal visitors.

The State banquet to be held at the Palace to-morrow evening will be a very imposing function. Orders and decorations are to be worn by all attending, while the Royal collection of gold plate will be brought from Windsor to decorate the tables and sideboards. The dinner service to be used is one of priceless Sèvres, originally belonging to George III. The Belgian suite of apartments to be occupied by King Albert and Queen Elizabeth is the largest of the guest suites in the Palace, consisting of eight very fine rooms, overlooking the gardens, and was originally prepared for the use of Leopold II. of Belgium by Queen Victoria. It is reserved for the use of guests of the highest importance only, generally Sovereigns and Presidents of Republics.

Sir Robert Horne is going steadily to work to cut down expenses in the Civil Service where he finds it possible. He is about to make "cuts" in the amount of the war bonus paid to the higher division staff. These bonuses are paid as a result of a Treasury arrangement, and do not come, like those of the lower division, under the regulation of the Whitley Council and the Civil Service Arbitration Board. Some of these higher division bonuses amount to £750 per annum, but the average is rather lower. A considerable saving will result to the country by the reduction. Severe pruning is also taking place in some of the departments, and many temporary clerks will be released almost at once. It is estimated that the saving in one department will be about £200,000 per annum.

It is said that some of the business men in the House of Commons are inclined to agree with the prognostication of the Chancellor of the Exchequer that there will soon be a revival in trade, although few are inclined to prophesy a boom. It will take some little time for the factories to get properly to work again and for a demand to grow up, but the woollen traders and cotton merchants are of opinion that there will not be very long delay.

Last month was the driest June recorded in the London district for over a hundred years, and there seems no prospect of an immediate end of the drought. It is not surprising that the Metropolitan Water Board is getting very nervous about its reserves, and is sending out another appeal for greater care in the use of what is now a precious commodity. It is asked that there shall be economy in flushing lavatories, in the washing of carriages and motor cars, in domestic washing up, and in watering gardens. The advice as to gardens is rather amusing, for it is first suggested that an inch of water is sufficient in the bath for bathing, and then that the bath water should be used to water the garden. Perhaps, this is a delicate way of indicating that baths and the watering of gardens should be dispensed with.

The Minister of Transport, Sir Eric Geddes, has consented to confer on Tuesday with a deputation representing the Bristol Docks Committee, the Mersey Docks and Harbour Board, and the Clyde trustees, as to the position of docks other than railway docks under the Railway Bill. The desire of the deputation is to secure absolute assurance that the undertakings they speak for shall not suffer any prejudice if the Bill becomes an Act.

THE VALUE OF THE £.

FURTHER DECLINE IN JUNE.

The Statist's index number of the value of the £ in terms of twenty-eight principal foreign currencies records a fall of 1.3 points to 117.8 in June from 119.1 in May. Most of the leading exchanges contributed to this decline, and only in a few and unimportant centres sterling appreciated. The outstanding feature of the month was the rise in the United States dollar, the influence of which, with other factors, combined to depreciate the value of sterling also in Canada, Argentina, and Japan. French and Belgian francs continued to appreciate, and of other Continental exchanges Madrid, Lisbon, and Athens also moved adversely in this country. In the Scandinavian group movements were not uniform. Sweden and Denmark declined, but Norway moved in our favour. An all round improvement occurred in Eastern currencies, though the rupee appreciated only slightly.

REVIEW OF MILITARY EVENTS.

The following notes on military events for the seven days ending 29th June, 1921, have been issued:—

GERMANY.

During the period under review the situation has remained quiet in all areas.

After protracted negotiations, during which the Poles and Germans stood their ground, an agreement was signed by both parties by the morning of 26th June, involving a mutual withdrawal to their respective territories. The Poles agreed to execute a preliminary withdrawal to a line running from a point on the Polish frontier, near the Polish village of Lebki, to the west of Lubinitz—west of Kieleschka, through Wilkowitz—west of Peiskretschm; then southeast and along the railway to a point west of Borsigwerk; then southwards to the east of Zaborze; then east to Paulstrap; then south-west to cross roads; then west to Schonwald and southwards to near Buglowku, and then south with a little east to the west of Rybnik, and then to a point on the Polish frontier near Meschezenitz. General Hoefer agreed that as soon as he had received General Henecker's assurance that the above withdrawal had taken place, he would immediately vacate Annanborg and the country behind it up to the western frontier of the plebiscite area, keeping his forces in two groups well to the south-west and north-west respectively, and, further, that he would gradually disband his forces as the Poles carried out further retirements, completing his disbandment on the same day that the insurgents finally disappeared. This date should be 5th July.

For the time being a special flying column has been organised for the purpose of patrolling the neutral zone in conjunction with troops already in position, consisting of one company British infantry, and, in addition, one company Italian infantry, one French machine gun company, and one squadron French Hussars, which have been put at General Henecker's disposal. This column—furnished by the Oppeln garrison—is placed as required under the orders of the commanders of the 1st and 2nd British Brigades.

Six special commissions, consisting each of one British, one French, and one Italian officer, have been appointed to superintend and check the withdrawal of the Poles and Germans. To police the areas vacated by the insurgents, a Gemeinde-Wacher (or public watchmen) is being constituted. This force will be supported by a better organised force in the towns, with which it will be able, it is hoped, to deal with any plundering and marauding bands left behind by the Poles.

MESOPOTAMIA.

After several days' trials a regular convoy commenced running on 20th June from Baiji, on the River Tigris (135 miles north of Bagdad); via Fatha (10 miles north of Baiji), then north-east across the desert to Kirkuk.

The line of communications from Qaraghan (90 miles north-east of Bagdad), via Kifri to Kirkuk, is being closed down, resulting in economy of troops. On the evening of 22nd June three aeroplanes arrived at Bagdad, having flown across the desert from Amman.

NORTH-WEST FRONTIER OF INDIA.

Recent enemy activities in the Wana area indicate a slackening of the Wana Waziri's opposition, while the Mahsuds are still truculent. There has been skirmishing in the Bannu Saidgi areas of the Tochi.

COAL MINES RE-OPENING.

After the signing of the peace agreement on Friday the miners' Executive were in session at the London headquarters on Saturday to clear up the agenda. Work in the mines will be in progress in many places to-day.

COAL DECONTROL AND SUPPLIES.

The Mines Department announces that the emergency regulations necessitated by the recent coal dispute have now expired. Consequently all restrictions imposed by these regulations and by the Coal (Emergency) Directions on the movement, distribution, or consumption of coal (whether British or imported) are at an end from to-day. No permit is now required for the shipment of coal either for bunkers or export so far as the Mines Department is concerned. The usual requirements of the Customs are, of course, not affected.

The public is reminded that the Coal Mines (De-Control) Act, 1921, came into force on 31st March last, and that from that date the coal industry was completely de-controlled. With the withdrawal, therefore, of the emergency regulations, it follows that consumers must depend entirely on their own arrangements for supplies, and all questions of price will be governed by the conditions of the market.

Notwithstanding the resumption of work at the pits to-day, it must be borne in mind that sufficient supplies of coal are not likely to be available until the pits are in full operation again, and this may take some time after a stoppage of over three months. In the meantime, some of the foreign coal bought by the Government to meet urgent needs is still available for consumers unable to meet their needs from British coal. Application for such coal should be made promptly to the Government factors.

THE KING AND THE GUARDS.

There was a scene of great splendour at the Horse Guards Parade on Saturday morning, when the King presented new colours to eight battalions of the Brigade of Guards.

A printed address from His Majesty was handed to each man on parade. In this the King said that more than 250 years had passed since the regiments first met together. Since then they had fought together, generally with victory and always with honour, in many fields in all parts of the world.

LONDON AERIAL PAGEANT.

The King and Queen, Queen Alexandra, and other members of the Royal Family attended the great aerial pageant at Hendon on Saturday afternoon, and witnessed a thrilling series of aerial exhibitions, including battles between fighting aeroplanes and huge bombing machines, in which the latter were destroyed; the bombing and destruction of a village, and an attack on, and the destruction by fire of, observation balloons, from which the observer escaped in a parachute. There was an enormous crowd present. The airship R33 cruised over London during the early part of the day, and presented a brilliant spectacle in the clear atmosphere, with the sun shining on its silvered surface. The airship afterwards cruised over the aerodrome vicinity, and Pressmen on board sent messages by wireless telegraph, giving their impressions of the various scenes.

SIR JOHN ROSS, BART.

At a general Committee meeting of the College Historical Society, Trinity College, Dublin, held on Wednesday, the following resolution was proposed by the Auditor (Mr. R. Brereton-Barry), seconded by the ex-Auditor (Mr. Barry St. J. Galvin), and carried unanimously:—"We, the Committee of the College Historical Society, wish to extend our warmest congratulations to our President, Sir John Ross, on his appointment as Lord Chancellor of Ireland, to express our deep regret at Sir John's illness, and our earnest hope that he will shortly be restored to health."

THE LATE LADY RANDOLPH CHURCHILL.

The remains of the late Lady Randolph Churchill were removed on Saturday morning from London and forwarded to Bladon, Oxfordshire, for interment, a grave having been secured close behind that in which Lord Randolph Churchill was buried. The funeral party was small, and was virtually restricted to members of the family. At the same hour a Service was held at St. Margaret's, Westminster. The King and Queen and the Prime Minister were represented.

MR. MASSEY AND HIS OLD SCHOOLFELLOW.

There was an interesting meeting at Forest Hill, London, on Saturday afternoon, of two old Ulster schoolboys—the Right Hon. W. F. Massey, Prime Minister of New Zealand, and Mr. George Lowry Moore.

Mr. Moore was giving a garden party at his residence, Cedar Lodge, Honor Oak road, Forest Hill, and it was attended, among others, by Mr. and Mrs. Massey. In the course of an amusing speech, the Colonial Premier said that Mr. Moore fifty years ago was a big schoolboy at Limavady when he (the speaker) was a very little one. When he reached London Mr. Moore called on him, and although they had not met for forty or fifty years Mr. Massey at once recognised his old schoolfellow, and they soon fell to talking about Ulster. Referring to New Zealand, Mr. Massey said that that country was the most British of the whole Empire. Their immigration laws were the most drastic, and it was their intention to rear purely British stock in the Southern Hemisphere, and to do for that part of the globe what the people of Britain had done for the North.

WEATHER FORECAST.

General Inference.—The anti-cyclone to the north-westward of these islands will maintain fine or fair weather generally, probably for some days, with winds from the North and the North-East.

Ireland, N.W., N.E., S.E., and S.W.—Light North or North-East winds; fair or fine generally; visibility fair or good; rather high temperature, except at some coast stations.

BALDONNELL PUMPING STATION.

SOUTH DUBLIN COUNCIL AND THE MILITARY.

A report supplied by the South Dublin Rural District Council states that at a meeting of the Council, held on 2nd instant, the Clerk reported having received a telephone message during the week from Dublin Castle regarding damage done to the pumping station at Baldonnell Aerodrome, and, having interviewed Lieutenant-Colonel Brown, the Clerk learned that a statement of the damage done would be furnished later to the Council.

The Clerk placed before the meeting a claim for malicious injury to the amount of £60 for damage to the pumping station at Baldonnell, Clondalkin. He also submitted the report of the Council's Engineer (who inspected the damage), and the following letter:—

"Headquarters, Dublin District,
"Lower Castle Yard,
"Dublin, 29th July, 1921.

"GENTLEMEN,—Confirming the interview between the Competent Military Authority, Dublin District, and Mr. Gallagher, Clerk to your Council of this morning, I am directed to inform you that you will be required to furnish full particulars regarding the distribution of the Rathmines water supply in the district administered by you to a military officer who will call upon you shortly.

"I am further directed to say that you are hereby required to facilitate the repairs to the pumping station supplying Baldonnell and Tallaght Aerodromes, near Clondalkin, which was recently damaged by ill-disposed persons.

"The Competent Military Authority also wishes you to understand that they will hold the Council responsible for any further interference with the water supply to the forces of the Crown within the area administered by the South Dublin Rural District Council.

"It is understood that a Council meeting will be called immediately with a view to the above being laid before them.

"Will you kindly acknowledge receipt of this communication?—Yours faithfully,
"A. G. M. BROWNE, Lt.-Colonel,
"A.Q.M.G., Dublin District."

After the reading of the report and the above letter a discussion took place.

Councillor O'Connell—Are the Council entitled to give the information asked for in paragraph 1?

The Chairman—The information asked for may be supplied, since Baldonnell and Tallaght Aerodromes are fairly large consumers of water supplied from the Council's mains, and, while we are on this matter, the Council will remember that a very large sum is still due by the Air Ministry for water supplied to the aerodromes during the past nine months.

Councillor O'Gorman—What is meant by "to facilitate repairs"?

The Chairman—The words are general and vague.

Councillor Flood—What is our agreement with the Air Ministry?

The Chairman—Under the existing agreement, made 24th March, 1920, between the Council and the Air Ministry, the consumers are responsible for the proper maintenance of the pumping station, machinery, and appliances, and the South Dublin Rural District Council is not responsible for damage to machinery or repair to same.

Councillor Flood—How can the Competent Military Authority hold us responsible?

The Chairman—This Council repudiates any responsibility which the military authorities seek to impose upon it. It is probably intended to assist Lloyd George in his new peace move for the better government of this country.

ROYAL COLLEGE OF PHYSICIANS OF IRELAND.

THE HOSPITALS' GRANT.

At a meeting of the President and Fellows of the Royal College of Physicians of Ireland, held on Friday, the 1st July, 1921, the following resolution was carried unanimously. Resolved:—"The President and Fellows of the Royal College of Physicians of Ireland can find no justification for the refusal of the Government to give any financial relief to the voluntary hospitals of Ireland, while making a grant of £500,000 to the voluntary hospitals of Great Britain; the grant is intended, not as a provision for the future, but to relieve the hospitals from the position of difficulty to which they have been brought by the abnormal economic conditions of the past few years, conditions which pressed as heavily on hospitals in Ireland as on those in Great Britain. The President and Fellows, therefore, urge upon the Government the justice of making a grant to the Irish voluntary hospitals similar to that promised to the British voluntary hospitals."

BOARD OF NATIONAL EDUCATION, IRELAND.

CHURCH OF IRELAND TEACHERS AND DUBLIN UNIVERSITY.

The usual fortnightly meeting of the Board of National Education, Ireland, was held on Tuesday last. The following Commissioners were present:—Right Hon. Sir Stanley Harrington, J.P.; Lt.-Col. Right Hon. Lord Frederick FitzGerald, Most Rev. Patrick Foley, D.D., Roman Catholic Bishop of Kildare and Leighlin; Right Rev. Maurice Day, D.D., Bishop of Clogher; Right Rev. Robert Miller, D.D., Bishop of Cashel and Waterford; Robert Donovan, B.A.; William E. Thrift, M.A., F.T.C.D., M.P.; Denis Holland, J.P.; Rev. James Bingham, M.A., D.D.; William Parr, Right Hon. Sir Andrew Beattie, D.L.; Rev. William Gordon Strahan, B.A.; Rev. William Henry Smyth, M.A., with A. N. Bonaparte Wyse, M.A., Secretary, in attendance.

The chair was taken by Sir Stanley Harrington.

Miss Margaret Currell and Miss Evelyn Ryan were appointed Vice-Principals in the Central Girls' Model School.

A letter from the Treasury was submitted, in which their lordships signify their approval of a scheme under which students of the Church of Ireland Training College will in future receive instruction in literary and scientific subjects in Trinity College, Dublin.

A Committee of the Board received representatives of the Women's National Health Association and other organisations and persons interested in evening school work, and, after hearing their proposals for the improvement of the existing regulations for evening schools, it was decided to apply to the Treasury for authority to increase the present fees, and to amend in certain respects the conditions on which grants are payable to these schools in large urban centres.

DROWNED WHILE BATHING.

Some youths were bathing in the river Leven, Dumbarton, yesterday afternoon, when one was seized with cramp. Two others went to his assistance, and all three were drowned.

William John Morris and Vivian James Simmonds, both 18, were drowned while bathing at Swanbridge on Saturday, whilst on an outing of the Rambling Club, of Woodville road Baptist Church, Cardiff. A little boy, an eye-witness, said that they "bobbed under," and he thought they were joking. When the bodies were recovered later in the evening Simmonds's foot was entangled in rock and seaweed. It is thought that Morris, who could not swim, might have tried to free Simmonds, and himself became involved.

MR. RUNCIMAN AND THE GOVERNMENT.

Mr. Walter Runciman, at the conference of the Northern Liberal Federation at Newcastle on Saturday, said that pleasure and frivolity in many quarters had taken the place of hard thinking, as had levity in the ranks of the Government. The first step of a progressive House of Commons must be to adopt the Liberal principle of freedom of exchange. We could not grow rich in England by maintaining the poverty of Germany. By legislative enactment the Government wished to prevent the sale of commodities by which Germany could alone make her reparations.

MR. M'CURDY AND THE COALITION.

Mr. McCurdy, Chief Coalition Whip, was entertained to luncheon on Saturday by some leading Liberals at Northampton. He devoted his speech to defending his action as a Coalitionist. He denied that the Government was responsible for the Coalition. It was forced upon them by the action, in 1918, of some Socialist pacifists and some Liberal members of Parliament who withdrew their support from Mr. Lloyd George in the most critical hour of British history.

FATAL SHOOTING ACCIDENTS.

Mr. John McDonald, of Westfield, a well-known West Lothian farmer, was found dead, having been accidentally shot through his gun exploding while he was crossing a gate to shoot crows.

Lieutenant-Colonel J. R. Harvey, D.S.O., former Mayor of Norwich, was found shot dead in the grounds of his residence, Thorpe St. Andrew, Norwich, on Saturday evening. He went out rat-shooting, and half an hour later was discovered with a wound in his head. It is believed that he met with the fatal accident while getting over a wire fence.

IRISH BY-ELECTION.

UNIONIST RETURNED FOR MID-DOWN.

Colonel R. G. Sharman-Crawford (Unionist) was returned without opposition on Saturday for Mid-Down.

SPECIAL EXTRA.

FROM "THE TIMES" OF TO-DAY.

THE DUBLIN CONFERENCE.

In the course of a leading article dealing with to-day's Conference between Mr. de Valera and the four Southern Unionists, The Times observes:—Our Dublin message shows what Ireland, as a whole, hopes and expects from their (the Unionists) mediation. Though the great majority of the Irish people have placed their immediate interests in the hands of the Sinn Fein leader and of his colleagues, though they are probably willing to abide by any policy which he may declare to be necessary, it may be assumed that he is fully aware of the disappointment which an entirely uncompromising attitude on his part would occasion throughout Ireland and beyond her shores. Neither the Roman Catholic Church, nor the forces of Labour, nor the farming community in Ireland can be wholly averse from a reasonable settlement—such a settlement, indeed, as is within the grasp of Irish statesmanship. Should Mr. de Valera require further sacrifices from the people of Ireland for the sake of the difference between an Irish Republic and a status virtually equivalent to that of the Dominions, his hold upon them might in the long run be severely tested. They, at least, could demand with justice to be consulted upon this new issue before it were irrevocably decided. Pending the result of to-day's Conference, the British Government cannot be expected to define their own attitude more clearly than they defined it by implication when they invited Mr. de Valera and his colleagues to meet them and the representatives of Ulster in London. But in some respects the issue for the Government and for the people of this country is not less grave than it is for Ireland herself. We are not merely passive spectators of a contest that does not concern us directly. We are active participants, directly and poignantly interested. Therefore, our part in it cannot be altogether dependent on what Mr. de Valera may or may not do. His action may determine our conduct to some extent, but in the last resort we, too, possess the right—nay, the duty—of initiative.

REPRIEVE FOR AIRSHIPS.

The doom of the airship is fixed for August 18th, observes The Times. On that date, failing some form of rescue, the British airships will be handed over to the Disposal Board, the staffs will be dismissed, and more than £40,000,000 worth of material and accumulated experience will be thrown into the gutter. It is almost inconceivable that some form of rescue for the airship should not be found. But if it is not found the decision of the Government is irrevocable. On Thursday last the Secretary of State for Air announced that the final date on which the Government would be responsible for the airships and for the staff is August 18th. Is there no hope of rescue? inquires The Times. This is a matter which concerns the Dominions as much as, if not more than, Great Britain. The Dominion Premiers, by great good fortune, are here at the very moment when the decision of the British Government to "scrap" the airship comes nearer day by day, and are to discuss formally the question of Empire communications. It is for them to decide whether they will share in preventing that decision from operating. None in this country will suggest that their full right of decision should be touched in any way. But common sense suggests that their interest in airship possibilities is immediate and important, and they are not the men to allow these possibilities to be quenched without serious consideration of the part which they may take in testing them.

LORD EUSTACE CECIL.

In an obituary notice of Lord Eustace Cecil, who died yesterday morning, The Times says:—Born on April 24, 1834, he was the third son of the second Marquis of Salisbury, and only surviving brother of the late Prime Minister. His advanced age has much exceeded that of any member of either the Exeter or Salisbury branches of the Cecil family since the days of Lord Burghley (1520-'98), including the first Earl of Exeter, who lived to be 79. Lord Eustace's mother was Frances Mary, daughter and heiress of Bamber Gascoyne, and was a friend of the great Duke of Wellington. It was while the duke was still Commander-in-Chief that Lord Eustace, after passing through Harrow and Sandhurst, obtained his commission as ensign in the 43rd Regiment of the Line in 1851. After serving in Ireland, Kaffraria and Southern India he was transferred to the Coldstream Guards, joining at Sebastopol his new regiment, with which he saw active service during the second winter of the Crimean War.

PRESIDENT HARDING'S MESSAGE.

To-day is "the glorious fourth," the birthday of American Independence, and The Times publishes an American number, which is presented free with every copy. President Harding, in a congratulatory message, says:—"In the development of civilisation, in the extension over ever-widening areas of the earth's surface of the idea of law as the bedrock of liberty, the two great English-speaking peoples have played a part of immeasurable importance. The splendour of past achievement should, and must, be an inspiration to continued effort. Our complementary power for good, however, can only be exerted in full beneficence if there be mutual understanding not only of national hopes and ideals, but of national problems and difficulties. Such an edition as The Times is to publish, in which American questions will be discussed by eminent Americans, must promote such understanding."

COAL AND TRAINS AGAIN.

A load is lifted from the country to-day, remarks The Times, when, after three months' idleness, the miners resume work. Last week, writing on the International Chamber of Commerce, we insisted on the truism, that the prosperity of any nation depends on the prosperity of all the nations. The interdependence of national industries is a truth even plainer. It is plainest of all with regard to coal, our leading export, the raw material of most other industries, and still the chief source of energy for transport by rail and by sea. Everyone lost by the coal strike, directly or indirectly, in money and in convenience. The greatest rejoicing will take place over the restoration of passenger traffic by rail. Doubtless, it was a high adventure to go from London to the sea by road—an adventure that will attract many, but we do not all or always travel for pleasure. Very gladly do we welcome back the smooth and swift train, with its corridors, restaurant cars, and sleeping berths, and through the broad windows of plate glass we shall find again a scenic panorama changing rapidly in the agreeable modern fashion, to be enjoyed or to be ignored as we please. We are discovering anew the advantage of railway travel.

BELGIAN ROYAL VISIT.

MESSAGE TO THE BRITISH NATION.

Reuter's Correspondent in Brussels telegraphed yesterday:—The King and Queen of the Belgians started on their visit to England this evening, leaving the Palace at five minutes to seven o'clock in the Royal train for Ostend, where they will embark to-morrow. Their Majesties are accompanied by a numerous suite, including the Prime Minister.

KING OF BELGIUM'S MESSAGE.

Reuter's Special Correspondent with the King and Queen of the Belgians has received from His Majesty the following message to the British nation on the occasion of his first State visit:—

"In visiting Great Britain, I wish to express to the great and noble British nation my deep admiration for her magnificent past, and my faith in her high destiny. My country will for ever remain grateful to Great Britain for having resolutely entered the conflict in consequence of the violation of Belgian neutrality.

"Belgium will never forget the fraternal welcome given to her refugees in British homes during the war. The Belgian Army is proud to have fought side by side with the heroic battalions of England, Scotland, and Ireland, and with those of the powerful Dominions and Colonies beyond the seas, which, under the protection of the glorious British Navy, brought to Europe in her hour of danger the help of their valiant youth. All were animated with the spirit of sacrifice which knows no limit.

"Over one hundred and fifty thousand sleep around Ypres. The gratitude and respect of generations will surround their memory. The Queen and I cherish the earnest hope that our visit to the august Sovereigns of this friendly nation may bear testimony to our profound desire to see the bonds uniting Great Britain and Belgium ever drawn closer."

BRITISH FORCES IN THE EAST.

A Malta telegram, dated Saturday, says:—Movements of His Majesty's ships from Malta towards the East continue. To-day's departure consists of the hospital ship Barbice, and the collier Agnes Duncan, whilst the destroyers Tribune, Torch, and Sparrowhawk are leaving to-morrow; the Admiralty tug Stissey on Monday, the destroyer depôt ship Blenheim, and the destroyer Swallow follow on Wednesday. All are going to Constantinople. The destroyer Sirdar is proceeding to Corfu on Monday.

It is authoritatively stated that five infantry battalions may be expected to arrive towards the end of September. This means the addition of one battalion to the pre-war establishment of the island.

TERRIBLE FIRE IN GLASGOW.

ARGYLE STREET BUILDINGS DESTROYED.

TWO FIREMEN KILLED.

Enormous damage was caused by a fire which occurred in Argyle street, Glasgow, on Saturday night, and which raged fiercely yesterday forenoon. Two firemen lost their lives through being buried in the débris. The outbreak originated in a huge block of warehouses, etc., which extend from the ground floor up several flats. The building runs through a section of Miller street, where a branch of the Bank of Scotland occupies part of the premises. The whole of this large area was absolutely gutted, and the building is in ruins.

Contingents of firemen from all stations were summoned, but owing to the inflammable contents the buildings soon resembled a colossal furnace. Two firemen, James Farquharson and Fred. True, married men, attached to the Western Division, were engaged on the roof when it collapsed, and they fell among the débris. Their mangled bodies were not recovered till noon yesterday.

Two other fires broke out further along the main thoroughfare, and considerable damage was done, amounting, it is estimated, to a quarter of a million.

Situated in one of the busiest parts of Glasgow, Argyll street was crowded with people on Saturday night. The outbreak was observed at Bowman's stores, while business was still in progress. The cry of "fire" rang through the big establishment, and the staff and customers scurried into the streets as the flames spread with remarkable rapidity. Many of the girls and women became hysterical, but all escaped without mishap, many leaving behind their coats and hats.

When the fire brigade arrived two minutes later the flames were shooting high into the air, and were eating their way into the heart of the stores. Five firemen were on the fourth, or top, flat when the interior of the building collapsed, and the men, falling inwards to the bottom, were buried beneath the débris. Three were extricated with much difficulty, and after treatment at the hospital were able to be removed to their homes. True, who was killed, was 52 years of age. He lost his wife three months ago. Farquharson, the other victim, was 36.

ANGLO-JAPANESE TREATY.

POSITION DEFINED.

Reuter's Agency states that there seems to be so many misapprehensions regarding the present position of the Anglo-Japanese Treaty of Alliance that it may be as well to state the facts.

The Note sent by the League of Nations last July was regarded by the Law Officers of the Crown, but not by Lord Curzon, as constituting a denunciation of that instrument, and accordingly the Treaty would, if this creed prevailed, cease to exist this month. Hence the proposal to extend its operation for three months in order to allow of the necessary discussions regarding the future to be completed. Japan was, of course, informed at the time of the view of the British Law Officers and the Dominions also were perfectly cognisant of this veiw, which, however, was never agreed to by Japan, who held that the Note did not constitute a denunciation.

This position obtained until a day or two ago when the Lord Chancellor, the highest Law Officer of the Crown, reversed the previous decision of the other Law Officers, and held that the Note did not constitute a denunciation, a view which was held by Lord Curzon from the beginning.

This change of view by Great Britain has been notified to Japan, and as the Treaty, even if denounced, would automatically run for another year, the question of the proposed three months' extension has been dropped.

AMERICA AND PEACE WITH GERMANY.

A Washington telegram, dated Friday, states:—The Congress has completed the enactment of a compromise resolution ending a state of war between the United States and Germany and Austria. The measure will now go to President Harding, who is expected to sign it.

During a spirited debate preceding the vote, Senator Brandegee, Republican, replying to a question, expressed the belief that the enactment of the resolution would result in the withdrawal of the American troops from Germany.

Senator McKellar (Democrat) demanded to know whether the design of the Republican was not to have the resolution followed by a Treaty of Peace with Germany, to which Senator Brandegee replied that it was not, but that a Treaty of Commerce and the passage of the resolution would bring peace.

Senator Lodge, replying to another question, said that he knew of no plan by the Administration to submit the Treaty of Versailles to the Senate.

A New Jersey telegram, dated Saturday, says:—The resolution of Congress declaring the war with Germany and Austria-Hungary at an end was signed to-day by President Harding, who is spending a holiday here.

SOME STAGE LOVERS.

REALISM AND REALITY.

Discussing the joylessness of the ultra-modern play, of which the lack of exaltation in its love-making is but one symptom, "A Playgoer" says in the Morning Post:—It does seem to me, and also to the woman companion I consult between acts (during them secretly watching her to see how a scene is affecting a creature at the same time more primitive and more subtle than myself), that a mania for dismalness has seized upon most of our thinking play-wrights. I suspect they caught the contagion of Slav depression through reading the stories of Anton Tchekhov (described to me the other day as the dramatist's story-teller) and his imitators. "Reading Anton Tchekhov's stories," wrote Maxim Gorky, "one feels oneself in a melancholy day of late autumn, when the air is transparent and the outline of naked trees, narrow houses, greyish people, is sharp. Everything is strange, lonely, motionless, helpless. The horizon, blue and empty, melts into the pale sky, and its breath is terribly cold upon the earth which is covered with frozen mud. The author's mind, like the autumn sun, shows up in hard outline the monotonous roads, the crooked streets, the little squalid houses in which tiny, miserable people are stifled by boredom and laziness, and fill the houses with an unintelligible, drowsy bustle." Banality of banalities; all is banality—such is the message of Tchekhov to the world of Western dramatists. And the Tchekhovitis they catch, as we used to catch the Russian influenza, is most depressing—especially in these days when supper after the theatre is impracticable, even if we could afford it.

The cold, calculating method of the young lovers is the greyest thing in their plays. So much so that she-who-must-be obeyed (because she won't obey, and there must be obedience if the world is to go on) wished that "The Blue Lagoon" was still running, so that we could go and rejoice in some true, triumphant, idyllic young love after every three spasms of dramatised Tchekhovitis. How the audience loved those young lovers, when Dick said, "Emmeline, you are so beautiful," and Emmeline replied, "Dick, you are beautiful and strong." Why, when the nasty, cynical castaway (washed ashore on the island out of a Maugham play, perhaps) threatened to break up the idyll, and young Emmeline passed her young lover the fishing spear, a wide-girdled matron in the row of stalls behind showed signs of rising like a toy-balloon and cried out: "Kill him, Dick! Kill him!" We all felt then that, after all, there is such a thing as mutual passion in this world—that, even if the almost universal rule is that one dares to kiss and the other endures the kissing, yet once in a golden while adoration is equal and apposite, and the white miracle of two souls as one flame lights up a century like Venus at her brightest in the evening sky. Yes, and there are humble, unsung loves which should have been historic—e.g., the mutual passion of a poor boy-clerk and a little servant girl who escaped from a cruel world, leaving a little bundle of love-letters behind them. "O, my queen," said one letter, "you are me all day." "I broke a teapot thinking of you," said another.

That is the kind of young love we want to see on the stage—for it is far closer to reality than any of the dreary, weary realism we get there. For it is the young love we see every spring-tide when lovers walk enlaced, not merely embraced, in sunlit suburban gardens. But what do we get from the victims of Tchekhovitis? In "The Skin Game" Mr. Galsworthy gave us two young lovers, who never kissed once—not even when they sadly decided they must take sides in the all-in contest between their families, and part for ever. Did Romeo and Juliet remember they were Montagu and Capulet? One kiss, and the feud was forgotten; it had never been. And even the fell division of Capital and Labour, deeper than any family feud, should count for nothing with young lovers. In "The Bill of Divorcement," again, Sidney throws off Kit for a scientific reason (if any), and who ever heard of such a thing in real (not realistic) life? So I—we—back the protest of your correspondent, and ask our dramatists to take heart of grace, and learn from the younglings around them, and let their young lovers talk in lyric passion to one another, as all would do if they could when the year and the heart's at the spring.

A Paris message says:—The Foreign Affairs Committee of the Senate has unanimously approved a report submitted by M. Reynal in favour of the ratification of the Treaty of Trianon (the Peace Treaty with Hungary).

PROSPECTS OF PEACE.

TO-DAY'S CONFERENCE IN DUBLIN.

The Dublin Mansion House will to-day be a centre of the keenest interest in view of the Conference to be held there upon the subject of an Irish peace. Admittedly the occasion is one of great importance, and much may depend upon the discussions which will take place. The Conference, which is called at the instance of Mr. de Valera, will meet at 12 o'clock.

In addition to himself there will be present four representatives of Southern Unionism, namely—The Earl of Midleton, Sir Robert Woods, M.P.; Sir Maurice Dockrell, M.P., and Mr. Andrew Jameson. The purpose of the Conference is not, of course, to settle the Irish question, but to prepare the way for the larger meeting in Downing street, to which Mr. Lloyd George has bidden the Sinn Fein leader and Sir James Craig, the Premier of Northern Ireland, with any of their followers whom they may choose to bring with them.

GENERAL SMUTS.

During the last two days a rumour was current in Dublin that General Smuts, the South African Premier, had arrived in Dublin.

As to this rumour, we are able to state authoritatively that it is not a fact. What is true, however, is that General Smuts's private secretary was in Dublin last week, and during his brief stay of one day saw important people from Dublin Castle, and also representatives of Sinn Fein.

It is not improbable that General Smuts will himself visit Dublin shortly.

To-day's Conference probably will be held in the Drawingroom of the Mansion House. All the representatives of the Southern Unionists are in Dublin, and will be present. Lord Midleton and Sir Maurice Dockrell, who were in London, arrived in Dublin on Saturday.

THE LONDON CONFERENCE.

The following is the text of the Prime Minister's letter to Sir James Craig and Mr. de Valera:—

SIR,—The British Government are deeply anxious that, so far as they can assure it, the King's appeal for reconciliation in Ireland shall not have been made in vain. Rather than allow yet another opportunity of settlement in Ireland to be cast aside, they feel it incumbent upon them to make a final appeal in the spirit of the King's words for a conference between themselves and the representatives of Southern and Northern Ireland.

I write, therefore, to convey the following invitation to you as the chosen leader of the great majority in Southern Ireland, and to Sir James Craig, the Premier of Northern Ireland:—

(1) That you should attend a conference here in London, in company with Sir James Craig, to explore to the utmost the possibility of a settlement;

(2) That you should bring with you for the purpose any colleagues whom you may select. The Government will, of course, give a safe conduct to all who may be chosen to participate in the conference.

We make this invitation with a fervent desire to end the ruinous conflict which has for centuries divided Ireland and embittered the relations of the peoples of these two islands, who ought to live in neighbourly harmony with each other, and whose co-operation would mean so much, not only to the Empire but to humanity.

We wish that no endeavour should be lacking on our part to realise the King's prayer, and we ask you to meet us, as we will meet you, in the spirit of conciliation for which His Majesty appealed.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,
(Signed). D. LLOYD GEORGE.

SUNDAY PRESS AND THE DUBLIN CONFERENCE.

Mr. Garvin, writing in the Observer, London, yesterday, on to-day's conference, says:—"If any words of ours could reach the Sinn Fein leaders during the next twenty-four hours we would urge them to know their moment. The test of constructive statesmanship is now upon them. Between that and aimless, impotent destructiveness they must choose. Sinn Fein has been the climax of the Irish genius for agitation. Until that lower though brilliant kind of genius can rise to the level and capacity of moderating and stabilising statesmanship no good future can open and nothing but irreparable catastrophe can come upon the land. Present methods are tearing Ireland asunder. They can destroy Ireland by next steps, but can never make it. They are leading straight towards a double St. Bartholomew in North and South, followed or accompanied by the final grapple between anarchy and the army. If that happens the unity of Ireland will perish for ever. If the Sinn Fein leaders can only bring themselves to abandon now what is impossible in aim while disruptionist in method, and if they will recognise their chance to capitalise all that is sane in their success, the King's visit to Dublin at no distant date would inaugurate an all-Ireland Senate superimposed on two Parliaments like the dome on St. Paul's."

"Scrutator," in the Sunday Times says:—"It is a great pity that Sir James Craig did not accept the invitation to Dublin like his Southern Unionist colleagues, and his reply that he could not go to a Dublin conference because he had already promised to go to London misses the whole point of the invitation. Irishmen have a much better chance of agreeing with each other when we are not there to interfere; if we do not think that, no Home Rule Act has any right to be on the Statute Book. And after all, Sir James Craig has already had one private conference with Mr. de Valera, and a second, with the Southern Unionists there, too, could have done no harm. It is, therefore, to be hoped that he will change his mind and accept."

PRAYERS FOR PEACE.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH, DUBLIN.

St. Andrew's Church (the church of the Irish Parliament), Suffolk street, Dublin, will be open all day to-day for any who wish to offer prayer in it for our country at this anxious moment in our history. A short Service of Intercession will be held at 11 o'clock and at 4.30 o'clock.

CHRIST CHURCH, LEESON PARK.

A short Service of Intercession for the Irish leaders who meet in conference at the Mansion House to-day, and for our country, will be held in Christ Church, Leeson Park, Dublin, this morning from 10.45 to 11.15 o'clock.

THE METHODIST CHURCH.

The President of the Methodist Conference (Rev. H. Shire, Youghal), telegraphs:—"The Methodist Church unites with other religious bodies in praying that the happiest issues may result from the meeting on Monday."

THE CHURCHES AND THE PREMIER'S INVITATION.

The following letter has been addressed to Mr. Lloyd George:—

"We, the undersigned members of different branches of the Christian Church, desire to express our profound thankfulness for the appeal which you have addressed to the Irish leaders to attend a conference. We realise the gravity of the issue involved in this proposal, both for Great Britain and Ireland, and urge that every endeavour be made to facilitate the calling of the conference, which, we trust, may be inspired with a spirit that is above party or sectional considerations. In our belief a settlement is only possible when based on fundamental Christian principles. It is our earnest hope that the conference may be held in the peaceful atmosphere of a truce, and may be supported by the prayers of both peoples."

Among those who have signed the document are:—The Marchioness of Aberdeen and Temair, Lady Frances Balfour, Lord Henry Cavendish Bentinck, Dr. Burge, Bishop of Oxford; Dr. J. P. A. Bowers, Bishop of Thetford; Roger Clark, Chairman of the Society of Friends; Dr. F. J. Chevasse, Bishop of Liverpool; Mrs. Mary Coulthard, Hon. Sec. League of Peace for Ireland; Lady Courtney of Penwith, George L. Davies, Dr. Moore Ede, Dean of Worcester; Edith M. Ellis, Committee on Ireland of the Society of Friends; Dr. A. E. Garvie, Principal, New College, Hampstead; Rev. R. C. Gillie, Chairman, National Free Church Council; Rev. F. O. T. Hawkes, Rector of Lambeth; Arthur Henderson, Sec., Labour Party; Dr. R. F. Horton, Dr. J. A. Kempthorne, Bishop of Lichfield; Hon. Emily Kinnaird, Rev. P. T. R. Kirk, Gen. Director Industrial Christian Fellowship; Dr. J. Scott Lidgett, Lady Emily Lutyens, Rev. Basil Martin, Rev. Hugh Martin, Assistant Sec., Student Christian Movement; Miss Dorothy Maud, Sec., Life and Liberty Movement; C. E. Maurice, Dr. F. B. Meyer, William F. Nicholson, Sec., Society of Friends; Dr. W. E. Orchard, Lord Parmoor of Frieth, M. Sidney Parry, Dr. R. St. John Parry, Trinity College, Cambridge; Miss A. Maude Royden, Dr. W. Temple, Bishop of Manchester.

NORTHERN LABOUR MINISTER'S VIEWS.

Speaking at a meeting of the Ulster Labour Unionist Association in Belfast on Saturday night, Mr. J. M. Andrews, Labour Minister in the Northern Government, said that their new Government received two great surprises during the first week of its coming into existence. In the first place last Sunday morning Sir James Craig received a request from Mr. Lloyd George that he should go to London for a Conference in order to try to settle the Irish question. That was asking a great deal, but they came to the conclusion—he though tightly, all things considered—that they could not refuse that request, because it came from the Prime Minister of the Imperial Parliament, to which they in Ulster, he took it, were always prepared to yield loyal allegiance. In the second place they felt that they ought to agree to go to London, because they could not help, remembering that there were also those loyal men and women throughout the South and West of Ireland who were living in a state of terrorism which made life not only a burden but not worth living, and who were looking to Ulster to help them out of their present difficulties and dangers. The other reason why they took that step was that they felt that if there was to be a conference in London they ought to be there in order to uphold Ulster's interests, and to see that her liberties were not interfered with to the smallest extent. A few days later another surprise packet was thrown at them. Sir James got a request to go to Dublin to a conference organised by de Valera and his crew. Well, Sir James Craig, with the approval not only of his Cabinet, but of every loyal man and woman throughout the province, refused to go.

Continuing, Mr. Andrews said:—If they want to hold a conference in Dublin let them hold it, and if they want to give Ireland peace let them give her peace. It is up to them, not to us. If they want peace, why do they not function their Parliament, and bring it into being, and legislate in that Parliament with the same spirit of determination, loyalty, and tolerance as we propose to do? Why do they not bury the hatchet, and let us go forward constitutionally, according to the law of the land, and make Ireland the happy, prosperous country that it should be? They forget that the Council of Ireland is there for the express purpose of bringing Irishmen of all opinions into one body, and I cannot for the life of me see what good can come of this conference in Dublin. I tell them to-night that Ulster has nothing more to give, and that Ulster is going to give nothing more.

NUMEROUS AMBUSHES.

SEVEN POLICEMEN DEAD.

SHOCKING CRIME IN COUNTY SLIGO.

A KIDNAPPED CONSTABLE'S FATE.

An official report issued in Dublin on Saturday is as follows:—

At half-past eleven o'clock yesterday a cycle patrol of seven constables from Dromore West was ambushed at Culleens, six miles south-west of Dromore, by two different parties of ambushers, separated a few hundred yards from each other, and Constable Carley was wounded in both arms by one of the ambush parties. Constables King and Higgins, who were leading, were taken prisoners by the other party of ambushers. The four remaining constables opened fire on their attackers, and while the fight was going on a passing motor car was "commandeered" by the constables and sent to Easkey for reinforcements. The ambushers, who arrested Constables King and Higgins, took them away towards Glenesk Mountains.

In the meantime, the remaining four constables were being held at bay by the second ambush party. In response to wires from the District Inspector at Easkey reinforcements of police and military from Sligo and Ballina quickly arrived at the scene, and pursued the ambushers who had arrested Constables King and Higgins. A running fight ensued, and was kept up till six o'clock in the evening. The police and military encircled a wide district of country, and as the ambushers, going towards the mountain, were being fired on, they murdered their prisoners, Constable King and Higgins. Some of the ambushers were seen to fall in the bogs, and it is believed that a number of them were killed. The remainder of the ambushers, in their flight, scattered, and became mixed up with people who were cutting turf, and made good their escape. During the fight some horses and cattle were killed by the fire. The Crown forces eventually abandoned the fight when they considered that further pursuit was useless. The four constables who were uninjured succeeded in retaining their arms.

Telegraphing on Saturday, our Sligo Correspondent says:—Another fatal ambush took place in County Sligo yesterday. It occurred at the extreme end of the county, and it is difficult to secure the exact details. It appears that a party of policemen from Dromore West were cycling in extended formation along the main road between their barrack and Ballina during the afternoon, when they were attacked by a body of armed men who were under cover. One version states that they were poteen hunting in the Culleens Mountains, while another is to the effect that they were on their way to investigate a raid on a post office in the district, having, it is alleged, received a decoy message. The country is very wild and open, and as the patrol came up heavy rifle fire was directed upon them. The three leading members of the patrol were shot down, Constables King and Higgins being killed, and Constable Carley wounded. The other members of the patrol immediately engaged their attackers, and a fight ensued. A large party of Crown forces from Sligo, accompanied by a military ambulance and doctors, left for the scene. The attackers are supposed to have got away. There is also a report that there were some casualties on the Republican side, and that one man was arrested.

ANOTHER REPORT.

Our Ballina Correspondent telegraphs:—A patrol of policemen, numbering seven, was cycling to the house of a man in the district to investigate an alleged robbery of £300, when heavy fire was opened on them from both sides of the road, Constable Carley being seriously wounded. Two other constables, named Higgins and King, natives of the County Galway, were captured and disarmed by the ambushers. The four remaining policemen succeeded in making good their escape. The two captured constables were led into the mountains by the rebels, and in the evening their dead bodies, riddled with bullets, were found by a search party. Crown forces, drawn from all over Mayo and Sligo, scoured the mountains throughout the evening, and heavy firing was heard, but the police returned without finding the whereabouts of the ambushers. A man has been arrested.

AMBUSH AT OOLA.

TWO POLICEMEN KILLED.

Dublin Castle reported as follows yesterday: While investigating the burning of a number of goods on the railway line at Oola, in the New Pallas district of County Limerick, yesterday morning, a party of Royal Irish Constabulary, under a sergeant, were ambushed.

Sergeant A. Johnstone and Constable W. E. Hill were killed.

Constables W. G. Noyce, S. T. Symmons, and R. B. Kneale were seriously wounded; and Constables Kennard and Synnott were slightly wounded. The police returned the fire, and the attackers subsequently withdrew. It is not known if they suffered any casualties.

Sergeant Johnstone's home is at Mountmellick. Constable Hill's home is 56 Cardia street, Liverpool.

A telegram from Tipperary states:—Armed men "held up" a goods train between Oola and Limerick Junction about 10 o'clock on Saturday morning, and burned two wagon loads of military stores. A police patrol from Oola, coming along the railway to the scene, were attacked with bombs and rifles. Sergeant Johnson and Constable Hill were killed, and the following five constables were wounded:—Kennard, Queen's County; Synnott, London; Kneale, Manchester; Noyce, Salisbury; and Symmons, South of England. The two men who were killed and three of the wounded men were conveyed to Limerick. The police appear to have been surprised and overpowered. There is no report of casualties among the attackers.

Our Limerick Correspondent says that a report was made to the police at Oola that military stores had been thrown out of a train on the line and burned, and a patrol went along the railway to make inquiries. They were attacked by about fifty armed men. They returned the fire. The attackers were on the railway bridge, and the police took cover underneath it. The firing went on for some time when the police endeavoured to return to Oola by the railway line, but they were unable to do so. Sergeant Andrew Johnson and Constable W. E. Hill, an Englishman, were shot dead, and five others were wounded. The dead and wounded were afterwards brought to Limerick, and later the slightly wounded returned to their station.

AMBUSH NEAR TALLOW.

POLICE CONSTABLE KILLED.

The following official report was issued by Dublin Castle yesterday:—

At 10.45 a.m. yesterday a party of ten Royal Irish Constabulary police, from Tallow, County Waterford, was ambushed near that place by a party of civilians concealed behind walls.

Heavy rifle and machine-gun fire was opened on the patrol, and Constable F. Creedon was killed. The police took cover and engaged their attackers, who made off.

There were no other casualties to the police. The rebel casualties are unknown.

COMMANDER KENWORTHY SUSPICIOUS.

A demonstration by the Women's Freedom League at Trafalgar square, London, on Saturday, attracted a large crowd, which was addressed from three platforms, by Lieutenant-Commander Kenworthy, M.P.; Lord Henry Cavendish Bentinck, M.P.; Major Barnes, M.P., and others.

Lieutenant-Commander Kenworthy urged those present not to be misled by the calling of the conference by Mr. Lloyd George into thinking that the whole matter would soon be settled. The Irish question would only be settled by the pressure of English public opinion forcing the British Government to treat Ireland fairly. The move with de Valera might only be a trick to provide an excuse to increase the severity of repression. Lord Henry Cavendish Bentinck also questioned the bonesty of the Government in making the offer.

SOLDIERS IN PERIL.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP TROOP TRAIN.

TIMELY ARRIVAL OF A PATROL.

BIG CAPTURE OF EXPLOSIVES.

Military Headquarters in Dublin issued the following on Saturday night:—

At about 2 p.m. on the 2nd July a military patrol of the South Lancashire Regiment surprised a number of rebels in the act of laying land mines on the Great Southern and Western Railway about one mile from Celbridge, evidently with the intention of blowing up a military troop train that was due to pass.

A fight ensued, resulting in the dispersal of the rebels, of whom six are believed to have been wounded. There were no military casualties.

Meanwhile warning had been sent to stop the troop train. The following material was captured by the troops:—

Six land mines in position on the railway,
Guncotton and gelignite,
100 yards of cable,
2 electrical cells,
1 box of detonators,
1 electrical exploder,
1 Ford car,
5 bicycles,
1 rifle,
2 shot guns,
About 300 rounds of .303 ammunition,
32 rounds revolver ammunition, and
1 mail bag full of letters.

YOUNG CORK MAN MURDERED.

SHOT DEAD NEAR HIS HOME.

A Dublin Castle report yesterday was as follows:—

At 10.30 p.m. on the 1st inst., Francis Sullivan, Rosscarbery, Co. Cork, was taken from his home by unknown men. His dead body was found on Saturday morning, half a mile from his home.

Our Clonakility Correspondent states that the report of Sullivan's death reached that town yesterday. Sullivan had been for some years in the employment of Miss Whitley, of Rosscarbery.

MILITARY AMBULANCE DISAPPEARS.

TWO SOLDIERS MISSING.

Our Tralee Correspondent telegraphs:—Anxiety is felt in Tralee regarding the fate of two soldiers who on Wednesday went with a Red Cross motor ambulance from Tralee to Ballyduff, North Kerry, to bring into Tralee Military Hospital two wounded constables.

No trace of the ambulance or of its occupants has so far been found.

SOLDIERS ATTACKED IN BELFAST.

FIRED AT IN THE VEGETABLE MARKET.

A report from Belfast states that there was an unsuccessful attempt to ambush a party of military in that city on Saturday morning. When the guard at a motor-repairing depot was returning to barracks fire was opened on their lorry in the Vegetable Market. The soldiers returned the fire, but apparently there were no casualties on either side. According to the story of an eye-witness, six men took part in the attack. Four of these men, who had been waiting for over an hour, opened fire from the top of an empty lorry in the Vegetable Market. Their companions took up a position near the entrance, but it is believed that few shots came from this group. There were dozens of people about at the time, and but for the fact that the soldiers fired over the heads of the crowd there would have been several casualties. The affair only lasted a few minutes. The police afterwards searched the markets and arrested a young man.

GALWAY VILLAGE AMBUSH.

THREE POLICEMEN WOUNDED.

An official report issued by Dublin Castle yesterday states:—

At 12 midnight on the 1st inst. a patrol of Royal Irish Constabulary was ambushed at Ballygar village, County Galway. Their assailants, who were concealed behind a wall, opened fire on them with revolvers, rifles, and shot-guns.

Sergeant Mangan and Constables Hughes and McElhinney were wounded, but not dangerously. The police returned the fire, and the attackers withdrew after half an hour. It is not known whether they suffered any casualties.

Our Tuam Correspondent says that Sergeant Mangan received a bullet wound in the shin, Constable Hughes had two bullet wounds in the leg, and Constable McElhinney had six or seven grains of shot in the face. Their wounds are not serious. The police party replied to the attack with rifle and grenade fire, and after half an hour the ambushers withdrew.

SOLDIER ACCIDENTALLY WOUNDED.

Private Ganley, King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry, was wounded in the leg through the accidental discharge of a rifle while aboard the London and North-Western Railway Company's express steamer Menevia, on the voyage from Holyhead on Saturday morning. He was taken to King George V. Hospital on his arrival in Dublin.

ADDITIONAL TROOPS IN IRELAND.

Battalions of the Duke of Cornwall's and the King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry arrived at the North Wall, Dublin, on Saturday morning, having come from Plymouth. The Cornwalls are for Richmond Barracks, Dublin, and the Yorkshires for the Curragh.

TROOPS' ARRIVAL IN DUBLIN.

On Saturday morning two of the London and North-Western Company's vessels—the express steamer Menevia and the cargo steamer Slievemore—brought from Holyhead to the North Wall upwards of 1,000 troops. The incoming troops were composed of the King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry and the Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry. Both battalions had travelled from Plymouth.

MORE MALICIOUS FIRES.

At half-past one o'clock on Friday the residence of Constable Griffin at Ballyiinane was maliciously destroyed by fire.

On Friday the Galway County Cricket Club pavilion was set on fire and destroyed. An I.R.A. notice was found near the scene of the fire. The charred remains of a man were afterwards found in the débris of the pavilion.

An attempt was made on Saturday to set fire to and destroy Birr Petty Sessions Courthouse, but the flames were extinguished before much damage was done to the building.

The residence of Colonel Head, Derrylahan, Roscrea district, Tipperary, was maliciously burned on Saturday night.

Our Clonakilty Correspondent states that the residence of Miss Whitley, daughter of the late Canon Whitley, which is adjacent to the police barrack at Clonakilty, was recently burned.

AN EX-SOLDIER'S EXPERIENCE.

Our Clonmel Correspondent states that an ex-Service man named Stone, who was kidnapped in Clonmel by armed men and carried off in a motor, has been released. He says. that he was "tried on charges and acquitted."

THE CLOSING OF TWO CREAMERIES.

Telegraphing yesterday our Clonmel Correspondent states—It is officially stated that the Cahir Creamery was closed because of the burning of Bengurrah House and also some food consigned to the troops. The reason for the closing of Outrath Creamery was that rebels took meat belonging to the Royal Irish Constabulary at Cashel.

A CONSTABLE'S ESCAPE IN COUNTY ROSCOMMON.

Dublin Castle announced officially yesterday that on the 30th ult. Constable Moffatt, Royal Irish Constabulary, was fired on by two armed men at Ballaghaderreen, County Roscommon. He returned the fire, and escaped uninjured.

ON THEIR WAY TO CHURCH.

TWO CONSTABLES SHOT NEAR NEWRY.

Our Newry Correspondent, telegraphing last evening, says:—This morning Special Constables Robert Heaney and Samuel McBreeha, of Mayobridge, while cycling to Divine Service in the Presbyterian Church, were ambushed on the public road at Finnard, a short distance from Mayobridge. Heaney was wounded in the stomach, and McBreeha in the head. They were attacked from both sides of the road, and were left apparently dead.

It is said that there were thirty men in the ambush, and the assailants are stated to have taken the constables' bicycles and revolvers. People who were on their way to church found the wounded policemen, and removed them to places of safety. Word was sent to Newry, and an armoured car and Crossley tenders were soon on the scene. Three young men were arrested. One young man, named Michael Mullan, of Finnard, who, it is said, tried to escape, was fired at and seriously wounded.

SHOT DEAD.

YOUNG CONSTABLE'S FATE IN COUNTY TIPPERARY.

Dublin Castle reports that on the evening of the 1st instant Constable Joseph Shelster, Royal Irish Constabulary, was shot dead at Barnlough, Co. Tipperary. His assailants took his revolver from him.

A report from Tipperary states that Constable Shelster, who was aged about 22, was a native of Camden Town, London, was unmarried, and had served in the war, having been stationed at Bansha for about a year and a half. He left the village alone at about 9 o'clock, and two hours later his body was found by a labourer on a by-road one hundred yards off the main road. It is stated that he was shot through the head. The police "commandeered" a private motor lorry, and conveyed the body to the barracks.

THE SHOOTING OF CONSTABLE O'LEARY.

The circumstances in which Constable Dennis P. O'Leary, Royal Irish Constabulary, was wounded on June 8th, at Carrickbeg, Co. Waterford, were investigated at a Military Court of Inquiry, held recently, in lieu of inquest. The evidence showed that on the evening of June 8th Constable O'Leary was cycling from Carrick-on-Suir, where he was stationed, to his lodgings in Carrickbeg. When he got to Carrickbeg two men, one of them holding a revolver, rushed out from the roadside. The man with the revolver went close up to Constable O'Leary and fired at him. The constable fell off the bicycle, and then the assailants ran over to him when he had fallen, and pointed the revolver at him as he lay on the ground. Shortly afterwards a patrol of police and military found the body of O'Leary lying where he had been shot. He was quite dead.

Medical evidence showed that the unfortunate man was wounded in the chest and thigh, and that death had been instantaneous.

The Court found that Constable O'Leary died from gun-shot wounds inflicted by some persons unknown, who are guilty of wilful murder.

The murdered man was about forty years old, and was married.

THE MURDER OF CONSTABLE BUDD.

The murder of Constable Edgar Budd, Royal Irish Constabulary, a native of Tichfield, Fareham, Hants, was investigated at a court of inquiry held at Kildysart, Co. Clare, recently.

Constable Budd, accompanied by another constable, was cycling from Ennis to Kildysart on May 26th. Both were in mufti, unarmed, and returning from leave. When near the village of Cooga six armed men appeared a short distance away and fired a volley at the two constables. Constable Budd was shot through the left temple with a charge from a shotgun. Death was instantaneous, the unfortunate man's left ear being blown off and his skull fractured. His companion, jumping off his bicycle, ran across the fields, hotly pursued by one of the assassins, who chased the constable for an hour, firing at him repeatedly with a shotgun. The constable managed to reach barracks safely, although he was slightly wounded in the hand, head, and leg.

The body of Edgar Budd was found by a police patrol lying on the road where he fell. The murdered man's boots had been stolen and his pockets searched. Both police bicycles were also missing.

The Court found that Constable Edgar Budd had been murdered by persons unknown. He was single and 23 years old.

MURDER NEAR KILWORTH.

The murder of Constable Joseph C. Holman, of 16 Warrior square, St. Leonard's-on-Sea, Sussex, which took place at Kilworth, Co. Cork, on June 1st, was investigated at a military court of inquiry which was held recently at Fermoy. Constable Holman was walking with a girl friend along a road near Kilworth, when a shot was fired from a plantation near the roadside. Constable Holman fell to the ground, wounded in the face, throat, and chest, at the same time attempting to draw his revolver, which dropped out of his hand. His companion, who was between Constable Holman and the spot from which the shot was fired, received three slight wounds, the charge evidently passing over her head. A doctor was immediately fetched, but the constable died almost at once.

The Court found that Constable Joseph C. Holman died from gunshot wounds, inflicted by some persons unknown, who are guilty of wilful murder.

A search was subsequently made of the ground near the scene of the murder, and signs were found in a neighbouring plantation of two or three persons having been there for some time. A prepared embrasure, in which one man could be quite hidden from sight, was also found in the bank on the side of the road. The constable's companion heard movements there before he was shot, but saw nobody.

Constable Holman was twenty-one years old and unmarried.

ATTEMPTED MURDER IN DUBLIN.

Further details of the attempt to murder ex-Staff Quartermaster-Sergeant Jerome O'Leary are given in a recent police report. It appears that Mr. O'Leary was standing at the corner of Gardiner's place and Mountjoy square reading a newspaper on the evening of June 28th. He heard footsteps approaching him, but did not take any notice, being interested in what he was reading. Some seven or eight shots were fired quite near to him, and he felt something strike him in the right side of his chest. He fell down, and heard some persons running away from him. Mr. O'Leary managed to struggle to the steps of his house, which is near the scene of the attempted murder. There he was found by the police, and was removed to hospital. Mr. O'Leary had never been threatened by any party. He is a married man, and has one child.

No information has been obtained as to who were the assailants. Police searched the place and found no traces of the outrage.

CIVILIAN SHOT IN A DITCH.

The circumstances in which John Cummins, of Ballyvoyle, Co. Cork, met his death, were investigated at a Military Court of Inquiry held at Fermoy recently. The evidence showed that on June 5th a party of military were searching the country round Ballyvoyle for arms immediately after an ambush. A civilian appeared lying in a ditch, with a firearm levelled in the direction of the approaching military. Two shots were fired at him, and when the patrol reached the body life was found to be extinct. The gun which the man had in his possession was loaded. This man was identified as John Cummins, aged 23, farmer, of Ballyvoyle.

Medical evidence showed that deceased had sustained two bullet wounds, one in the region of the heart, and one in the calf of his leg. Death was instantaneous.

The Court found that John Cummins was shot by Crown forces on June 5th in the neighbourhood of Ballyvoyle, in the act of offering armed resistance to the above-mentioned forces in the execution of their duties. No blame attaches to the Crown forces.

AUXILIARY POLICE ATTACKED.

FIGHT IN A TRAIN.

An official report states that on Saturday morning a party of the Auxiliary Division, Royal Irish Constabulary, was fired at by a number of armed men at Ardfert, County Kerry, while they were travelling in a train.

The Auxiliary police returned the fire, and one of the attackers was seen to fall. None of the police was injured.

Another report states:—Four cadets were travelling on a train from Tralee to Dublin on Saturday morning, when the train was "held up" at Ardfert Station by fifteen Sinn Feiners. The Sinn Feiners, who were unaware of the presence of the cadets, were armed with rifles and revolvers, and attempted to steal the mails. The cadets opened fire, and killed two. One of the cadets, an engineer in civil life, drove the train out of the station under heavy fire. The mails were saved, and the Crown forces sustained no casualties.

AMBUSH IN COUNTY KILDARE.

Dublin Castle reported yesterday as follows—At 3 p.m. on the 1st inst. a mixed party of Crown forces from Callan, Co. Kildare, was ambushed by a number of armed civilians concealed on a hill near Windgap. The Crown forces returned the fire, and beat off their attackers without casualties. The rebel casualties are unknown.

BOXING

WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP.

DEMPSEY RETAINS THE TITLE.

CARPENTIER KNOCKED OUT IN FOURTH ROUND,

AFTER 13 MINS. 16 SECS. FIGHTING.

FRENCHMAN BREAKS HIS THUMB.

90,000 PEOPLE PRESENT.

GATE RECEIPTS, 1,600,000 DOLLARS.

(PRESS ASSOCIATION FOREIGN SPECIAL.)

AT THE EDGE OF THE RING, NEW JERSEY,
July 2.

Carpentier strove hard and gamely to dethrone the "Monarch of Fistiania," but he proved unequal to the task. Under the cruel, cumulative effect of body blows the pride of France, after thirteen minutes sixteen seconds, sank helplessly to the canvas, grovelling piteously on the resin, fully conscious, and striving vainly to arise, beaten, but not disgraced.

Ninety thousand people witnessed the referee counting the fatal "ten," and then a mighty roar of cheering swept the vast arena, which redoubled in volume when Dempsey chivalrously lifted his fallen foe and carried him to his corner.

FIRST ROUND.

In the first round, after Carpentier had opened with a left lead, there was some in-fighting, in which Dempsey pounded Carpentier's body severely, forcing him to the ropes. In spite of this, however, many good judges were of the opinion that it was Carpentier's round.

SECOND ROUND.

The second round saw Carpentier retreating before his heavier opponent, but the Frenchman then stopped suddenly and landed his right to the jaw. In this round the challenger came near to winning the Championship, as he rained both rights and lefts to the head, and had Dempsey momentarily reeling. The American, however, succeeded in landing on Carpentier's face, cutting the eye badly, and just before the gong he made two terrific swings, both of which missed. The second round was decidedly Carpentier's.

THIRD ROUND.

In the third Dempsey, with his beetle head and brown furrowed face, had determination written all over him. He had evidently suffered sufficient stings from the Frenchman, and made up his mind to end the fray. Slowly the champion forced Carpentier round the ring, and three times led heavily to the head, but Carpentier cleverly ducked. Then the challenger saw an opening, and drove his right to the jaw. Hard in-fighting followed; it was a vicious mixup, with both men landing heavily, but it could plainly be seen that Dempsey's blows had greater force behind them. The Frenchman never gave way an inch, however, and fought the champion toe to toe. So ardent were the men that they did not hear the bell, and Dempsey landed three hard uppercuts before the referee tore the men apart. Carpentier seemed tired as he went to his corner, but Dempsey, unperturbed, continued to scowl as his seconds attended to him.

FOURTH ROUND AND LAST.

When the bell rang for the fourth round Dempsey started quickly, still playing on the body, Georges countering naw and then with lefts and rights and uppercuts. Suddenly Dempsey's right flashed out and landed heavily on the neck behind the jaw, whilst his left found the stomach.

THE KNOCK-OUT.

Carpentier lurched heavily and fell forward. He remained on all fours seemingly in dire distress, and listened to the referee counting. At nine he rose, and Dempsey, whose face had been completely devoid of expression, and who had been leaning on the ropes, darted forward. Disdaining the Frenchman's blows, the champion drove his right with all his might to the heart. It was a fearful blow, and Carpentier went down with a crash. He did not, however, lose consciousness. He instantly tried to rise, and, clawing at the canvas, got almost to his knees, his legs working spasmodically. His eyes were wide open, and he gasped for air. He gazed appealingly towards Descamps, who, wild-eyed, stood at the corner watching the referee counting his boy out. At the count of eight Carpentier made a superhuman effort to rise, but without avail, and he fell forward on his face a beaten man.

THE SCENE AT THE CLOSE.

Compared with the scene at the opening of the fight, the situation was one of bitter tragedy. Carpentier was confidence personified as he entered the ring. Descamps appeared equally happy and confident, his face beaming as he flitted here and there, whilst Georges stood in his corner waving his hand to the cheering crowd. He took the offensive immediately the fight started, and his snappy work with both hands made Dempsey seem slow by comparison. A right which nearly sent Carpentier through the ropes was Dempsey's best blow. In the second round Dempsey, finding that his rights were not reaching their mark owing to the Frenchman's clever head-bobbing, started body work and uppercutting, one of the later blows opening the Frenchman's left eye.

It was the body punishment, however, which finally wore Carpentier down to the condition which made it easy for Dempsey to land the right to the jaw for the coup de grâce. It was, in fact, Dempsey's big right, and the tremendous strength behind it, which during the second and third rounds had been ripping and tearing into the Frenchman's body while Carpentier was battering the champion's face with lefts and rights, which won the battle. Despite Carpentier's gameness, it was evident after his grueling punishment in the third round that the Frenchman must soon succumb if he insisted on trying to land a decisive right and left to the head. It is true that Dempsey did not like the Frenchman's blows, some of which shook him to the heels, but he was almost always able to drive home telling blows to the body when the Frenchman landed. At in-fighting Carpentier was clearly outclassed.

Dr. Connolly, who examined Carpentier after the fight, said that the Frenchman had broken his right thumb in two places and sprained his wrist. Dempsey left the ring without a mark.

PATROL FIRED AT.

EXCITING PURSUIT IN DUBLIN.

YOUNG WOMAN WOUNDED.

On Saturday morning Ella Clancy (16), of 11 Lower Grangegorman, off North King street, Dublin, received a bullet wound in the chest during the firing of some shots as a military patrol was pursuing a civilian who refused to stop when called upon to halt.

The girl was cleaning a front window, and, hearing a shot, and seeing soldiers running up the street, ran to the door to enter the house, when she was wounded. She was afterwards treated in Richmond Hospital, but was not detained. It appears that a military foot patrol operating in North King street called on a young man at the corner of George's lane to halt. The man, instead of obeying, ran, and was fired at. It is said that the young man fired at the military before running away. The locality was afterwards searched, but no arrests are reported.

OFFICIAL ACCOUNT.

The following statement was issued by Military General Headquarters:—

At 9.30 a.m. on the 2nd July a military patrol in North King street, Dublin, was fired on by two men at the corner of George's lane. The patrol pursued the men along Grangegorman, and fired four shots at them. One of them was seen to be wounded, but the civilians escaped.

During the firing, a girl received a slight wound in the chest. There were no military casualties.

SEARCHES AND ARRESTS IN DUBLIN.

The boarding-house of Mrs. Heenan, 2 Phibsborough avenue, North Circular road, was visited on Saturday morning by military, who carried out a search, and arrested Denis Simpson and Peter Moloney, who lodged there.

Auxiliary police searched the premises of Patrick White, furniture dealer, Swift's row, on Saturday evening. Nothing was removed, and no arrests were made.

Five men were taken into custody by military foot patrols near Rutland square on Saturday.

RAILWAY LINE CUT.

RATHDRUM-DUBLIN TRAIN DELAYED.

The Dublin-Rathdrum train was delayed on its return journey to Dublin last night, and its passengers were much perturbed by their late arrival home. The train should have reached Dublin at 9 p.m., but did not steam in, it is stated, till much after 11 o'clock.

The train was obliged to remain at Newcastle Station for an hour and a half because the railroad on the Dublin side of that station had been torn up during the evening, and time was required to put it in order.

When the train had resumed its journey from Newcastle the railway authorities in the coast townships were apprised of the fact, and they made the police aware of the predicament of passengers under the Curfew restrictions. In this way the late travellers were able to proceed homewards without interference.

A POSTMAN ROBBED.

On Friday afternoon an armed man "held up" a postman at the corner of Grangegorman and North Circular road, Dublin, and took from him about five hundred letters.

MILITARY MULE SHOT.

At eleven o'clock on Saturday a military motor car drawn by two mules was fired at on the Swords-Dublin road, about half a mile south of Swords. One of the mules was badly wounded. The drivers were uninjured.

THE LATE CAPTAIN JONATHAN MORGAN.

On the night of Tuesday, 21st June, there passed away, in his 90th year, a well-known and striking personality—Captain Jonathan Morgan, seventh son of Mr. Edward Morgan, of Bridestown House, Rathcormac, Co. Cork. Captain Morgan had fought in the Crimea, where he was mentioned in despatches; in the Indian Mutiny, and afterwards in the New Zealand War. He also went to the Fiji Islands, and assisted King Thackumbo, the then reigning monarch, to resist a filibustering expedition, composed of wild spirits of many nationalities, that tried to take possession of those islands. Captain Morgan had a very adventurous life. He was one of the best amateur boxers of his time, and was a man of exceptional strength. He loved adventure and change, and, like many other men who had lived abroad, he returned to his native country, where he passed the remainder of his days among the scenes of his childhood. Warm-hearted and generous, and possessed of a cheerful and lovable disposition, he was loved and respected by everyone. With him passes a strong link with the past generation.

ITALIAN CABINET CRISIS.

PARTY DIFFICULTIES.

A Rome telegram, dated Friday, says:—At an interview granted to Signor Bonomi yesterday, the King commissioned him to form a Cabinet. Signor Bonomi asked to be able to postpone his reply until he had consulted various politicians.

Signor Bonomi first consulted Signor Giolitti, who promised him his whole-hearted support, and next had consultations with the Presidents of the Chamber and Senate.

The newspapers state that Signor Bonomi has had a long interview with the Abbate Sturzo, Secretary of the Popular Party, who set forth the views of his party on the nature of the agreement to be arrived at for the settlement of the crisis on the basis of the party's participation. The newspapers add that complete agreement has apparently been reached between the Minister of the Treasury and the Catholic leader. While it is generally admitted in political circles that Signor Bonomi will encounter many difficulties, still, the opinion among the bulk of Parliamentarians and the Press would seem to be that he will eventually succeed in his mission.

Some coment was aroused by the appearance on Friday evening of an article in the organ of the Popular Party of a nature scarcely favourable to Signor Bonomi, but it is stated that the article by no means reflects the views of the actual party managers, which is favourable to Signor Bonomi. The organ of the Nationalists is also frankly against Signor Bonomi, as they apprehend that his Premiership would involve the formation of a Cabinet with a Democratic Reformist tendency.

The Tribuna says that Signor Bonomi has told some journalists that he is confident of succeeding and forming a Cabinet with a good chance of existence.

The Giornale d'Italia says that Signor Bonomi, while enjoying the support of the Left, is also making it his endeavour to establish working agreements with the Popular Party and with the Right.

The general anticipation of the Press is that Signor Bonomi will offer the portfolio of Foreign Affairs to Signor de Nava, President of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Chamber. The Epoca says that Signor Bonomi is assured of the support of the Democratic, Liberal, and Social Bloc, with the Socialist Reformists, making a total of 168 deputies, to whom the 106 Populars must be added. The Epoca adds that Signor Bonomi can also count on the goodwill of the Socialists.

WHISKEY SUPPLIES IN FRANCE.

Under the law of December 22nd, 1916, brandies, spirits, and liqueurs of foreign origin were debarred from being imported into France. Experience has shown that this restriction, although justified during the war, is now hampering the French hotel industry. The Government has accordingly sanctioned a decree making certain exceptions to this law, and tourists will once more be able to obtain whiskey in France.

10TH ROYAL INNISKILLING FUSILIERS.

COLOURS PRESENTED TO DERRY CATHEDRAL.

The colours of the 10th Battalion Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers (the Derrys), Ulster Division, were presented to the Dean and Chapter of Derry Cathedral on Friday for safe custody. Before the service several hundred men belonging to the battalion paraded on the barrack square, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel F. S. N. Macrory, D.S.O., who commanded the battalion in France, and Lieutenant-Colonel R. S. Knox, D.S.O., who was for a time second in command, and afterwards commanded the 2nd Battalion Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers. The officers and men of the battalion were provided with seats in the nave and the side aisles, the public being admitted by ticket to the remainder of the church, which was crowded. Those present included Mrs. Chichester, M.P., C.B.E.; Sir Robert Anderson, M.P., D.L.; Mr. John Monk, M.P.; Judge Osborne (the Recorder), Mr. T. F. Cooke, H.M.L. for the city.

The Dean then placed the colours on the Communion Table, and the Bishop of Derry and Raphoe (the Right Rev. Dr. Peacocke) dedicated them. The special preacher was Captain the Rev. J. G. Paton, C.F., M.C., M.A., B.D., pastor, Belmont Presbyterian Church, Belfast, the first Presbyterian clergyman to preach in Derry Cathedral since the siege. He delivered an appropriate sermon. Afterwards the choir sang the "Te Deum," and an impressive and historic ceremony concluded with the singing of the National Anthem and the pronouncing of the Blessing by the bishop.

THE CANADIANS AT VIMY.

BATTLEFIELD MEMORIAL.

Reuter's Correspondent in Arras telegraphed yesterday:—Mr. Meighen, Prime Minister of Canada, accompanied by Sir George Perley and Major-General Sir Fabian Ware, representing the Imperial War Graves Commission, to-day visited the battlefields in the neighbourhood of Vimy, and unveiled a war cross in the Thelus Cemetery, where the great majority of the graves are those of Canadians. The ceremony was most impressive in its simplicity. All the Mayors of the local communes and many school children were present. Among those who attended were the Prefect of the Department, General Huguenot, Commanding the Military District; the Bishop of Arras, and Colonel Dick-Cunyngham, Commanding the British Troops in France. Mrs. Meighen and several Canadian ladies whose sons lie buried in the neighbourhood were also present. The ceremony closed appropriately on the notes of the "Last Post," sounded by a British bugler far away in the still desolated fields.

Mr. Meighen delivered an address, of which he immediately afterwards read a translation in French. He said:—The great war is past—the war that closed, we hope for ever, the long ghastly story of the arbitrament of men's differences by force. The last clash of earth's millions is over. Now there can be heard only sporadic conflicts, the moan of prostrate nations, the cries of the bereaved and the desolate, the strugglings of the exhausted peoples to rise, and stand, and move onward. We live among the ruins and echoes of Armageddon: its shadow is receding slowly backwards into history. At this time the proper occupation of the living is first to honour our heroic dead; next to repair the havoc that surrounds us, and, lastly, to learn aright, and apply with courage, the lessons of the war.

A LINK WITH FRANCE.

Here, in the heart of Europe, we meet to unveil a memorial to our country's dead. In earth, which has resounded to the drums and the tramplings of many contests, they rest in the quiet of God's Acre. At death they sheathed in their hearts the sword of devotion, and now, from oft-stricken fields, they hold aloft its cross of sacrifice, mutely beckoning those who would share their immortality. No words can add to their fame, nor, so long as gratitude holds place in men's hearts, can our forgetfulness be suffered to detract from their renown. Just as the war dwarfed by its magnitude all the contests of the past, so the wonder of human resources and the splendour of human heroism reached a zenith never witnessed before. Ours we thought prosaic days when the great causes of earlier times had lost their inspiration, leaving for attainment those things which demanded only the petty, passing inconveniences of the hour, and yet nobility of manhood had but to hear again the summons of duty and honour to make the response which shook the world. Danger to the treasury of common things—for common things are, when challenged, most sacred of all—danger to the treasury of common things ever stirred our fathers to action, and it has not lost its appeal to their sons.

France lives, and France is free, and Canada is better because she did something worth while to help to free France. In many hundreds of plots throughout these hills and valleys, all the way from Flanders to Picardy, lie 50,000 of our dead. Their resting places have been dedicated to their memory for ever by the kindly, grateful heart of France, and will be tended and cared for by us in the measure of the love we bear them. Around and over all are being planted the maples of Canada in the thought that her sons will rest the better under the trees which they knew so well in life. Across the leagues of the Atlantic the heart-strings of our Canadian nation will reach through all time to these graves in France. Their name liveth for ever more.

At the close of Mr. Meighen's speech an eloquent and moving tribute was paid by the Prefect to the part played by the Canadians and the British troops in freeing this district.

HEAVY RAINS IN AUSTRALIA.

Reuter's Correspondent in Sydney telegraphed on Saturday:—An Antarctic cyclone, travelling at the rate of 70 miles an hour, swept the city early this morning, causing extensive damage. Floods are reported in North-West New South Wales, and railway traffic has been interrupted.

The Brisbane Correspondent says:—There has been a severe storm in the Darling Downs district, and heavy floods are expected.

UNEMPLOYMENT AND EXCHANGE

A Copenhagen telegram, dated Saturday, says:—The members of the International Labour Office arrived here yesterday evening in response to the invitation of the Danish Government. In an interview, Mr. Albert Thomas, referring to unemployment, said that there was hardly any unemployment in countries whose rate of exchange was low. In Germany, for instance, there had been practically no unemployment for the last five or six months, and he thought that there was now an improvement in this respect in all countries, even in Great Britain, in spite of recent strikes. He added that the British Government had requested the office to examine the methods used in the various countries concerning a reduction of wages, in order to see whether any of the same could be made use of in Great Britain. The office had begun this examination.

On leaving the ring, Mr. Eugene Corri, the well-known London boxing referee, declared that the arena was the greatest spectacle he had ever witnessed.

HOW CARPENTIER'S WIFE RECEIVED THE NEWS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

PARIS, SATURDAY.

The busiest house in Paris this evening was undoubtedly that in the Rue de Magellan, where Mme. Carpentier resides. Throughout the evening there was a continual procession of visitors, whilst the telephone in the hall was constantly ringing. At 8.40 a rumour reached the house that Carpentier had been beaten. Madame became anxious, and turning to the group of journalists in the hall said—"You know nothing, gentlemen." "No, madame, not yet," said one of them, "but they tell me that Georges has been beaten." An Englishman who entered at this moment confessed that he had a telegram in his pocket. Madame Carpentier hastily took it, but on seeing that it was in English asked one of the journalists to translate it. He did so, and the defeat of the French champion was confirmed. Whilst some of the ladies present wept, Madame Carpentier, without shedding a tear and without showing the slightest sign of emotion, said—"I do not understand. Georges might have been beaten in the first round, but in the fourth! I am very unhappy, but it is not a case for national mourning. I cannot explain how Georges could have been beaten in the fourth round; he who had never been knocked out. Ah! if he had won!" She then left the room, saying as she went out, "Well, it is a brutal business."

DISAPPOINTMENT IN THE FRENCH CAPITAL.

Enormous crowds gathered on the boulevards on Saturday evening to await the result of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight, which became known at 8.33. A few minutes afterwards the siren sent of the pre-ararnged signal. The crowds listened anxiously for the fourth hoot, which was to announce the victory of the French champion, and heard with disappointment, surprise, and consternation the burst of the three maroons announcing Dempsey's win. The news spread rapidly through Paris, and aeroplanes carried it farther afield by dropping sheets of paper.

Frenchmen are greatly disappointed, for in spite of the difference (16lbs.) in the weights of the boxers, in spite of the fact that Carpentier had to leave his country and live abroad for a time, his countrymen had confidence in him.

Shortly before noon yesterday Madame Carpentier received the following telegram from her husband:—"I am perfectly well; have no fear." This telegram may have been sent in view of the wild rumour which was current here in the morning that Carpentier was dead, and of which Carpentier may possibly have heard.

"THE PUNCH WON."

AMERICAN PRESS COMMENT.

Reuter's New York Correspondent, telegraphing on Sunday, says—While Dempsey's victory was not unexpected, the newspapers pay a great tribute to Carpentier's courage and fighting ability. "The expected happened," says the New York Herald in an editorial article, adding—"Carpentier had the crowd; Dempsey the punch. The punch won. It is the history of the world."

The New York Times describes Carpentier "as gallant a fellow as ever drew on a glove." It says that he was unable to protect his torso, and therein lay the cause of his downfall. The paper adds that Dempsey will be hailed as a super-man, but the vanquished one proved himself every inch a man, too.

Sporting writers at the ringside generally agree with the comment of James J. Corbett, the former champion of the world, that "a good big man defeated a good little man."

Although, as already reported, Carpentier sprained his right wrist and broke his right thumb in a terrific smash at Dempsey's head in the second round, he does not attribute his defeat to this cause, acknowledging that he was beaten by a better man. Dempsey emerged unscathed, and describes Carpentier as "a game little fellow."

The promoter, Mr. Rickard, indicates that he may arrange a match between Dempsey and Jess Willard on Labour Day.

NEWSPAPER AND CINEMA ENTERPRISE.

Sporting "extras" of newspapers appeared in the streets within five minutes of the end of the bout, and one hour after Carpentier was counted out plates and films depicting the scene were placed on board the liners Zeeland and Caronia, outward bound, delivery being made in seaplanes, which alighted on the water near the liners, and transferred the pictures to small boats, which conveyed them to the steamers, on which they will be developed and printed during the voyage across the Atlantic.

KILLED BY A TRAMCAR.

CHILD'S DEATH IN DUBLIN.

Two tram accidents, one with a fatal result, occurred in Dublin last night.

At a quarter-past nine a child, of a year and a half, Francis Mulhall, of 7 Cornmarket, was playing in the street near its home when a tramcar approached. Mrs. Mulhall saw the child's danger, and rushed to avert it. She reached the tram-line just as the car was almost on the child. She made an heroic attempt to save the boy, and the driver applied the brakes to his car. However, the child was run over and killed, and the mother was injured about the head and hands in the attempted rescue. Both were removed to the Adelaide Hospital.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT.

At 9 o'clock a young women, Miss Julia Walsh (19), of 66 Queen street, was struck in Westmoreland street by a tramcar, and one of her hands was badly hurt. She was treated at Jervis street Hospital, and allowed to go home later.

MR. DE VALERA AND THE UNITED STATES.

Mr. de Valera, on behalf of Dail Eireann, has issued the following proclamation:—

"On Monday, July 4th, the flag of the Republic of the United States will receive official honour throughout Ireland in appreciation of the sympathy and aid given to our people by their friends in the United States, and as the recognised symbol throughout the world of the principle for which we are fighting—namely, that 'Governments . . . derive their just powers from the consent of the governed.'"

UPPER SILESIA.

RESTORATION OF ORDER.

A Berlin telegram, dated Friday, states:—According to a message from Oppeln, the Inter-Allied Commission has issued a proclamation to the population to the effect that, as from the evening of the 5th inst., and after the complete withdrawal and disabandonment of the Polish insurgents and German defence troops, the administration of Upper Silesia will again be completely in the hands of the Inter-Allied Commission. With a wish to alleviate the existing regulations, the Commission grants an amnesty to all those who committed illegal acts during the period of insurrection. Exceptions are made in the case of acts committed from motives of gain or for personal revenge. Neither will amnesty be extended to persons found possessing firearms or explosives without authority after a certain date.

"WET" GERMANY.

A Berlin telegram, dated Saturday, says:—Reference was made before the Statistical Committee of the Reichstag to the excessive consumption of alcoholic liquors in Germany. For instance, the consumption of champagne has risen from six to ten million bottles a year. The Committee unanimously adopted a resolution in favour of municipal control of drinking places, and also against the excessive display of advertisements of drink on the Imperial State Railways.

MEXICAN OIL TAXES.

Reuter's Correspondent, in a telegram from New York, says:—Mr. Tague, President of the Standard Oil Company, New Jersey, confirms the report that his company will discontinue the shipment of oil from Mexico and withdraw its vessels from the Mexican service as a result of the imposition of the new Mexican oil export tax, which came into effect on Friday. He says that the new taxes are confiscatory and prohibitive, the cumulative effect practically amounting to a hundred er cent. of the value. There are indications that other companies may adopt a similar policy.

AMERICAN CREDITS.

A Washington telegram, dated Friday, states:—President Harding, before his departure from the capital on holidays, conferred to-day with Mr. Melton, the Secretary of the Treasury, regarding the bill which is being considered by the Finance Committee of the Senate authorising, among other things, the Treasury to accept the bonds of any foreign country in lieu of those of debtor nations. It is understood that the Senate leaders have informed President Harding that opposition has developed to the present form of the measure and that changes will probably be necessary. The provision authorising the Secretary of the Treasury to accept the bonds of other than debtor nations is particularly objected to.

"TRIED AND EXECUTED."

FATE OF A KIDNAPPED CONSTABLE.

A Dublin Castle report yesterday stated:—The father of Constable G. H. S. Duckham, who was kidnapped in Macroom, County Cork, on the 22nd ultimo, on his return from wedding leave in England, has received from Macroom a number of documents which were in his son's possession, with a letter stating that the constable was tried and executed on the day that he was kidnapped.

POLICE BARRACKS ATTACKED.

According to an official report issued by Dublin Castle yesterday, at 11.30 p.m. on Saturday, Rathmore Royal Irish Constabulary Barrack, Co. Kerry, was attacked by a number of armed men. The police engaged the attackers, who withdrew after a quarter of an hour. There were no casualties to the police.

At a quarter past two o'clock on Saturday morning Ferns (Co. Wexford) Police Barrack was attacked by a number of men armed with rifles. The police returned the fire, and the attackers withdrew. There were no police casualties.

THE BURNING OF COUNTY WICKLOW BARRACKS.

COMPENSATION AWARD REDUCED.

On Saturday Lord Justice O'Connor, at Wicklow Assizes, reduced on appeal the decree for £3,000 to £680 in respect of the burning of the R.I.C. Barrack at Stratford-on-Slaney, the property of Mr. W. G. Burton. His lordship allowed £30 costs to Mr. J. H. M'Carroll, solicitor, for the Wicklow Farmers' Union.

RECENT OUTRAGES ON THE TYNE.

THREE PRISONERS SENT TO PENAL SERVITUDE.

At Newcastle Assizes on Saturday, Owen Salmon, 25, a labourer, and Anthony Dunlavey, 33, miner, were charged with having on the night of March 5th attempted to break into a bonded warehouse in Newcastle with intent to cause an explosion, with having been in possession of explosives, and having conspired with others to cause an explosion. Three men were found by the police outside the warehouse, a padlock on the door having been cut away. Salmon was caught, and in his possession were found explosives and a fuse. The other two men got away, and Dunlavey was arrested later.

Dunlavey, in the witness box, denied having any connection with the affair. He admitted that he was a member of the Gaelic League and the Irish Self-Determination League, both constitutional bodies, but said that he had no sympathy with violent methods. He denied knowledge of Sinn Fein objects.

Salmon did not go into the witness-box. Dunlavey was acquitted. Salmon was found guilty and sentenced to seven years' penal servitude.

James Conroy, 25, school teacher, and John McAlinden, 19, brassworker, convicted on Thursday of having on May 21st, at Wallsend, set fire to a timber shed, and of having been in possession of revolvers and cartridges, with intent to endanger life, were sentenced, Conroy to seven years and McAlinden to five years' penal servitude.

BROMLEY SHOOTING AFFAIR.

Four men—William Affection, Jeremiah Minahane, William Robinson, and Dennis Tangley—alleged to be concerned in the shooting affair at Bromley, Kent, in the early morning of June 17th, were charged at Kent Assizes, Maidstone, on Saturday, with intent to murder Constables Lewis and Hall, and with being in possession of firearms and ammunition. They all pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Hohler, prosecuting, said that it was a very serious affair. The jury would see that it was part of the Sinn Fein campaign which these wild Irishmen were endeavouring to carry on in England. It was a clear attempt at murder, but luckily neither constable was hurt. Incriminating documents were found at the house where Minahane and Robinson were arrested.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty against all the prisoners of shooting with intent to do grievous bodily harm and of being in illegal possession of firearms. They returned a verdict of not guilty upon the charge of shooting with intent to murder.

Robinson was sentenced to 12 years' penal servitude, and each of the other prisoners to 10 years' penal servitude.

As the prisoners went below, they shouted—"God Save Ireland."

AUSTRALIAN TREASURY RETURNS.

ENCOURAGING FIGURES.

A Sydney telegram, dated Friday, says:—The net revenue for the past twelve months was £34,081,000, as compared with £28,619,000 for the corresponding period a year ago. The principal increases for this period were:—Stamps, £115,000; income tax, £2,088,000; racecourse admission tax, £113,000; land revenue, £211,000; pilotage and harbour dues, £103,000; railways, £1,555,000; tramways, £600,000; Sydney Harbour Trust, £138,000; Metropolitan water sewerage rates, £287,000. The principal decrease for the past twelve months was in unclassified receipts—viz., £9,000.

The Melbourne Correspondent telegraphed on Saturday:—With the balance from last year, the Federal financial year closed with a surplus of £6,000,000. The estimated revenue was exceeded by £1,750,000; while the expenditure of the year was £4,000,000 below the estimate. The Federal Government will shortly introduce a bill to extend preferential tariff to the Dominions providing a satisfactory measure of reciprocity is offered in return.

A Brisbane telegram says:—The Queensland Treasury returns for the month of June show that the revenue amounted to £1,812,000, as compared with £1,881,000 in the corresponding period of last year, while expenditure was £1,880,000, as against £1,950,000. There has been an excess of revenue over expenditure during the past twelve months of £9,000, compared with £26,000 in the corresponding period a year ago.

In a message from Hobart, Tasmania, the Correspondent says:—The revenue continues highly satisfactory. The total for the financial year ended yesterday was £2,105,448, being an increase of £290,417 over the previous year, and also £98,590 more than the Treasury estimate. The increases apply to nearly every source of revenue, the largest amount being from the railways, viz., £87,320.

RAIDS FOR ARMS IN GERMANY.

A Berlin telegram, dated Saturday, says—The Vorwaerts quotes the official journal of the railway authorities as stating that on the night of the 7th June 18 guns destined for destruction were stolen from the parade ground at Kuestrin. The Vorwaerts also says that on the night of the 30th June a party of thirty persons carried off four guns from the cemetery at Liegnitz.

SUFFERINGS IN ISMIDT.

ALLEGED GREEK ATROCITIES.

Reuter's Paris Correspondent says—The Temps on Saturday night published additional details of the position at Ismidt before the evacuation of the town by the Greek troops. The pillaging of the Mussulman quarter of the town, the newspaper says, "lasted from June 24th to June 27th." It was carried on, not only by Asiatic Auxiliaries enlisted by the Greek authorities, but also by Greek sailors under the leadership of petty officers. Trustworthy witnesses saw a hundred houses set on fire and counted more than sixty dead bodies, most of which had their hands tied behind their backs and bore marks of great cruelty. The Greek Command and Greek officers refused to intervene.

Captain Delor, a French officer, with two orderlies and an interpreter, courageously did their best to save the Mussulmans. They succeeded in getting about 4,000 persons together in the French school and in the building of the Assumptionist Fathers. The Greeks set fire to Turkish houses near-by, but, fortunately, the fire did not spread to the buildings in which were the refugees. French sailors tried to put out the fire, but Greek troops fired on them in the hope of preventing them. The determined attitude of the French finally made the Greeks desist. The Mussulman population of the district has decided to send an expression of gratitude to General Pelle, the French High Commissioner of Constantinople.

GREEK "DUMP" DESTROYED.

A Smyrna telegram, dated Friday, states:—The Greek benzine and ammunition stores outside the town was blown up this afternoon, with the result that several military and civilians were killed, and many others were wounded. It is stated that the grass caught fire and the flames reached the benzine. Some houses were destroyed, and many were damaged.

A Lahore telegram says that Sirdar Sardul Singh, Secretary of the Sikh League, has been sentenced to five years' transportation, on a charge of writing seditious articles.

COURT AND PERSONAL.

BUCKINGHAM PALACE, SATURDAY.

Lieutenant-General Sir Alfred Codrington had the honour of being received by the King this morning, when His Majesty invested him with the insignia of a Knight Commander of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath (Military Division).

The King presented colours to the Grenadier Guards, the Coldstream Guards, and the Scots Guards on the Horse Guards Parade.

His Majesty was accompanied by Colonel the Prince of Wales (Colonel Welsh Guards), Group Captain the Duke of York (Royal Air Force), and Field-Marshal the Duke of Connaught (Colonel, Grenadier Guards) (Personal Aide-de-Camp to the King).

His Majesty was attended by Field-Marshal Lord Methuen (Colonel, Scots Guards), Lieutenant-General Sir Alfred Codrington (Colonel, Coldstream Guards), and Lieutenant-Colonel Arthur Erskine, and Captain the Hon. Alexander Hardinge (Equerries-in-Waiting).

The troops on parade, under command of Major-General George Jeffreys, Commanding the London Division District, received the King with a Royal salute.

His Majesty inspected the troops, after which the old Colours were trooped along the front of the line, and placed in the rear of their respective battalions, the bands playing "Auld Lang Syne." The drums having been piled, the Colours were placed upon them, and the Consecration Service was performed by the Right Rev. Bishop Taylor Smith (Chaplain-General to the Forces).

After the consecration the senior Major of each battalion handed the King's colour to His Majesty the King, returning it to the senior Lieutenant, who received it from His Majesty on bended knee. The regimental colour was handed to the King by the next senior officer of each battalion, His Majesty returning it to the second senior Lieutenant, who received it from the King on bended knee. The colours were then moved to their place in the line, the troops giving a general salute, and the bands playing the National Anthem.

The troops on parade marched past His Majesty, and re-formed in the original formation, and gave a Royal salute.

On the conclusion of the ceremony His Majesty rode back to Buckingham Palace.

The Queen, Queen Alexandra, and the members of the Royal Family drove to the Horse Guards and witnessed the presentation of the colours.

The King and Queen, accompanied by the Duke of York, and attended by the Ladies and Gentlemen-in-Waiting visited the Royal Air Force Aerial Pageant at the London Aerodrome, Hendon, this afternoon.

Sir Edward Wallington (Groom-in-Waiting to the King, and Treasurer to the Queen) represented Their Majesties at the Memorial Service for the Lady Randolph Spencer Churchill, which was held at St. Margaret's Church, Westminster to-day.

SOCIAL JOTTINGS AT PHŒNIX PARK RACES.

(FROM OUR LADY CORRESPONDENT.)

There is nothing like a cheery race meeting for dissipating gloom and enlivening the social atmosphere, and thus it was not surprising to find a large gathering on the Phœnix Park Club course on Saturday, despite the fact that the annual exodus to the seaside and the country had begun the previous day. The weather was delightful from the spectators' point of view, but a trifle warm for those participating in the sport. The paddock, with its picturesque rock garden and groups of brilliant-hued flowers, was an unfailing object of admiration.

The scene in the members' enclosure was very gay, though, perhaps, less brilliant and varied in colour than noticed at some of the earlier summer meetings. The vogue for black and white prevailed in the costumes of many of the ladies present. Very smart hats and parasols of many colours were much in evidence, and a couple of beautiful lace cloaks attracted attention.

Amongst those present were:—Frances Machioness Conyngham, the Earl of Enniskillen, Lord HolmPatrick, Hon. Sybil Hamilton, Hon. Mrs. Barry, Hon. Mrs. Dewhurst, Sir Timothy and Lady O'Brien, the Misses O'Brien and party; Sir Walter and Lady Nugent, General and Mrs. Smith-Bingham, Sir William and Lady Goulding, Captain Goulding, Captain and Mrs. Wyndham Quin, Colonel Edgeworth Johnstone, Captain L. Arnott, Captain and Mrs. Shirley, Lady and Miss Lumsden, Mr. and Mrs. Fottrell, Colonel and Mrs. Clarke, Colonel and Mrs. Bent, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford-Lloyd, Miss Newton, Mr. Maxwell Arnott, Captain Boyd-Rochfort, V.C.; Dr. and Mrs. Peacock, Mr. J. J. Maher, Mr. O'Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Barker, Mr. and Mrs. King French, Miss French, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Peard, Mrs. Hume, the Misses Hume, Mr. MacDermott, Miss Hughes, Miss Woods, Miss Cummins, Mrs. and Miss O'Hara Mease, Mrs. and Miss Niven, Mr. E. Bellaney, Miss Bellaney, the Misses Synnott, Major and Mrs. Henry, Mr. H. Peard, Miss Prior, Mrs. and Miss McGrath, Mr. Blake, Mr. and Miss Cusack, Mr. W. C. Carr, Mr. H. M. Hartigan, Mr. J. T. Rogers, Mr. D. W. Barnett, Captain F. Bald, Mr. J. J. Parkinson, Mr. C. T. Wallis, Mr. D. J. Cogan, Mr. A. Lowry, Mr. and Mrs. A. McCann, Mr. J. Daly, Mr. T. G. Fletcher.

MISHAP TO AEROPLANE NEAR MULLINGAR.

On Friday morning an aeroplane travelling from England to Galway met with an accident at Cooksborough, about four miles from Mullingar. It appears that the aviators, owing to a fog, had only a vague idea of their whereabouts, and in descending to ascertain if they were near the railway line the aeroplane struck a treetop and fell. The aeroplane was damaged, the engine being embedded in the ground. One of the occupants was injured about the face. He was brought to Mullingar Hospital. It is understood that his injuries are not of a serious nature.

CUNARD COMPANY'S ANNIVERSARY.

An anniversary of great interest to the shipping world takes place to-day. Eighty-one years ago (July 4th, 1840) the Cunard Company, with a fleet of four ships, totalling 4,600 tons, established the first regular ocean steam communication between England and America. To-day the Cunard Company with its associated lines, controls an immense fleet of 109 vessels, built or building, totalling over 1,000,000 tons, and serving the chief ports of the world. It possesses the largest ship commission in the world, the Berengaria, of 52,000 tons; the ship that holds all Atlantic speed records, the Mauretania, of 31,000 tons; and the ship, which since her conversion to oil burning, has carried a greater number of passengers than any other ship, the Aquitania, of 46,000 tons. These three magnificent vessels are engaged in the Cunard Express Channel Service between Southampton, Cherbourg, and New York.

A Rome telegram says:—Count de Salis, British Minister to the Vatican, who has been seriously ill with peritonitis, is much better.

DUBLIN DRAPERY TRADE DISPUTE.

AGREEMENT REACHED.

RESUMPTION OF WORK TO-DAY.

The staff of Messrs. Switzer and Co., Ltd., met in the Mansion House, Dublin, on Saturday morning under the presidency of Mr. Daly, of that firm, to consider the memorandum of agreement which had been drafted at a conference between representatives of the Merchant Drapers' Association and of the Irish Drapers' Assistants' Association in the same building on Friday evening. They approved it. The result of this action is that the staffs of the twenty-four houses affected will resume work to-day, and all the establishments will be open.

The terms of the agreement provided that certain employés of Messrs. Switzer and Co., Ltd., shall forthwith join the Irish Drapers' Assistants' Association, and resume work with the members who came out on strike.

A conference will be held during the week, when it is hoped that the question of trade union labour will be satisfactorily settled.

The Lord Mayor was largely responsible for the quick settlement of the dispute.

The Merchant Drapers' Association issued the following statement on Saturday:—

"As the result of a conference held on Friday at the Mansion House the recommendations of the Lord Mayor were accepted by the Merchant Drapers' Association and the Irish Drapers' Assistants' Association, and agreed to by Messrs. Switzer and Co.'s staff, and work will be resumed in all the drapery houses on Monday."

NEW ISSUE.

THE NORTH METROPOLITAN ELECTRIC POWER SUPPLY COMPANY.

This company announces in another column an issue of £228,460 7½ p.c. Debenture Stock at the price of 95 p.c. Ranking ahead of this stock there is only £234,800 5 p.c. mortgages. The Debenture Stock will be secured by a trust deed to be entered into between the company and the Union Commercial Investment Company, as trustees, conferring a floating charge on the whole undertaking and property of the company, both present and future, including uncalled capital, subject to a floating charge in favour of the holders of the £234,800 5 p.c. Mortgages and to a specific mortgage of the Willesden power station, upon which the sum of £23,570 is now secured. The stock will be redeemed by means of an annual cumulative sinking fund, accruing from 1st July, 1921, and applied annually in the purchase of Debenture Stock. The company was incorporated to erect electrical generating stations and provide a supply of electrical energy in an area of about 326 square miles, situate in the Counties of Middlesex, Hertfordshire, and Essex. The company's powers under their Acts of Parliament are held in perpetuity, not being subject to purchase by the local authorities at any time. The company are supplying electricity for power purposes to manufacturers throughout the greater part of their area of supply. The toal number of consumers supplied either directly or indirectly by the company exceeds 23,000, and the number of units sold has increased from 1,858,553 in 1904 to 62,773,070 in 1920. The company's gross revenue from the sale of electrical energy, etc., has increased from £10,687 in 1904 to £438,070 in 1920. After allowing for the £234,800 5 per cent. Mortgages and the mortgage of £23,570 in favour of the Willesden Council, the issue is covered five times by the assets alone. The amount receivable by the company in respect of this issue will be applied to the discharge of outstanding loans from the company's bankers and the general development of the company's business. The total profit in 1920 was £103,395, showing a surplus of £66,687 for meeting debenture and loan interest. The debentures are well secured, and pay an attractive rate of interest. Applications may be made on the form given in our columns to the London County and Westminster Bank and branches up to Friday next, when the list will close. (Prospectus, Page 7.)

The Temps says that it learns that so far no notification has yet reached the French Government to the effect that President Harding had decided to withdraw the American troops on the Rhine.

Secretary and Offices—Evelyn Boys, Electric Railway House, Broadway, Westminster, S.W.1.

ABRIDGED PROSPECTUS.

By the North Metropolitan Electric Power Supply Acts the Company were incorporated and authorised to erect electrical generating stations and provide a supply of electrical energy in an area of about 326 square miles, situate in the Administrative Counties of Middlesex, Hertfordshire, and Essex.

The Company's powers under their Acts of Parliament are held in perpetuity, not being subject to purchase by the Local Authorities at any time.

The Company are supplying the whole of the electrical energy required by:—

(a) The Metropolitan Electric Tramways, Limited, for the working of the Tramways and Light Railways operated by that Company.
(b) The Willesden Urban District Council for distribution in Willesden.
(c) The Hendon Electric Supply Company, Limited, for distribution in Golders Green and the urban district of Hendon.
(d) The Metropolitan Borough of Stoke Newington for distribution in that Borough.
(e) The Harrow Electric Light and Power Company, Limited, for distribution in Harrow and a portion of Wealdstone.
(f) The Colne Valley Electric Supply Company, Limited, for distribution in Pinner.

The Company are supplying electricity for power purposes to manufacturers throughout the greater part of their area of supply.

Under the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1919, Electric Lighting Orders for Edmonton, Tottenham, Kingsbury and Southgate have been acquired from the respective Local Authorities. A supply of energy was commenced under the Edmonton Order on 1st July, 1907; under the Tottenham Order on 1st December, 1907; under the Kingsbury Order on 17th October, 1910; and under the Southgate Order on 24th April, 1911.

The Company also supply electricity for power and lighting purposes in Wembley, Wealdstone, Edgware and East Barnet Valley.

All the electrical energy required by the North Metropolitan Electrical Power Distribution Company, Limited, for distribution by that Company in Barnet, Enfield, Hertford and St Albans, is supplied in bulk by the Company.

The total number of consumers supplied either directly or indirectly by the Company exceeds 24,800 and the number of units sold has increased from 1,858,553 in 1904 to 62,773,070 in 1920.

The Company's Gross Revenue from the sale of electrical energy, etc., has increased from £10,687 in 1904 to £438,070 in 1920.

On 31st December, 1920.

The Capital Expenditure stood in the books of the Company at ...	£1,227,983
Uncalled Capital amounted to ...	50,000
Investments at cost ...	130,921
Making a total of ...	£1,408,904

After allowing for the £234,800 5 per cent. Mortgages and the mortgage of £23,570 in favour of the Willesden Council, the issue is covered five times by these assets alone.

The Company have completed negotiations for a revision of the rates of supply to the Metropolitan Electric Tramways, Limited. The revised rates came into operation as from 1st July, 1920. Without allowing for any expansion of business during the present year, the additional revenue to be derived from the supply to the Tramways and Light Railways is expected to increase the amount available for the interest and sinking fund charges upon the present issue from £66,683 to £90,000.

This is over four and half times the amount required for Interest and Sinking Fund upon the present issue.

The amount receivable by the Company in respect of this issue will be applied to the discharge of outstanding loans from the Company's Bankers and the general development of the Company's business.

The subscription of the present issue of 7½ per cent. Debenture Stock has been guaranteed by the International Financial Society, Limited, for a commission of 4 per cent. on the nominal amount thereof.

Applications can be made in multiples of £5 on the form accompanying this abridged Prospectus and forwarded to the Bankers of the Company with the full amount of the deposit.

The permission of the Committee of the London Stock Exchange to deal in the 7½ per cent. Debenture Stock, and a quotation upon the London Stock Exchange will be applied for in due course.

Prospectuses and Forms of Application can be obtained from the Bankers, the Brokers and at the Offices of the Company.

This Form may be used and sent to THE LONDON COUNTY WESTMINSTER AND PARR'S BANK, LIMITED, 52 Threadneedle street, E.C., Head Office, 41 Lothbury, E.C., and Branches, with a cheque payable to Bearer for the amount of the Deposit. Cheques must be crossed, and any alteration from "Order" to "Bearer" must be initialled by the Drawer.

DIVIDENDS AND REPORTS.

ALEX. FINDLATER AND CO.—Dividend of 5 per cent. for year on Ord. Shares.

BANCO DE CHILE.—Dividend at the rate of 16 per cent. per annum will probably be declared.

TRINIDAD CENTRAL OILFIELDS.—Dividend of 10 per cent., less tax, for year.

FORSTER'S GLASS.—Further dividend at rate of 10 per cent. per annum on Ord. for half-year.

NEW EGYPTIAN CO.—Dividend of 20 per cent., free of tax, for year.

LEYLAND MOTORS.—It is proposed to defer payment of the July dividends on the 6 per cent. and 7 per cent. Preference Shares.

CARDIFF PURE ICE AND COLD STORAGE.—Interim dividend of 3 per cent. on Ord. for year, less tax.

MORGAN'S BREWERY.—Interim dividend at rate of 5 per cent. per annum, less tax, on Ord. for half-year.

QUAKER OATS.—Dividend of 1½ per cent., less tax, on Pref. Stock for quarter. No dividend on Common Stock.

STROUD BREWERY.—Interim dividend at rate of 10 per cent. per annum, less tax, on Ord. for half-year.

ANGLO-AMERICAN TELEGRAPH.—Interim dividend on Ord. Stock of 15/- per cent. for the quarter.

JOHN HOWELL AND CO.—The directors state that owing to the unprecedented fall in values, and to the stagnation in trade, they regret that they cannot see their way to declare an interim dividend.

DE BRUYN, LTD.—Owing to unprecedented trading conditions of the last year, the directors are unable to recommend the payment of the dividend upon the 6 per cent. Cum. Pref. Shares for half-year to June 30.

ROYAL DUTCH PETROLEUM.—Messrs. N. M. Rothschild and Sons announce that the final dividend for the year 1920 has been declared at 25 per cent. (namely, fls.250 per share of fls.1,000 and fls.25 per sub-share of fls.100), payable on the 6th instant against the deposit of Coupon No. 49.

BOVRIL, LTD.—The directors have allotted 100,000 6 per cent. Preference and 60,000 7½ per cent. Ordinary Shares. Consequent upon this new issue, the 500,000 5½ per cent. Preference Shares and the 750,000 7 per cent. Ordinary Shares in Bovril, Ltd., will in future rank for dividend at the rates of 6 per cent. and 7½ per cent. respectively.

SHEFFIELD DISTRICT RAILWAY.—The directors have declared the following interim dividends:—On the Preference Shares, £2 10/- per cent. (at rate of £5 per cent. per annum); on the Ordinary Shares, £1 10/- per cent. (at rate of £3 per cent. per annum). These interim dividends are the same as paid last year.

CALCUTTA TRAMWAYS.—Revenue for 1920 amounted to £222,120. Directors have placed £40,000 to reserve for depreciation, £30,000 to taxation reserve, and £2,402 to staff provident fund, and recommend final dividend of 3/6 per share, making 7 per cent. for the year, free of tax, carrying forward £42,591, subject to Indian super-tax.

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

The withdrawal of one-year Treasury bills has given rise to the suggestion that we may have another reduction in the Bank rate before long (says the Sunday Times). As it is, the 6 per cent. official minimum has drawn fresh attention to the merits of the Gilt-edged market, and a pronounced improvement is seen already. We may expect a further appreciation, because the yields offered are likely to prove attractive now the banks' deposit rate is only 4 per cent. Short-dated securities stand to benefit particularly. Even Consols have shot up during the week, and may make yet further headway. Insurance shares, more or less neglected lately, are now on the up-grade. While current yields may not be high, many of the companies have done well. The conservative policy of not a few of the offices will bear fruit in time, and is likely to commend itself to investors who do not mind facing the fact that Insurance shares are often but partly paid. For the moment Bank shares suffer from neglect. However, forthcoming dividend results are expected to be up to last year's levels, and before long a better demand may spring up for that class of investment. Among Industrials Textiles are expected to continue their improvement. Although the trade has yet to absorb big stocks, the outlook for the autumn is distinctly promising. Cotton goods are needed the world over, and with more settled conditions in labour circles there will be a renewed demand for all manufactures of a textile character.

With regard to the statement which has recently appeared in the Press that Lever Brothers are about to make a fresh public issue of Debenture Stock, we are informed that the matter is not at present under consideration by the company.

It was announced last December by the India Rubber, Gutta Percha, and Telegraph Works Company that payment must be deferred of a further dividend, beyond 2½ per cent. interim, for the year ended September, 1920. Shareholders are now told that it is impossible to recommend any final distribution on the Ordinary Shares. Conditions have not improved, as was hoped, trade generally, and the tyre industry particularly, having been extremely bad.

So Mexico's promise to resume interest payments on July 1st on the foreign debt has proved to be of the pie-crust order. No official or semi-official explanation is put forward for this piece of forgetfulness, and, perhaps, none is needed, for, after all, did the City really take the promise seriously?

In the speculative markets Oil Shares have remained on a tolerably steady keel, without, however, attracting noticeable attention from buyer or seller alike, so far as the public are concerned. The professionals have been busy, and bear-purchasing has, doubtless, assisted the modest improvement which occurred in the leading shares. But in the Oil market, as in other parts of the House, the volume of business has been little benefited by the settlement of industrial difficulties, and it may well be wondered whether Stock Exchange men as a whole look forward to any real resumption of activity in the markets until the holiday season is over.

The Liverpool Bank clearings for the first half of this year show a decline of nearly 50 per cent., the figures being £234,746,479, against £443,384,517. The decline has been continuous month by month as well as comparative, June being the worst month, with 31 millions against sixty-six and a-half millions in June last year.

A Rome telegram, dated Friday, states:—The Giornale d'Italia learns that the Fascisti and Socialist leaders are negotiating to effect a reconciliation between their respective parties.

LOAN CONDITIONS COMFORTABLE.

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

Apart from the completing of the forward transactions in discounts, there was not much activity in Lombard street. Conditions as regards loanable credit were more comfortable, with borrowers able to secure day to day money at 4½ to 4 per cent., fixtures being renewed at 4½ per cent. Discounts were still on a more settled basis, ordinary fine three months' bills being quoted 5¾ per cent. The new Treasuries were 5¼ to 5⅛ per cent., with not many buyers about, while the second-hand six months' Treasuries were nominally 5¼ to 5⅛ per cent. One or two of the joint stock banks were still taking end September bills from the market at 4¾ per cent. in fair quantities.

A sharp recovery in Polish marks enlivened the market in Foreign exchanges, the quotation finishing 7,000 marks buyers, in comparison with 8,000 marks on Friday. Transactions were small. Sterling was steady on New York at 3.73 to 3.73⅛ dols., and French francs were slightly better. German marks remained about 270 to 280 for the £. Rupees cheapened.

Bar silver was unchanged at 35½d. for spot and forward, with business small.

THE NEW PARIS LOAN.

(FROM A PARIS CORRESPONDENT.)

The following particulars are now made public concerning the Paris Municipal Issue, the third in the last five years.

The issue consists of 3,600,000 bonds of 500 francs each, representing a nominal capital issue of 1,600,000,000 francs, not all of which are immediately issued. The bonds are redeemable over a long period of years by periodical drawings, at each of which a number of the bonds will be redeemed at par and a few at the usual premiums. The premiums in connection with this issue amount to 5,625,000 francs per annum, including two premiums of one million francs each and six of 150,000 francs each.

The yield varies from 6¾ per cent. to 6 per cent. according to the price of subscription paid by the three different categories of subscribers, and is exempt by authority of Parliament from all income and other taxes, present and future, levied on the yield of bonds in France, the Paris Municipality undertaking to pay these taxes to the French Government. Holders of the 1917 five-year Municipal bond issue are entitled, if they so desire, to exchange their holdings—bond for bond—for bonds in the new issue. Those holders who exercise this option will receive 15 francs per bond, representing the difference in the amount of the coupon, etc. The yield in this case will work out at 6⅛ per cent.

Holders of bonds in the 1919 Municipal issue are entitled to a preferential right of subscription to the bonds of the new issue. For every bond they hold in that issue they may subscribe for two in the present issue at 480 francs per 500 franc bond, and the actual outlay, after allowing for deduction of the amount of the interim coupon, will be 466 francs 41 centimes per 500 francs nominal. These terms cause the net annual yield to work out at 6⅛ per cent.

Finally, there is the new subscriber, viz., those who hold neither the 1917 nor the 1919 bonds, and are therefore not entitled to preferential treatment. To these the bonds are offered at par, viz., 500 francs, less the pro rata of the coupon running from the date at which the new bonds begin to bear interest, which brings down the actual cost of subscription to 487 francs 70, payable 50 francs on application and the balance on allotment, unless the subscriber wishes to pay the balance by instalments spread over two years, which he is entitled to do. The annual net interest being 28 francs 75 centimes, free of taxation, the yield of these bonds to the (French) man-in-the-street is 6 per cent., plus the premium possibilities.

The money is to be used for the erection of numerous large model dwellings, as well as for the continuation of the great streets improvement scheme, the carrying out of which has been interrupted since the outbreak of the European war in 1914. An extension of the city drainage and sewers system is also to be carried out. Additional hospitals and other institutions for the use of the afflicted have been absolutely necessary, and are to be built out of the proceeds of the loan.

LIVERPOOL MEAT IMPORTS.

Six steamers landed cattle, sheep, sheep and lamb carcases, pork, and fresh beef at Liverpool during the past week from the various North and South American, Canadian, and Australian ports. The following is a list of the vessels with their freights:—The Carmania, from New York, with 1,050 carcases of pork; the Cotati, from South America, with 9,160 sheep carcases and 36,122 quarters of beef; the Stanmore, from Baltimore, with 647 cattle; the Metagama, from Montreal, with 1,720 carcases of lamb; the Manchester Division, from Montreal, with 300 cattle and 209 sheep, and the Persic, from Australia, with 26,627 sheep and lamb carcases and 11,184 quarters of beef, making a total of 947 cattle, 209 sheep, 37,407 sheep and lamb carcases, 1,050 carcases of pork, and 47,306 quarters of beef. Compared with the arrivals of the preceding week, these figures show an increase of 1,050 carcases of pork and 34,519 quarters of beef, and a decrease of 542 cattle, 390 sheep, 165,427 sheep and lamb carcases, and 231 quarters of veal.

WORLD'S FIRST POULTRY CONGRESS.

The world's first Poultry Congress, convened by the International Association of Poultry Instructors and Investigators, will be held at The Hague, Holland, on September 6-13 this year. Delegates from the majority of Governments, from the principal teaching and experimental institutions dealing with this subject, and from all the large poultry societies, will meet together in conference and exchange views and experiences in all the more important aspects of poultry keeping. Private individuals who are keenly interested are also to be made welcome, and are to be given freedom of taking part in the debates.

In addition, the Netherlands Government is co-operating in every possible way with the promoters of the Congress, which is itself under the patronage of the Queen and Queen Mother of Holland. Prince Henry of the Netherlands is president of the honorary committee, on which are several Ministers of the Netherlands Government. The Executive Committee, which has been appointed by the Netherlands Minister of Agriculture, Commerce, and Industry, has as its first President Dr. H. J. Lovink, of The Hague, and as its second President Mr. Ed. Brown, F.L.S., now President of the British National Poultry Parliament.

The Congress will be divided into four sections, each of which will have its own bureau to regulate its work. It is expected that it will be possible to appoint sectional chairmen who are good linguists as well as eminent poultry experts, and it is intended that all reports and other publications issued will be printed in at least three languages. A wide range of papers written by leading authorities in the poultry world will be read at the Congress, including one by the official representative of the Ministry of Agriculture on "Poultry Education in England and Wales."

Membership of the Congress is open upon payment of a fee of £1, and all who are interested in the development of the poultry industry are cordially invited to attend. Arrangements have been made for the accommodation of visitors at fixed and reasonable rates. The programme includes excursions to neighbouring places of interest.

Reuter's Brussels Correspondent telegraphed yesterday:—As the party of British journalists at present visiting Belgium were proceeding from Spa by motor car to visit the grottoes at Han, one of the cars overturned while taking a sharp turning, and the five occupants, among them being Sir Henry Brittain, were slightly injured. They were all taken back to Spa, but their condition gives rise to no anxiety.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

THE DOLLAR STILL ALMIGHTY.

By far the most important factor just now is the constant appreciation in American dollars to the detriment of sterling. Apparently the demand for dollars is still principally associated with the financing of wheat and coal and the shipments of other commodities. It is hazardous to speculate (says the Evening Standard) on the extent of this downward movement in the value of sterling. Now that the Labour position here is more settled sterling may before long assert itself, especially so as this particular trouble contributed, sentimentally and otherwise, to the fall. Incidentally, the rate on New York determines to a large extent the price of exportable gold, which is of direct interest to the South African mining industry. The following are the monthly average prices of gold during the half-year, and it will be seen that that of June was the highest since January:—

January	109s.	11.7619d.
February	105s.	11.7500d.
March	105s.	2.7613d.
April	104s.	8.6190d.
May	103s.	7.4762d.
June	108s.	10.1818d.

TRADE IN THE NEAR EAST.

A cable received by the London office of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York from its Constantinople office reports that important Turkish import houses have arranged to cancel orders placed last year in Manchester for this year's delivery, paying the penalty provided by the contracts. The cable reads as follows:—"Imports into Constantinople for May exceeded £T6,800,000, exports exceeded £T1,100,000; the former figure shows a decrease of £T1,200,000 and the latter an increase of £T140,000 over April. It is believed that the exports include a number of unsold British consignments. Despite the absence of important commodity arrivals, there is a strong demand for sterling. During the fortnight the lowest quotation was 5.12; the rate is now 5.36. There is some offering here of dollar futures, covering sales of tobacco from Smyrna. The offerings were absorbed readily by the market and by the speculative elements. There is no business in drachmas, and the market is nominal. Important commercial houses here have arranged for the cancellation of 1920 Manchester orders for 1921 delivery against penalties. Petroleum importers who were previously interested in the Batoum market are now purchasing in Rumania, which is sending substantial consignments here."

ECHO OF AN OLD SOUTH AFRICAN BOOM.

Among the small-priced South African shares Shebas have revived during the past week, some demand for them having been stimulated by renewed talk of the company having "found the reef again." By this is meant (writes Truth) a fresh run of payable ore. The first Sheba company formed in London was registered in 1887. Late in the 'nineties its million capital was temporarily valued by the market at over two and three-quarter millions. The present company, a second reconstruction, was formed in January last year with a capital of £300,000 in 5s. shares, and the price of these shares, which was down to 9d., has now recovered to 2s. There is a story sometimes told in Stock Exchange circles of the old days when Sheba shares were a very lively speculative counter. A jobber, who was dozing in church one Sunday morning, on hearing the name Sheba mentioned during the Service, is said to have jumped up and exclaimed: "Sheba? Yes; buy a thou. at a half!"

R. AND J. DICK LOSSES.

In October last £250,000 8 per cent. seven-year notes were publicly offered at 97, redeemable at 102. A circular has now been issued stating that in connection with this issue of notes advances were made to the company by their bankers, and the directors undertook, if called upon, to convey, as security to trustees appointed under a trust deed, property at Greenhead and elsewhere. As the company will require to remain indebted to the bank for some time to come (says the Stock Exchange Gazette), the directors have been asked to grant a conveyance, and alterations in the articles of association are necessary to enable the directors to give the mortgages. This position is to some extent explained by the news that the company has suffered serious losses during the last half-year. The result of the visit of one of the directors to Venezuela has been to convince the board that a considerable portion of the money invested in Dickblata, Limited, has been lost through wasteful and extravagant methods pursued in that country. The directors have appointed a new manager there and have terminated the previous arrangements. The company has also been affected by the slump in raw materials, heavy purchases having been made of cotton duck. These purchases prove to be in excess of requirements owing to the collapse of trade, and although certain contracts were cancelled the company was involved in penalties. We are afraid it will take the company some time to recover from the unfortunate losses now recorded.

BANK SHARES AS INVESTMENTS.

In a few days' time the banks will be announcing their dividends for the half-year now almost at an end. There is not likely to be any change in the rates compared with the first half of 1920 (says Truth) but the virtual certainty that it has not been necessary to provide for depreciation of investments, and that probably such necessity will not arise for the rest of the year, owing to the lower Bank rate, and its favourable effect upon security values, may induce some buying of the shares. Present prices of these securities are still comparatively low, as shown by an interesting table in the June number of the Investor's Monthly Manual, a publication the value of which is not generally known. According to this the average price of Consols compared with the year 1909 has fallen 56 per cent., but in the case of English bank shares the fall in the same period has been 71 per cent., in the case of Scottish bank shares 58 per cent., and Irish 57 per cent. At the end of April the average price of English and Scottish bank shares was below that of the worst war year, and as since April there has been little or no recovery, English bank shares can be bought to give yields ranging from about 6¼ per cent. to nearly 7¾ per cent. Another consideration is that the investor can now choose a share upon which there is no liability, such as Barclays "A" £4 fully paid yielding 6⅝ per cent., and Barclays "B" £1 fully paid yielding 6⅛ per cent.; London Joint City and Midland £2½ fully paid, yielding 6⅛ per cent.; London County Westminster and Parr's £1 fully paid, yielding 6⅛ per cent.; and Williams Deacon £1 fully paid, yielding over 6¼ per cent.

MONEY AND COMMODITIES IN THE UNITED STATES.

Cabling on June 24, the New York agent of the Anglo-South American Bank says:—

"In the Stock Markets, tobacco, steel, and oil issues were under pressure during the week, and they close with only small recoveries. Victory and Liberty Bonds are higher. The subscription lists for the 7½ per cent. French Government Loan are still open. As regards commodities, cotton is lower on continued selling for spot, the price in this market being 11 cents per lb., after touching 10.85 cents. Egyptian cotton is in little demand. "Uppers" are quoted at 15-17 cents per lb. Textiles are easier in sympathy, prices being also affected by the light demand. Print cloths, 27 ins., 64 by 60, are quoted at 4¼ cents per yard, 38½ ins., 64 by 60, at 6¼ cents; 39 ins., 68 by 72, at 7½ cents, and 39 ins., 72 by 76, at 8¼ cents. These prices in all cases are lower than a week ago. Wool prices are unchanged. The Government sales at Boston on the 23rd inst. were poorly attended, and bidding lacked interest. Of the 5,000,000 lbs. offered for sale, only 75 per cent. was absorbed by buyers. Buenos Ayres combing wool brought 10-13½ cents per lb., Monte Video 16-18 cents, and Buenos Ayres carding 8-10 cents. Scoured wool lots were in most cases withdrawn. The tendency of rubber is still downward, spot sales having been made at 11½ cents. As regards futures, July-December are quoted at 12½ cents, and October, November, December at 13 cents. Hides are a dull market, and prices generally are unchanged. The wheat market has again been weak in tendency, but, after falling to 1.51½ dollars, the price has recovered to 1.53 dollars per bushel, this quotation comparing with 1.58 dollars last week, and with 1.82 dollars three weeks ago. Export buying is expected. In the metal markets, copper, steel, and iron are steady. Prices of raw sugar have been fairly well maintained on evidence of a slightly better demand for refined, which is now quoted at 5½ cents per lb. Monetary conditions remain easy. The general rate for call money is 5-5½ per cent. and that for time loans 6¼-6½ per cent. nominal. As regards discount, a good demand is reported for all bills. Prime bankers' eligible acceptances are slightly lower, at 5⅞-5½ per cent., and non-eligible are quoted at 6-6½ per cent. upward. The rate for commercial drafts is 7½-8 per cent."

R. AND J. HILL'S SET-BACK.

The general depression in trade has had a serious effect on this company's business; the export trade, which is one of the most profitable departments, having been brought to a standstill by the congestion of foreign markets and adverse exchange rates. The heavy fall in the price of leaf tobacco has been met by writing down the stock to approximately market value, such depreciation being partly covered by the amount previously reserved to meet this contingency. Plant, machinery, and fittings have been written down by £4,547 by transferring that amount from reserve (says the Stock Exchange Gazette). The trading profits of £26,322 for the year to March 31 last is less than one-half of the amount of the preceding year, and it must be noted that this figure is arrived at after crediting allowances in respect of excess profits duty, income tax, and reserve (£15,000) allocated against depreciation in the market value of the tobacco. The dividend on the Ordinary Shares is reduced to 5 per cent., against 10 per cent., but in June last 29,250 Ordinary Shares were issued to the shareholders, and for every three such shares allotted one new Ordinary fully-paid share was given as a bonus. This issue has to be taken into consideration in comparing the dividend with that for the previous year. The directors report that there are signs of some improvement both in the home and export trade, which it is hoped will continue.

DUBLIN COUNTY COUNCIL.

THE INCREASING RATES.

RATEPAYERS' DEPUTATION.

At a meeting of the Dublin County Council, held on Saturday, Mr. H. Friel, chairman, presiding, it was resolved to adopt the recommendation of the Finance Committee that the employés of the Council affected by the increased wage granted by resolution in August last, whereby surface men were given a weekly wage of 58s., be henceforward paid each week the full wage so granted; that each month the accumulated arrears, corresponding to a period of one month, be paid off until all such arrears were extinguished; and further, that as an assistance to this end the payment of all pensions exceeding in any individual case £250 per annum be postponed to the extent of 20 per cent., until the Committee recommended that the financial position admitted of payment in full.

Lady Dockrell dissented.

A deputation attended from the County Dublin Ratepayers' Protection Association.

Mr. Belton, Chairman of the Association, stated that there was a burden thrown on the ratepayers that they could scarcely face, and they were at a loss to know why the rates that had been rapidly increasing for a number of years had been so very much increased this year. From a business point of view the business of the county had seen its best days. This year was much behind last year from a business point of view, and it was unfair that they should be asked to pay nearly as much more in taxes this year as last year.

The Chairman pointed out that the Council had two main sources of revenue—firstly, the rates struck by itself, and secondly the contributions received from the urban districts in respect of services common to the County Council districts and the urban districts. They had to finance Balrothery and Dublin Unions, and portions of Rathdown and Celbridge, and also various activities with regard to the Public Health Act. They had to contribute to the maintenance of Richmond Asylum, and had no control over the expenditure. This year the Asylum asked £51,000, and the County Council had no option but to raise it.

Mr. Belton said that the rates meant an increase in the rate on agricultural land from 9s. 4d. to 17s. 3d. in the £.

The Chairman further stated that the Council had no control over the Dublin Unions, but must raise the money for them. There were increased demands from bodies over which they had no control. The previous Council had to deal with a question of wages of 37s. a week; afterwards it was 40s., and subsequently 58s. There was found to be a large deficit at the end of the year, and a serious increase on the rates became inevitable. But in spite of all the impediments and difficulties the County Council were enabled to do extremely good work. The Richmond Asylum and the Union involved responsibilities, and these the Council fully met. They accomplished what they did by the exercise of economy and by financial adjustment. Grants had been removed, and the Council faced all sorts of difficulties in order to protect the ratepayers. All these risks were taken by the Council, and they must not forget the element of malicious injuries.

Mr. Belton contended that prior to the striking of the rates there was no written authority from Dail Eireann authorising the striking of a flat rate. It was unfair to pay men at the rate of 58s. whilst producers were only paid 43s. He did not wish to appear as being in opposition to the labourer.

The Chairman explained that as to a large proportion of the views urged by the deputation the Council were clearly not to blame, and as to any action the Council had taken in the matter of wages or otherwise they had full and ample authority. The Council expected all ratepayers to pay the rates promptly and fully, and if they ever had any representation to make from time to time the Council would be pleased to listen to them. The Council and other public bodies came into existence at a time when the cost of living was very high, and every public body was faced with a demand for increased wages. No serious effort was made by the late public bodies to meet the situation. He suggested that the members of the deputation should consult and see how they could bring about a condition of things when the Transport Workers' Union would say that 58s. weekly wages were too high.

After some further conversation the deputation withdrew, having expressed thanks for their reception.

The Chairman subsequently mentioned that a letter had been received from the Clerk of the Dublin Union stating that the Guardians, at their annual meeting on 17th June, directed him to convey to the Council the best thanks of the Board for their great kindness in advancing the money, and in every way facilitating the Guardians in carrying out their duties.

WEEKLY TRADE REPORT.

A FAINT REVIVAL.

After a prolonged period of widespread stagnation, anxiety, and incalculable losses in the industrial world reason has achieved its obvious results, and the wheels of production will soon again be in more general motion. The settlement of miners' differences, also engineers, cotton, wool, and other workers' strike and wages questions so far is of great importance and promise. The local building trade, too, has already reflected a stir and benefit to the city, and the end of the drapery lock-out is to be greatly welcomed. In all directions, political and otherwise, there is a sincere desire for peace and revival of prosperity. It is yet premature to endeavour to make a forecast of any real movement in markets. Money had become very tight, and machinery connections, etc., so much out of gear that the revival of confidence and expansion in business will necessarily be slow.

EXPORTS OF PORTER.

Messrs. A. Guinness, Son, and Co's shipments of porter from Dublin, as returned by the Customs daily shipping lists, for the past week, were:—

Butts.	Hhds.	Brls.	Hf. Brls.	Qr. Brls.

SUMMER ASSIZES.

JUDGES' REFERENCES TO DISTURBED CONDITIONS.

JURORS INTIMIDATED.

Wexford Assizes were opened at the Chamber of Commerce, Wexford, on Saturday, Lord Justice O'Connor presiding in the Crown Court and Mr. Justice Ronan in the Civil Court. The building, which had been commandeered for the purpose consequent on the burning of the County Courthouse recently, was guarded during the night, and there was an imposing military display in its precincts when the Court opened. The attendance of Grand jurors and jurors was below the average owing to the obstruction of roads and other causes. Some Grand jurors were "held up" by armed men at Ballymitty, and obliged to return. Trees and telegraph poles were felled on all the roads leading into the town, and deep trenches were dug. There was no railway service from New Ross, the line having been torn up between Macmine and New Ross at Sparrowsland, and a goods train derailed.

JUDGE'S ADDRESS.

Lord Justice O'Connor, addressing the Grand Jury, said—We meet in strange and unaccustomed quarters, but I do not think we can complain very much of the slight inconvenience to which we have been put in these troubled times. For the times are troubled and anxious and distressing, and yet I think there is good ground for hope. I will say no more on that than this—that I humbly conceive it to be a duty on each one of us to pray that the spirit of wisdom may be with those who control our destinies in this fateful hour—(hear, hear)—so that we may see in our time, and now, the end of a long and weary struggle, and the beginning of a golden age of peace and reconciliation in our beloved country.

Continuing, his Lordship said that he did not intend to read for them, as was usual, the report of the County Inspector of Police or to make any remarks on the state of the country. He would merely direct attention to the three bills which had to go before them. There were two of malicious damage, which would present no difficulty. In one of these, if the case presented by the Crown was correct, a man ran amok in the town of Enniscorthy, breaking plate glass windows to the value of about £400, and the other was of a somewhat similar nature, though the damage was less. The most important and difficult case was that in which a man named Dunne was charged with arson.

THE CASES FOR HEARING.

A true bill was returned against Patrick Dunne, Clohedan, Ferns, for arson, but his lordship, having heard the evidence for the prosecution, directed the jury to acquit the prisoner, and he was discharged.

For maliciously breaking six windows at the Hibernian Bank, Enniscorthy, Richard Byrne, ex-soldier, no fixed address, was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment, with hard labour.

James Nolan, no fixed residence, was sentenced to one month's imprisonment for a similar offence.

CLARE ASSIZES.

PUBLIC ATTITUDE TOWARDS CRIME.

Clare Assizes were opened on Saturday at Ennis by the Lord Chief Justice.

Addressing the Grand Jury, his lordship said that there were three bills to be committed to them for investigation. The cases seemed to present no features of difficulty.

When he was there, only four months ago, at the March Assizes, he expressed the firm hope that when he would next come he would be able to congratulate them on an improved state of affairs. He saw that that hope had not been realised. In that four months the state of their country had gone from bad to worse. The number of specially reported cases was three hundred and thirty-three, as against one hundred and eighty for the corresponding period of last year, and they had increased not only in number, but in gravity. In that short period there had been no less than ten cases of murder, four cases of attempted murder, and four cases of wounding. In other cases of endangering life the increase was, unfortunately, in the same, if not in greater, proportion. There had been some eighty-five cases of robbery or attempted assault and robbery, nineteen cases of larceny from the person, thirty-five cases of arson, involving the destruction of valuable buildings, difficult, if not impossible, to replace, and no less than one hundred and forty cases of malicious injury, as against forty-nine at the corresponding period of last year.

No person contemplating the returns but would feel a deep concern for the people. He had dealt with the condition of Clare at two Winter Assizes, and on each occasion he had expressed the hope that the time would come when he would be able to congratulate the people of Clare on an improved state of affairs, and on having a country where life was safe, property secure, and where persons could go about the ordinary affairs of their lives without fear of assassination or the destruction of their homes. He was afraid that he had now almost lost hope that that condition of affairs would arrive.

PUBLIC APATHY.

He felt that there must be some good in the country, and that there were people who would realise that crime never achieved good, that crime always brought its own punishment, and that nothing achieved by crime or through crime was ever worth possessing. It was rather hard to contemplate that men would give themselves up to committing acts as were disclosed in the returns, but they must deal with the world as they found it. Although they were bidden not to despair, unless a change occurred in the country, and in the way that people looked towards crime, it would be almost hopeless to expect either prosperity or any blessing in the future.

Edward Reynolds pleaded guilty to a charge of misappropriating money, the property of the local war pensions committee. He was sentenced to two months' imprisonment in the second division.

CASES AT WICKLOW.

At Wicklow Assizes on Saturday, Lord Justice Ronan allowed out on their own bail Mathew Gorman, Thomas Gorman, Mathew Ellis, and Thomas Wolohan; Thomas Brien and John Duffy, all living at Newtown, were sentenced to a month's imprisonment, with hard labour (Duffy appearing on bail and the others after 11 weeks in custody). The charges against the men were riotous assembly at Newtown and damaging C. B. Haslam's shop. Except Duffy and T. Gorman, the others were ex-soldiers.

Thomas Howard, Hacketstown, was discharged, the Grand Jury having found "no bill" in a charge of housebreaking at Coolkinno.

THE TOWN TENANTS' LEAGUE.

THE EXPIRATION OF THE RENTS ACT.

Mr. William Field (and subsequently Mr. P. J. Carolin) presided at the meeting of the All-Ireland Town Tenants' League, held at the offices, 43 Rutland square, Dublin, on Thursday evening last.

Among the many cases dealt with was one of great importance reported from Capel street, where efforts were being made to dispossess a trader of an establishment in which he conducts a successful business. It was decided to take suitable action for the tenant's protection, and the owner had been written to, with a view of an amicable settlement of the dispute.

The Chairman (Mr. Field) announced that he had received a letter from their General Secretary, Mr. Briscoe, who, through ill-health, was compelled to take a rest from his labours, stating that he felt greatly improved through his sojourn, and hoped to be soon among them again. It was unfortunate that portion of the Rents Act had been allowed to expire. He was afraid that the consequences would be serious unless further organised efforts were made, and he appealed to those who were most likely to be affected—merchants and traders—to awaken to the dangers that were facing them, and to take united action in defending their interests. Public opinion was behind them in the demand for the establishment of a Rent Court to fix fair rents and adjust differences between owner and tenant.

A report was read from Mr. James A. Meagher, LL.B., solicitor, dealing with the cases referred to him, and also with various questions arising regarding the interpretation of certain clauses in the Rents Act, which had been called into question by an extensive house-owner in the city. It was noted with satisfaction that the house-owner's contention was incorrect, and that this would mean a considerable saving to the tenants affected.

IRISH WEATHER CONDITIONS.

RAINFALL IN CASTLE TOWNSHEND, CO. CORK.

Report of Rainfall for June, 1921, at Castle Townshend, Co. Cork:—Total fall for month, .02 ins. Number of "rain days," 1. Greatest fall in 24 hours, .02 ins. on 27th. Total fall for 6 months, 13.57 ins. The fall for month is 3.22 ins. less than for June, 1920, and 2.05 ins. less than the average for the last 7 years. The number of "rain days" is 15 less than for June, 1920 and 10 less than the average. The fall for 6 months is 15.43 ins. less than for the same period in 1920 and 6.9 ins. less than the average for the last 7 years.

Remarks and Observations.—An absolute drought for 27 days and a partial drought for 32. Temperature in the screen—Highest, 76°; lowest, 42°. Lowest temperature on the grass, 35°.

H. CHAVASSE.

Seafield, Castle Townshend, Co. Cork.

TEMPERATURE AND RAINFALL IN CO. DONEGAL.

The rainfall in Dunfanaghy, Co. Donegal, for the three months ending 30th June, 1921, measures 119.8 mm. (4.70 ins.). With one exception, this is the least rainfall for the corresponding quarter in the last 20 years. The exception is the year 1918, when the rainfall was 112.2 mm. (4.40 ins.). The heaviest rainfall for the corresponding quarter in the last 20 years was in 1916, when 321.5 mm. (6.73 ins.) fell.

The highest temperature—viz., 71 F. in the screen—was registered on four days—on the 7th, 16th, 24th, and 25 June. The coldest day was the 15th April, when the maximum temperature was only 41° F. The coldest nights were the 15th and 16th April and 5th May, 31 F. On three days in April, three in May, and ten in June the temperature reached above 60 F. in the shade.

STAMP COLLECTION IN THE DUBLIN MUSEUM.

We understand that the late Mr. William Lane Joynt, who arranged the Leinster Stamp Collection in the Dublin Museum, and who as custodian for so many year spent much of his time in extending and enriching the collection, has bequeathed to the National Museum all the valuable exhibits and specimens which he placed on view during his lifetime. Mr. Joynt, in addition to securing from the British, Colonial, and foreign Governments numerous sets of obsolete and current stamps, contributed from his own collection a very large number of rare and curious specimens, and these will now remain a tribute to the industry and philatelic skill of the enthusiastic honorary custodian, who made the Leinster gift the only up-to-date public collection in the United Kingdom. As an example of the value of additions secured by Mr. Joynt's influence, we may mention that the one small section of surcharged British official stamps of King Edward VII., sent by the present King, would easily fetch in the market a sum of over two thousand pounds. It is to be hoped that the Museum authorities will make arrangements to continue Mr. Joynt's valuable work.

HOWAT

THE BONAPARTES IN AMERICA.

Mr. Charles Bonaparte, who has just died at Baltimore, was an interesting man, both in his own successful career as a Minister of Roosevelt's Administrations and on account of his romantic history. His grandfather Jerome, afterwards King of Westphalia, married Miss Elizabeth Patterson, of Baltimore, a remarkable woman, who probably influenced the sturdy character of her grandson. Jerome deserted her at Napoleon's command, and she was known afterwards as Mrs. Patterson. It was she who described her faithless King Jerome as "the sou who had slipped in by mistake between two Napoleons." She was immensely rich, but very careful in small matters, and when, late in life, she visited Paris she sent her largest hat-box as a present to her grandson. When it was opened it was found to be full of loaf sugar, with a line inside saying that she had collected this from the trays sent up to her with tea and coffee. She left her money to be divided between her two grandsons, of whom Charles was the younger. No one, by the way, seems to have recalled the fact that one member of the Bonaparte family acquired by marriage the name of Moltke. This lady was the niece of the American statesman who has just died, and daughter of Charles Jerome Bonaparte, who took a commission in the French Army, served in the Crimea and Algeria, and retired with the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel after the war of 1870. She married Count von Moltke-Hvitfelt, of the Danish branch of the great German military family. Her stepfather was for 36 years Danish Minister in France, and the Empress Eugenie once visited her at Nyborg. But a Bonaparte who became a Moltke! Truly, there is sometimes a strange irony in the collocation of names.

IRISH WHITE CROSS CONTRIBUTION.

COLLECTION BY NEW YORK SCHOOL CHILDREN.

Mr. James G. Douglas, Hon. Treasurer, Irish White Cross Association, on Saturday received from the American Committee for Relief in Ireland the sum of £15,000, which has been collected by the children of public and parochial schools in the City of New York.

HOUSES BURNED AT NEWBRIDGE.

Two houses were burned at Newbridge on Saturday. Although the water main was quite convenient, the military fire brigade on arrival was unable to connect the hose to the main. It is stated that complaints have been made that, although a fire apparatus was purchased by the Town Commissioners some years since, the apparatus is lying useless.

MARKET REPORTS.

GRAIN.

FLOATING GRAIN CARGOES—BALTIC, Saturday.—WHEAT dull and easier; Governmental quotations reduced 2/6 for Manchurian and 1/- all other descriptions with the exception of Australian; of free cargoes, Baril 62lbs. afloat sellers 76/6, Pacific loading 73/-, August-September 66/-; No. 1 Northern Manitoba July-August 78/-, No. 2 hard winter do. 65/6; parcels of No. 1 Northern Manitoba afloat 84/- sellers, October-November 68/-; No. 2 hard winter July-August 64/6 480lbs. MAIZE quiet for cargoes at previous rates; Plate steamers afloat sellers 43/6 to 44/-, July-August 40/6, Dan-Gal-Fox, afloat 45/-; parcels steady; Plate May-June sellers 38/6, June-July sold 38/- per 480lbs. BARLEY steady, unaltered. OATS quiet; Plate f.a.q. May-June sellers 27/9, June-July 27/3; No. 2 Canadian Western July 32/-, No. 3 do. 30/- per 320lbs.

LIVERPOOL, Saturday.—The Royal Commission have reduced prices of Manitoba wheat, red, hard, and mixed winters, Argentine and Pacific 1/-, and Manchurian 2/6 per qr., but Australian unchanged. C.i.f. parcels of "free" WHEAT inactive, but holders generally ask yesterday's prices. No. 1 Manitoba due next week quoted 84/-, July-Aug. 79/-, No. 2 hard winter July-Aug. 65/-, and Baril afloat 62½lbs. 76/- per qr. Government allocated a small quantity of No. 2 mixed winter ex store at official prices. MAIZE—C.i.f. parcels steady, River Plate June-July realising 38/6 and American mixed (fresh shelled) July 39/- per qr. Wheat on the spot was quietly steady, Australian ex quay being sold at 17/1½ per cental. Maize—Spot parcels remained quietly steady, without alteration in values. FLOUR moved but moderately at late rates for local milled, which is to be reduced 1/- per 280lbs. on Monday. Stocks of wheat held by the Liverpool branch of the Royal Commission on July 1 at Liverpool were 210,179, and Manchester 23,830 qrs. Graded red wheat futures were not traded in, but with disappointing cables from Chicago, closed nominally ½d. per cental lower. Closing values—July 9/6¼, Sept. 8/6¼ per cental. Yellow River Plate maize options ruled quiet throughout, but with Chicago dearer, ½d. advance on last night was established. Sales—Five loads at 8/6½ for Sept. delivery, and this price final value, with July quoted 9/6¼ per cental. Imports of grain (cwts.):—To-day—Wheat, 11,500. This week—Wheat, 228,203; flour, 12,689; maize, 27,406. This year—Wheat, 5,917,739; flour, 803,216; maize, 2,131,464; peas, 100,712; beans, 116,031. Last year—Wheat, 10,880,538; flour, 497,477; maize, 2,249,607; peas, 110,709; beans, 164,124.

NEWCASTLE, Saturday.—English wheat, 82/-; foreign, 80/- to 82/9; maize, 48/-; Scotch oats, 41/- to 45/6; foreign oats, 33/- to 36/- per quarter; flour, 70/- (1/- reduction), and grinding barley, 40/-.

CATTLE.

DONCASTER, Saturday.—Owing to the continued drought and fall in prices trade in store cattle was practically nil, and the few milch beasts offered were £5 to £10 cheaper. A few crossbred sheep were from 75/- to 80/- each. Fair show of pigs; moderate inquiry; suckers, 20/- to 35/-; strong stores, £5 to £7 each.

NORWICH, Saturday.—Smaller supply of fat cattle, consisting chiefly of box-fed animals. Trade was again very slow, but prices for the best quality beasts increased about 6d. per stone of 14lbs., secondary sorts remaining unchanged. The supply of fat sheep was more than equal to the demand, heavyweights making 1/4 and lightweights 1/6 per lb. Small supply of fat lambs and quality not good, making 1/6 per lb. Fat pigs in moderate supply, realising 17/- to 18/- per 14lb. stone. Store cattle were not in sufficient demand to justify quotations. Very small supply of store sheep, which sold slowly at low prices. Store pigs were in smaller supply, and met an easier trade.

PROVISIONS.

LIVERPOOL, Saturday.—There is little new feature in the situation for American BACON here, which continues steady in all departments, while a fair inquiry is again experienced for bellies and Cumberlands, supply of which is in small compass, and Wiltshires meet rather more inquiry at the recent advance; but long clears and backs remain quietly steady. Canadian Wiltshires again meet a fair demand, and, with scarcity of other high class meats, prices continue to tend in an upward direction. Irish very scarce, and prices are hardening, being now quoted 187/- to 200/- per cwt. ex factory. Danish firm, with Swedish and Dutch dearer, and a good demand generally experienced. HAMS are again in small compass, with a good demand, and the recent advance is fully maintained for both long and short cut. Shoulders scarce and firm, especially picnics, which are eagerly inquired for. LARD on the spot is quiet, and the recent advance in value not fully supported, especially on American refined. CHEESE firm and fairly active, with 105/- to 108/- per cwt. asked for, both white and Canadian coloured. BUTTER remains firm, and a fair business reported in Danish, but others generally quiet. EGGS steady, without material change in value. Imports of Provisions:—To-day—Bacon, 1,140; hams, 749; lard, 435; pork, 243; cheese, 10. This week—Bacon, 9,425; hams, 2,373; lard, 21,378; pork, 461; cheese, 24,881; beef, 190; butter 425. This year—Bacon, 213,535; hams, 32,992; lard, 534,080; pork, 6,482; cheese, 178,097; beef, 2,168; butter, 200,674. Last year—Bacon, 148,295; hams, 1,816; lard, 304,389; pork, 3,072; cheese, 225,284; beef, 3,269; butter, 273,256. Current quotations:—Bacon, 112lbs.—Irish (ex factory), nominal; Danish, 192/- to 196/-; Swedish, 183/- to 188/-; Dutch, 182/- to 186/-; Canadian Wiltshire, 50/75lb. average, 160/- to 168/-; American Wiltshire, 45/55lb. average, 110/- to 118/-; do. 55/70lbs. average, 110/- to 118/-; long clears, 28/35lb. average, 115/- to 125/-; short clear backs, 12/20lbs. average, 108/- to 117/-; clear bellies, 14/18lb. average, 112/- to 117/-; Cumberlands, 22/26lb. average, 120/- to 125/-; long cut hams, 12/16lb. average, 170/- to 173/-; American cut hams, 12/16lbs. 170/- to 175/-; extra skinned hams, 14/16lb. average, nominal; square shoulders, 12/16lb. average, 114/- to 118/-; New York shoulders, 11/14lb. average, nominal; picnic shoulders, 5/8lb. average, nominal.
